Students Find Time to Shine

The 1985-86 school year was a Time To Shine for CHS students. Their achievements ranged from athletic to academic, from musical to dramatic, from easy to difficult. Panola Countians, along with other enthusiastic Texans, celebrated the 150th birthday of the Lone Star State with glowing reenactments and staged accounts of past glories and accomplishments by bigger-than-life heros. Students watched as world leaders shone while unprecedented talks were highlighted in the evening news coverages as President Ronald Reagan and Russian leader Gorbachev met in Geneva, Switzerland to discuss relations between the power nations. Halley's comet returned to brighten the universe in 1986 after a 76-year absence. The tranquility of space was shattered by the explosion of the space shuttle Challenger, in which seven people lost their lives. Throughout the successes and even the misfortunes of the 1985-86 school year, it was a time to shine at CHS, in the world, and over the universe.

We're the Best-Alvarez Hill, Michael Pipkin, Craig Richter, Fredrick Lynch, Jeff Brooks, Kirk Edge, Bart Blair, and Kyle Cassity illustrate their enthusiasm for the freshman class.

Unbearable-Niki Kozlowski demonstrates the Bulldog choke hold on a Gladewater Bear (Julie Escoe) during a pep rally.

Hot Stuff-Angie Skelton concentrates on finishing her routine without any blemishes.

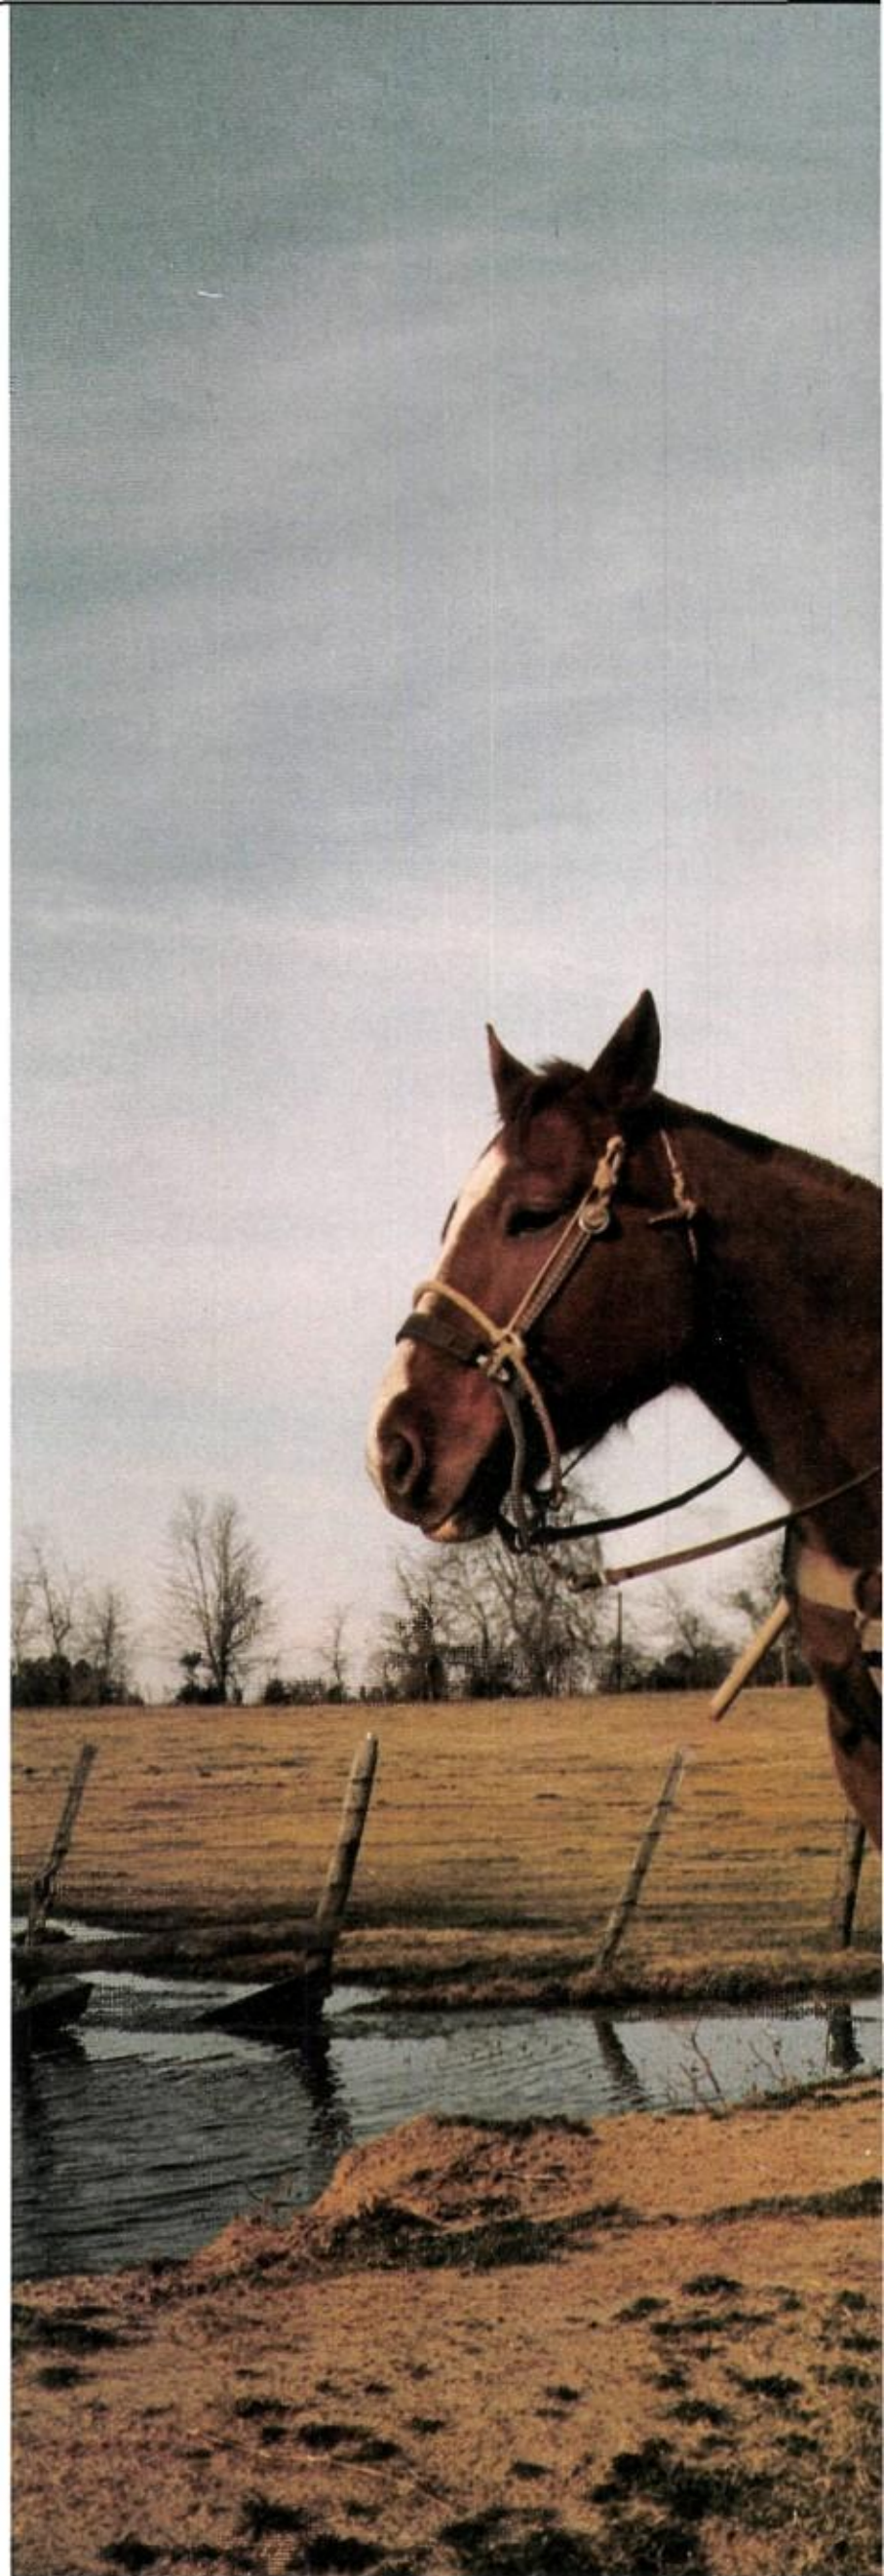

Rambunctious-Jack Parker, decked out in his camouflage, works hard to make sure the bonfire is ready to burn.

Scream for Joy-Keela Smith, Sonya Whitaker, Erin Townsend, Cammy Phillips, Angie Williams, Kerry Wilson, Chris Weems, and Rhonda Beck relax from the tortures of everyday homework.

Bell Ringers-Anticipating the next Bulldog score, Amnesha Shabo, Michelle Sneed, Debbie Kasper, and Wendy Warf are ready to ring the victory bell after the next touchdown.

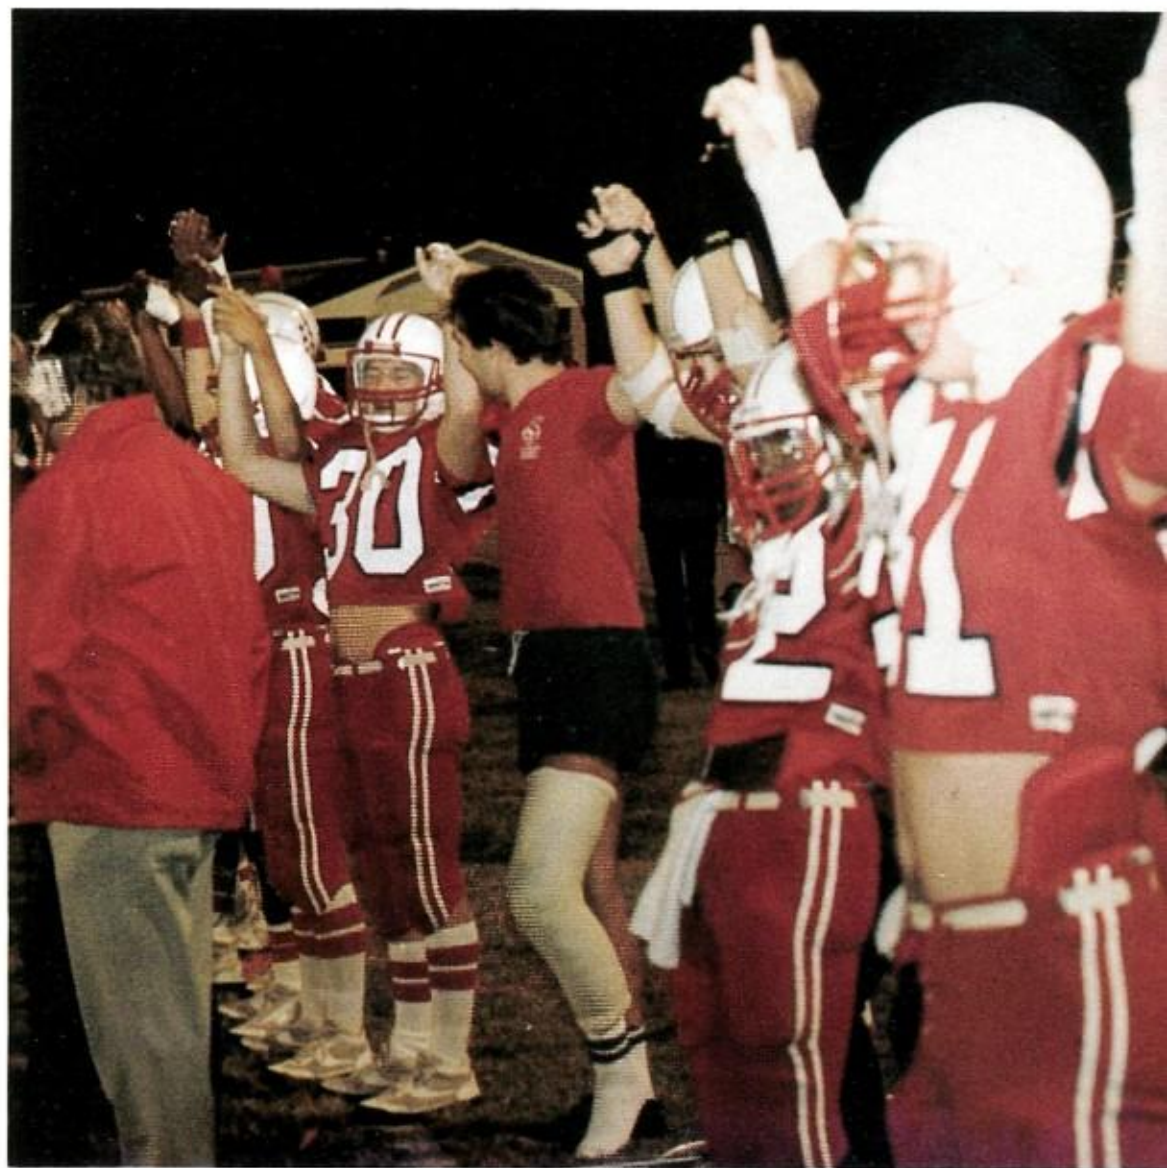

You Pass, You Play

Students really shone throughout the school year in both sports and academics. Athletes really had to hit the books because of the no pass, no play ruling by the state legislature. The rule had little effect on the success of the Bulldogs. They succeeded in capturing championships and trophies in most sporting events.

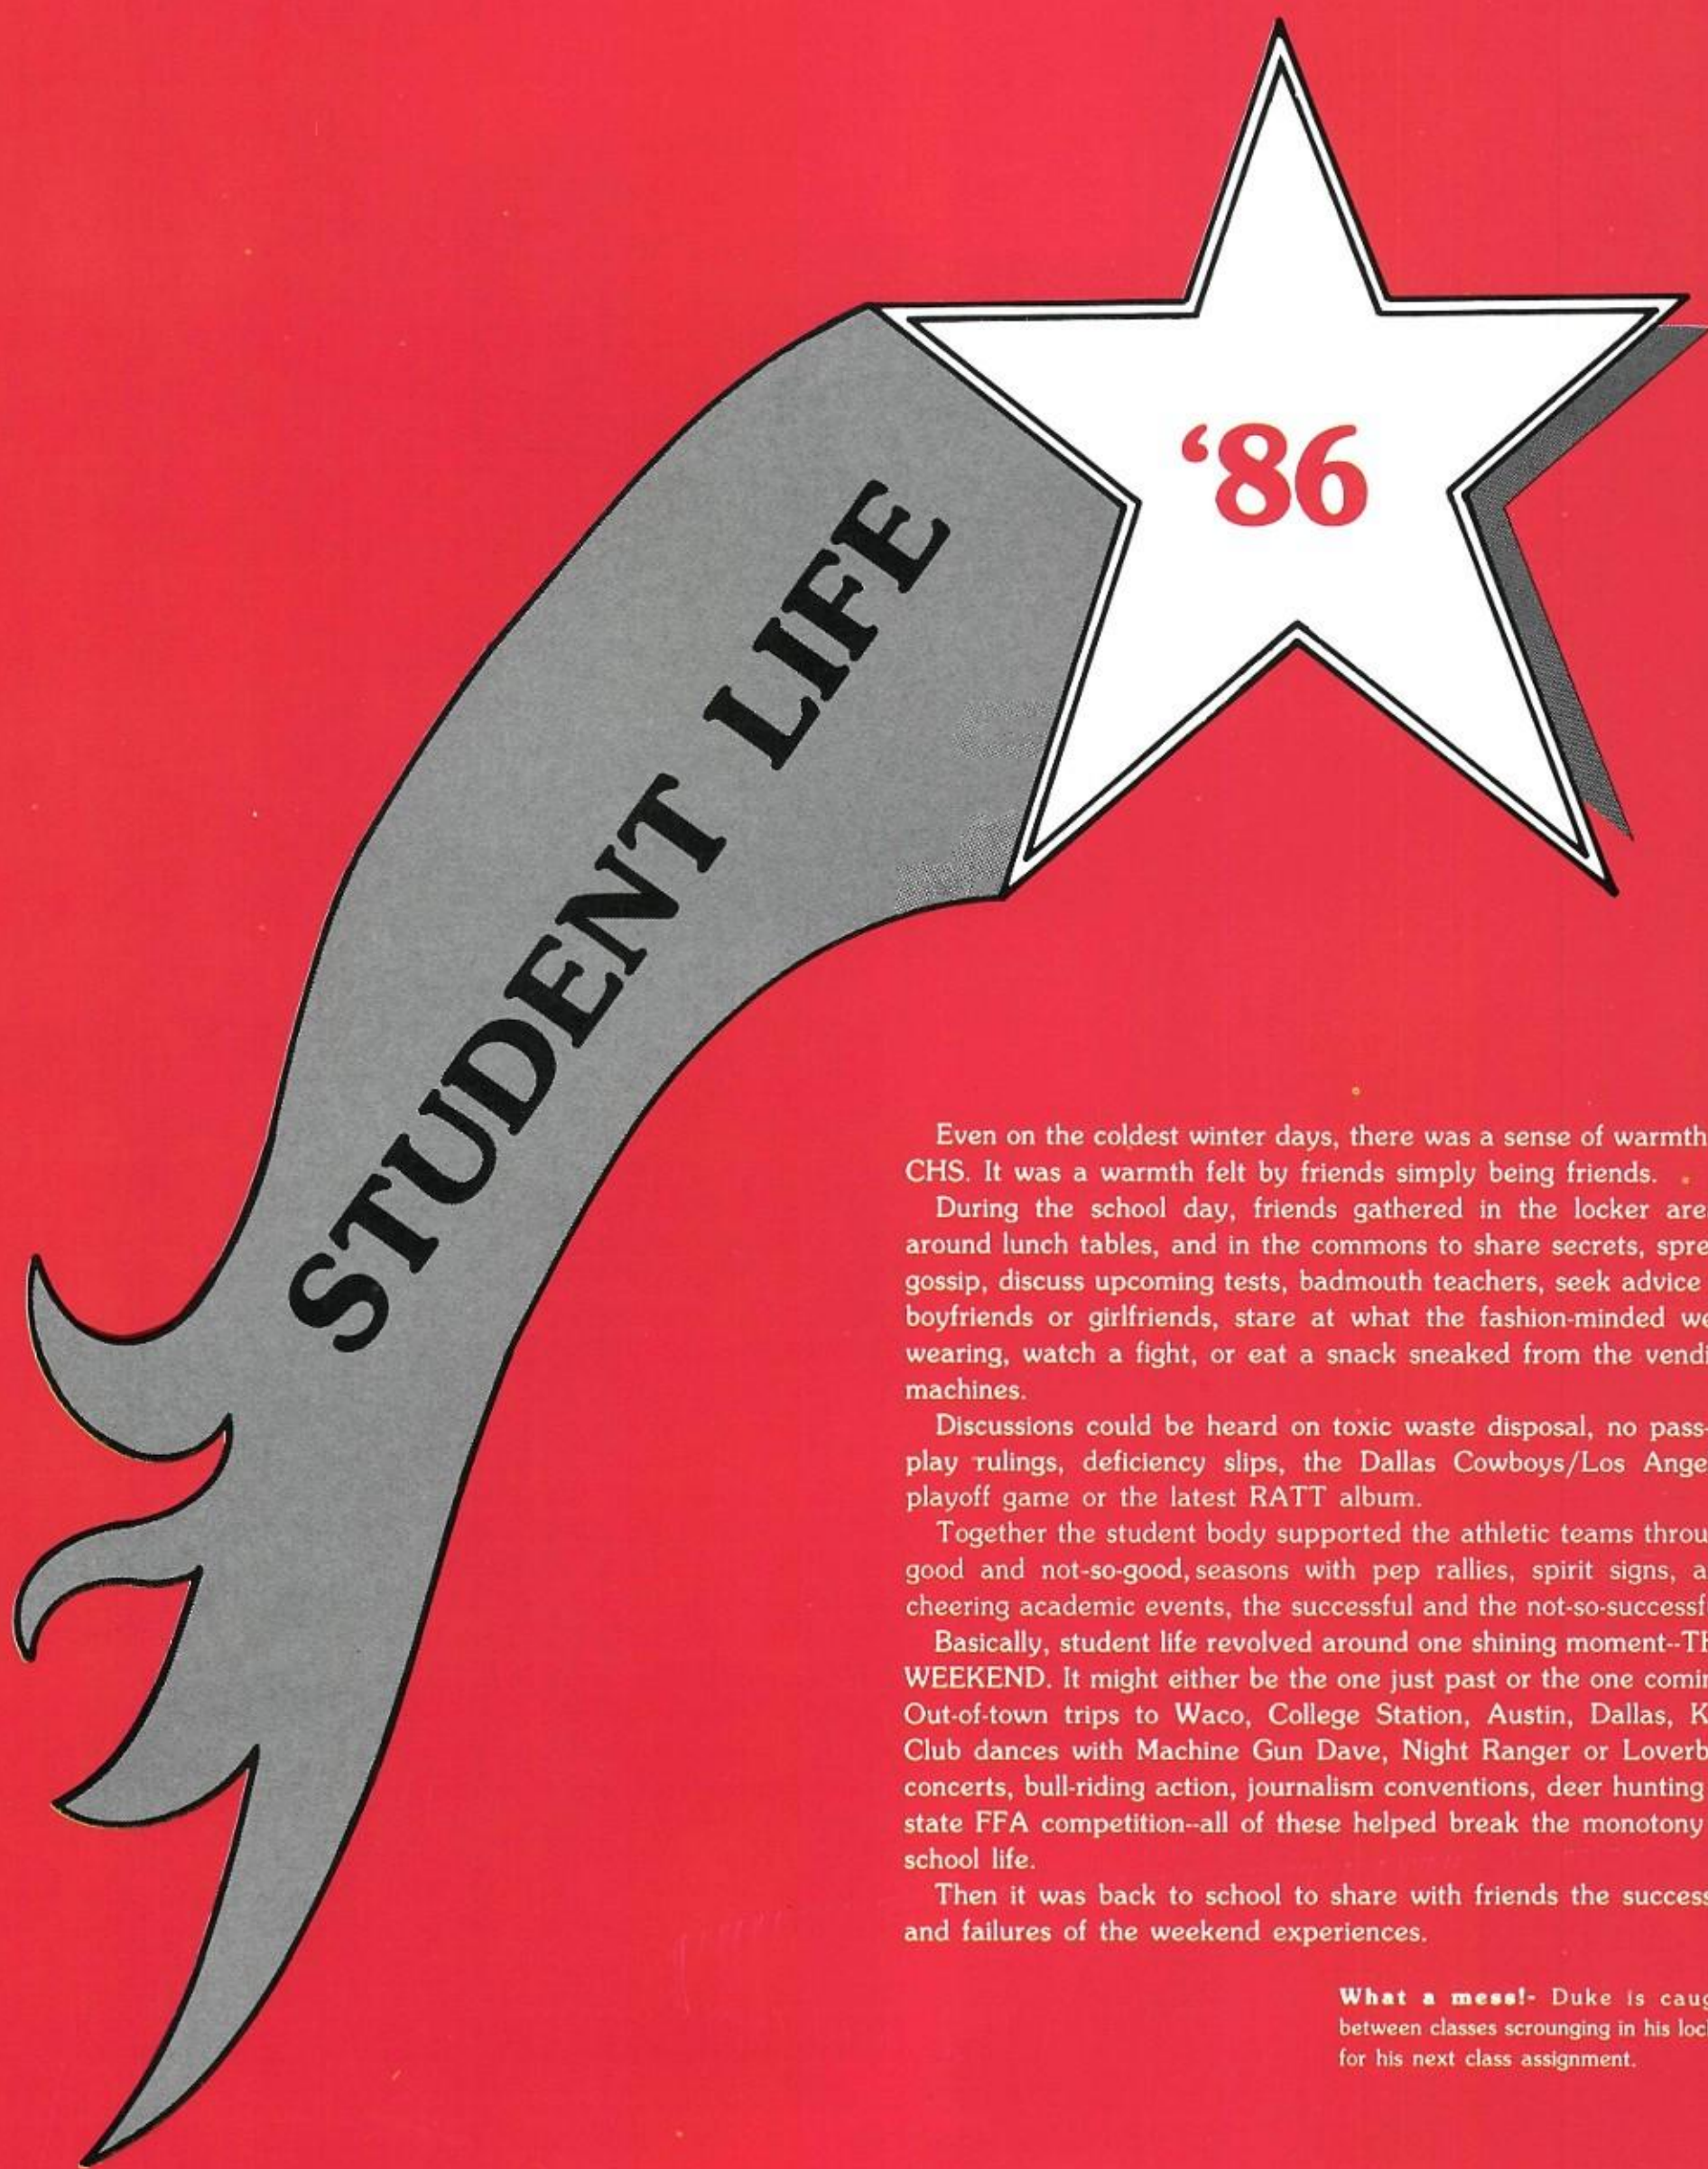

After working hard to keep up their grades, students participated in many extra-curricular activities, including University Interscholastic League musical, academic, dramatic, and literary events. The extra work paid off in first place honors. The Future Farmers of America won a first place award in state competition. Also, the Decathlon team placed first in the small school division at regionals.

Although most people did not agree with the no pass, no play rules, the extra work and effort resulted in positive accomplishments for many students.

Texas Tradition-Brad Gillis rides high in the saddle for the Texas tradition.

Keeping the faith-The Carthage Bulldogs show that togetherness will lead them toward another victory.

Even on the coldest winter days, there was a sense of warmth at CHS. It was a warmth felt by friends simply being friends.

During the school day, friends gathered in the locker areas, around lunch tables, and in the commons to share secrets, spread gossip, discuss upcoming tests, badmouth teachers, seek advice on boyfriends or girlfriends, stare at what the fashion-minded were wearing, watch a fight, or eat a snack sneaked from the vending machines.

Discussions could be heard on toxic waste disposal, no pass-no play rulings, deficiency slips, the Dallas Cowboys/Los Angeles playoff game or the latest RATT album.

Together the student body supported the athletic teams through good and not-so-good seasons with pep rallies, spirit signs, and cheering academic events, the successful and the not-so-successful.

Basically, student life revolved around one shining moment--THE WEEKEND. It might either be the one just past or the one coming. Out-of-town trips to Waco, College Station, Austin, Dallas, Key Club dances with Machine Gun Dave, Night Ranger or Loverboy concerts, bull-riding action, journalism conventions, deer hunting or state FFA competition--all of these helped break the monotony of school life.

Then it was back to school to share with friends the successes and failures of the weekend experiences.

What a mess! Duke is caught between classes scrounging in his locker for his next class assignment.

Fads Reflect the Times

Reactions to the latest fads and fashions that appeared at CHS varied as much as the styles did. On the other hand, the do's and don'ts of 1985 fashions let individual personalities shine.

The universal fear was to be considered a nerd, a repulsive human being with out-of-date styles of polyester and double knit. The cool, clean yuppy look was the ultimate goal of fashion-conscious people.

The cute, cuddly little bear on your knee-length sweatshirt, the RATT t-shirt, the checkered tie, the geometric earrings, the purple punk hairstyle--there was definitely something for everyone's personality.

The bear necessities--Jerri Dee Long shows off the bear necessities of fashions with her own creation.

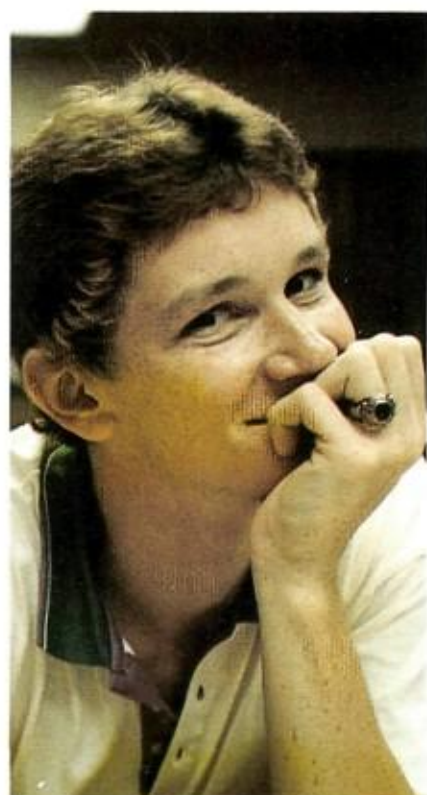

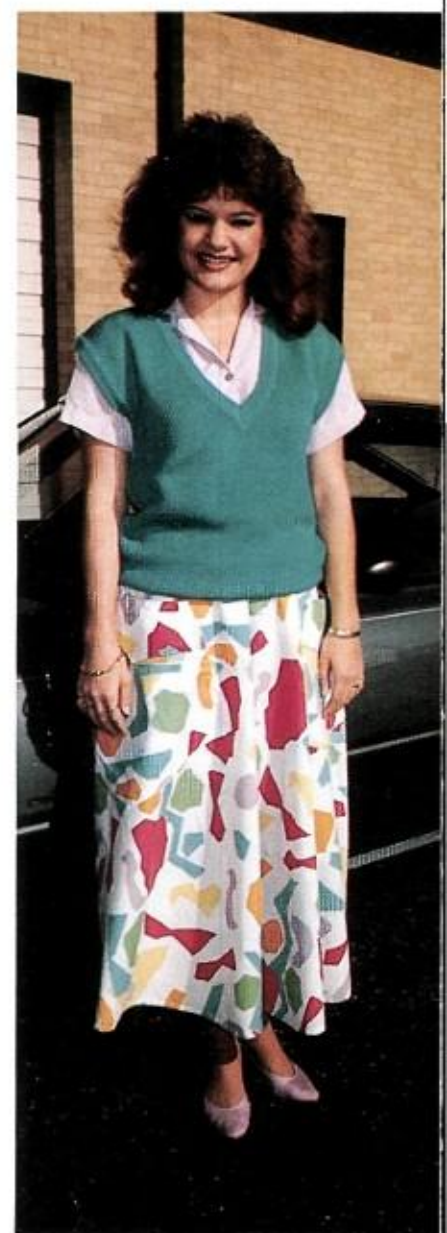

Laid back--Taking it easy, Jeff Jones shows off his stylish clothes with a distinctive flair all his own.

Bright is right--Showing the bright colors of the 80's, Charlotte James stands by her dream car.

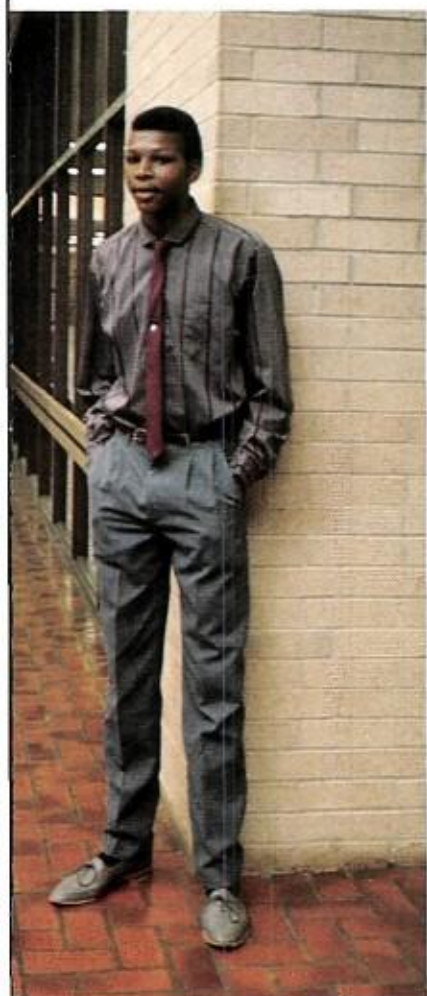

Best Dressed--Trela Thomas, Monica Graves, Susie Davis, Jennifer McCarty, Terri Sparks, Niki Kozlowski, Ali Ghassi, Garrick Pannell, Warren Castleberry, Cody Williams, Shannon Smith, Kathie Walton, Jodi Strong, Dana Ritter, Jerri Dee Long, Stacie Griffith, Shawna Taylor, Kim Smith and Jeff Jones were designated as the best dressed students at CHS by The Carthaginian.

Mischievous?--Tom Warren shows off the latest style in rings for seniors as he plots an escape from Mrs. Gamble's class.

Dreaming--Wondering if she can really become a model, Charlotte Stevens practices her poses in the popular stirrup pants.

Time out!-Taking time out of his busy schedule, Jammin' Bones Warren Castleberry observes all the women as they walk to class.

Big is Better-Dana Ritter illustrates how the big shirt is the fashion of today.

Rain wear-Even the rain fairy is in style with the colors of the rainbow.

Spirit Soars in '85

Freshmen, sophomores, juniors, and seniors all took part in spirit week at C.H.S.

The week kicked off on Sunday afternoon with the decorating of the commons area. Each class had a specific area to decorate. As the week progressed it was evident by the new signs hung that there was a feud between the senior class of 88 and the Seniors' 86.

Thursday, CHS campus took up a new look. Nerds, space cadets, gangsters, Rambo-look alikes, and bag ladies came out of the woodwork to participate in Spirit Day.

Friday, everyone was encouraged to wear red and white to support the Bulldogs. By second period the mums had been delivered and the ringing of bells could be heard over the campus.

Spirit Week came to a close Friday night at the Homecoming Dance after the victory over the Center Roughriders.

CHS Underground-The CHS Mafia arrives at school in style with John Paul Davis, Heath Cariker, Dana Ritter, Lorie Langlotz, Amy Abernathy, and Bobby Baker.

Heavy Metal -Fan Nathan Hanlon is ready to play lead guitar for his band.

Flower Child-Trela Thomas tries to make peace with her teacher as she takes notes.

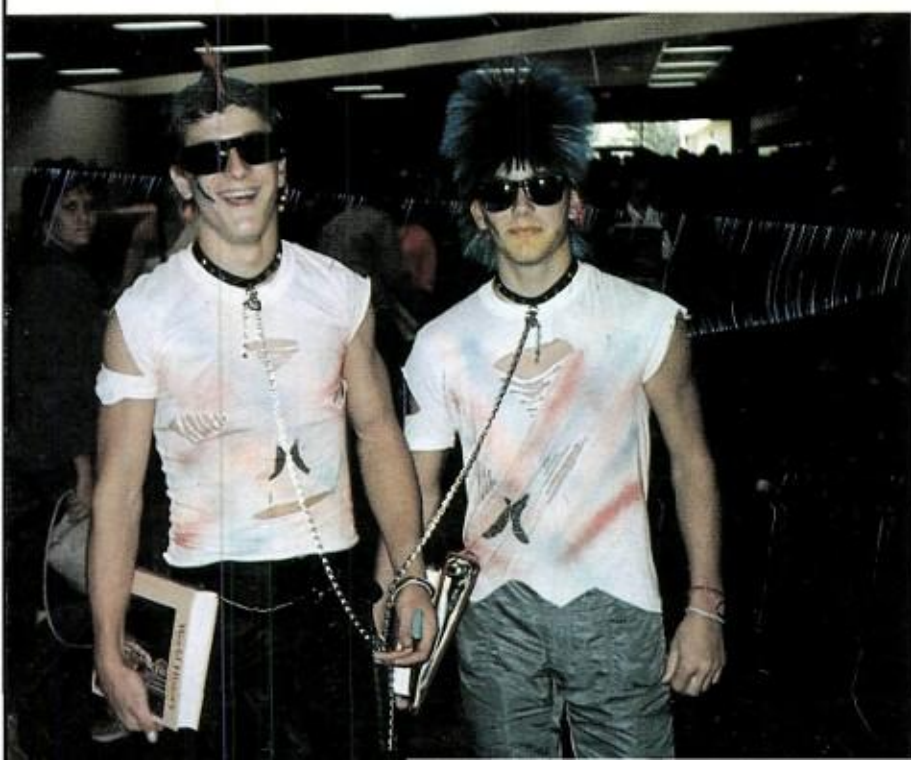

Clowning Around-Doug Yount and Bob Marshall have their share of fun on Spirit Day.

Punk Rockers-Phillip Richter and Shannon Smith roam the halls looking for their lost screws.

One more time . . .

these three little words became the most memorable phrase of Homecoming '85 as Chris Medlin gave Queen Dana Brady the traditional congratulatory kiss. With obvious enthusiasm on the part of Medlin, the innocent embrace was repeated numerous time for the various photographers, much to the delight of the crowd at Martin Stadium.

The evening of October 4 was filled with tension and excitement as five sharply dressed chauffeurs drove around the track in new, shiny cars. The anticipation that had grown all week would finally be relieved.

The first car, chauffeured by Virgil Wedgeworth, delivered Duchess Jackie Beck, escorted by Sammy Buffin. Next, Duchess SuTom Boggio and escort Lonnie Simonson were delivered by chauffeur John Paul Davis. In the third car, Duchess Dana Brady and escort Chris Medlin were delivered by Mark Davis. Being chauffeured by Andy Shutt, were Duchess Beverly Denise Marry and her escort, Jeff Jones. The fourth car, driven by Paul Bishop, delivered Duchess Karen Turner and escort Jason Ballenger. As each duchess walked onto the field, the tension mounted.

The moment everyone had been waiting for arrived as Dana Brady was crowned the 1985 Homecoming Queen by the '84 queen Lori Rhiddlehoover.

Stars Caught Up in The Action

CHS students actively participated in extra-curricular events throughout the year. In October, the annual Potlatch Festival gave students opportunities to man booths and to show their skills at lip-syncing, Jello slurping, bubble blowing, and pillow fighting.

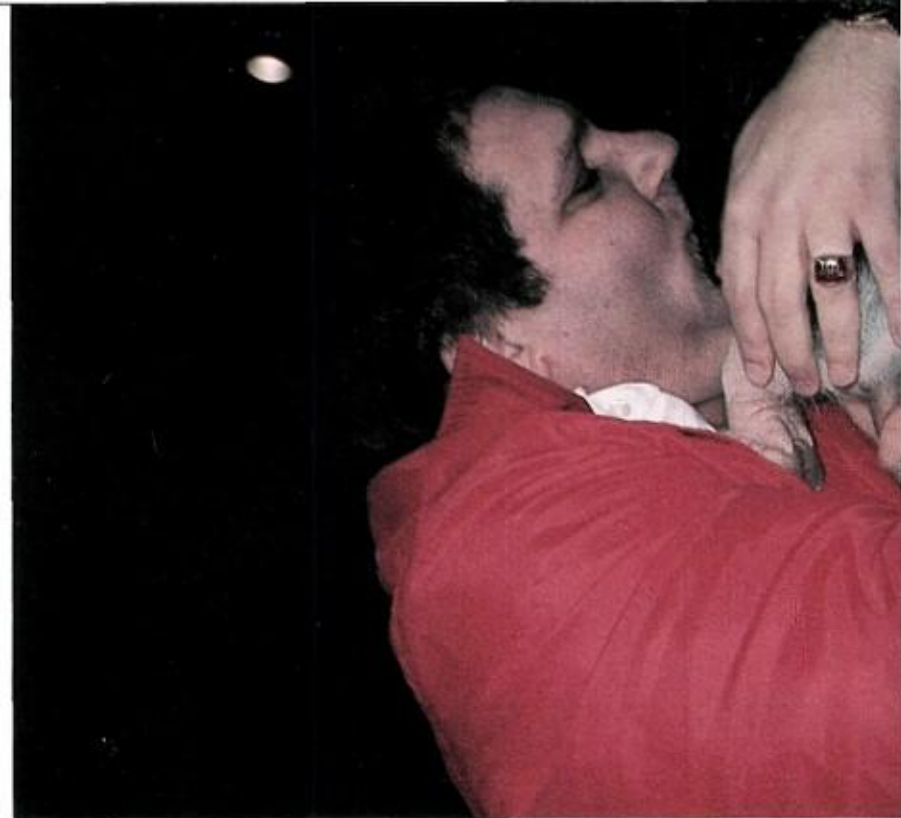

The student body was involved in supporting all athletic activities. During the first three months of school, hundreds of students were active preparing for Friday Night Football, a CHS tradition.

Various contests made life interesting during the year. Most-spirited class, best dressed students, best legs on the basketball teams, and the faculty kiss-a-pig contest were all successful in spotlighting superlative individual and groups.

Warmth-The Warmth of the Heart contest was held at the Potlatch Festival. Sonya Whitaker and Dana Brady were the winners as they performed as The Warmth of the Heart.

Time outside of school was also spent cruising around town, three-wheeling, attending Key Club dances, and rock concerts.

National and world events interested students as well. They were shocked by the explosion of the space shuttle Challenger immediately after lift-off on January 28. The Chicago Bears' wipe-out of the New England Patriots at the Super Bowl thrilled football enthusiasts.

CHS students remained involved from September through May, making their impact on school life.

Bogenschutz, Brady Named Mr. & Miss CHS in '86

The student body of CHS chose Dana Brady and Todd Bogenschutz as Mr. and Miss CHS. The announcement was made at the Pine Burr Awards Assembly on February 11. Dana, who plans to pursue a career in law, enjoys water skiing and dancing. She hopes to someday become a judge. Her hobbies include singing and cheerleading.

Favorites Shine

The student body elected six favorites that epitomized the friendly spirit at CHS. They were Denise Marry, Sonya Whitaker, Amy Abernathy, Sammy Buffin, Brad Jackson, and T J Pelton.

Sammy Buffin enjoys lifting weights, biking, and being with loved ones. He feels that he is able to handle rough times smoothly and is proud of his caring friends.

Denise Marry is proud of the fact that she can get along with just about anyone. She is happiest when she is with her friends.

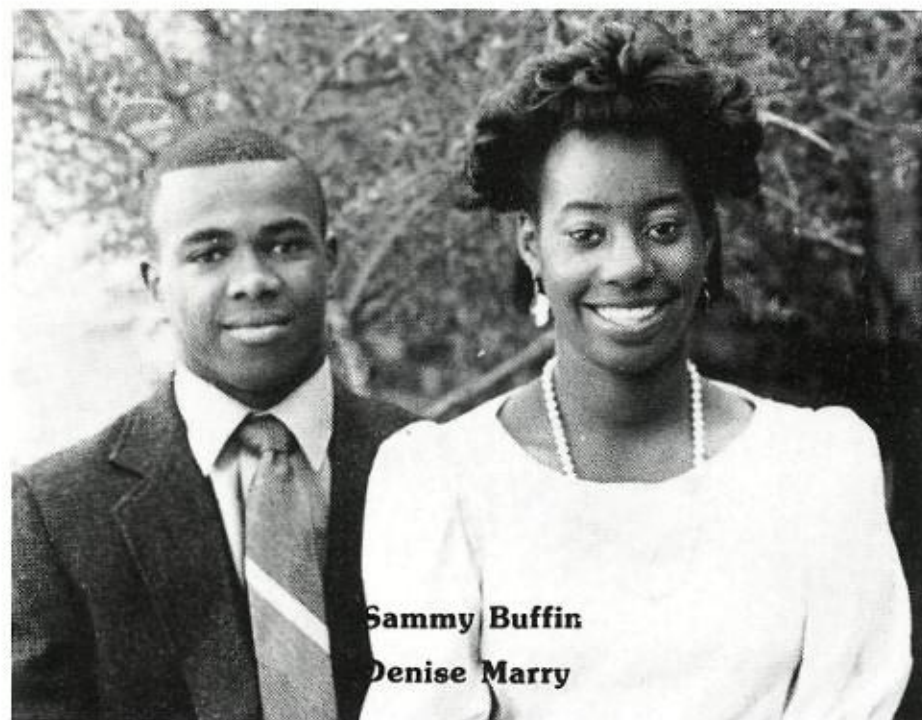

T J Pelton enjoys reading, weightlifting, skiing, and going to good movies. His mischievous grin and sense of humor endears him to his classmates.

Sonya Whitaker is easy to get along with as she enjoys cheerleading, swimming, and riding motorcycles. Being able to control her temper, she says, is one of her best qualities.

Brad Jackson believes in fulfilling his goals. He tries to accomplish everything he attempts to the best of his ability. Brad enjoys electrical work, fishing, and camping.

Amy Abernathy is patient and therefore gets along well with children. She enjoys ballet dancing and singing.

Stacy, Scott Inspired to Succeed

Chris Stacy and Susan Scott were chosen by the entire student body as the two students most likely to succeed from the class of '86.

During his senior year, Stacy was recognized as a CHS Varsity Letterwinner and an outstanding member of the Month by faculty members. He was a very active member in the Industrial Arts Club, serving the organization in many capacities. He enjoyed woodworking because it did not involve homework. In his spare time, Chris liked playing sandlot football.

Scott was named to the all-district basketball team as well as the all-state band during her senior year. In her leisure time, Susan watched movies. Her favorite movie was 'Revenge of the Nerds'.

Both of these students attribute their success in school to very special people. Chris is proud when he realizes that he has given his best to a project and he knows he owes a great deal to his teachers, friends, and family members in supporting his goals. Upon graduation, Chris plans to attend Panola Junior College and then transfer to Texas A & M University.

Susan acknowledges two important people as inspirations in her high school career. Lesa Jacobs and Traci Jimerson encouraged Susan to realize that she could do anything that she wanted, if she wanted it badly enough. 'I've always had a lot of support from many people, but especially these two,' she said. Susan plans to attend college on a band scholarship.

On Their Way-Chris Stacy and Susan Scott think of their future successes.

Harrison Named 1986 Dedicatee

'He is just an all around great guy,' said Chris Medlin when he announced that Coach Chuck Harrison had been selected as the 1986 Pine Burr dedicatee. 'He possesses the ability to see things from the student's point of view,' continued Medlin as he made the presentation at the annual assembly.

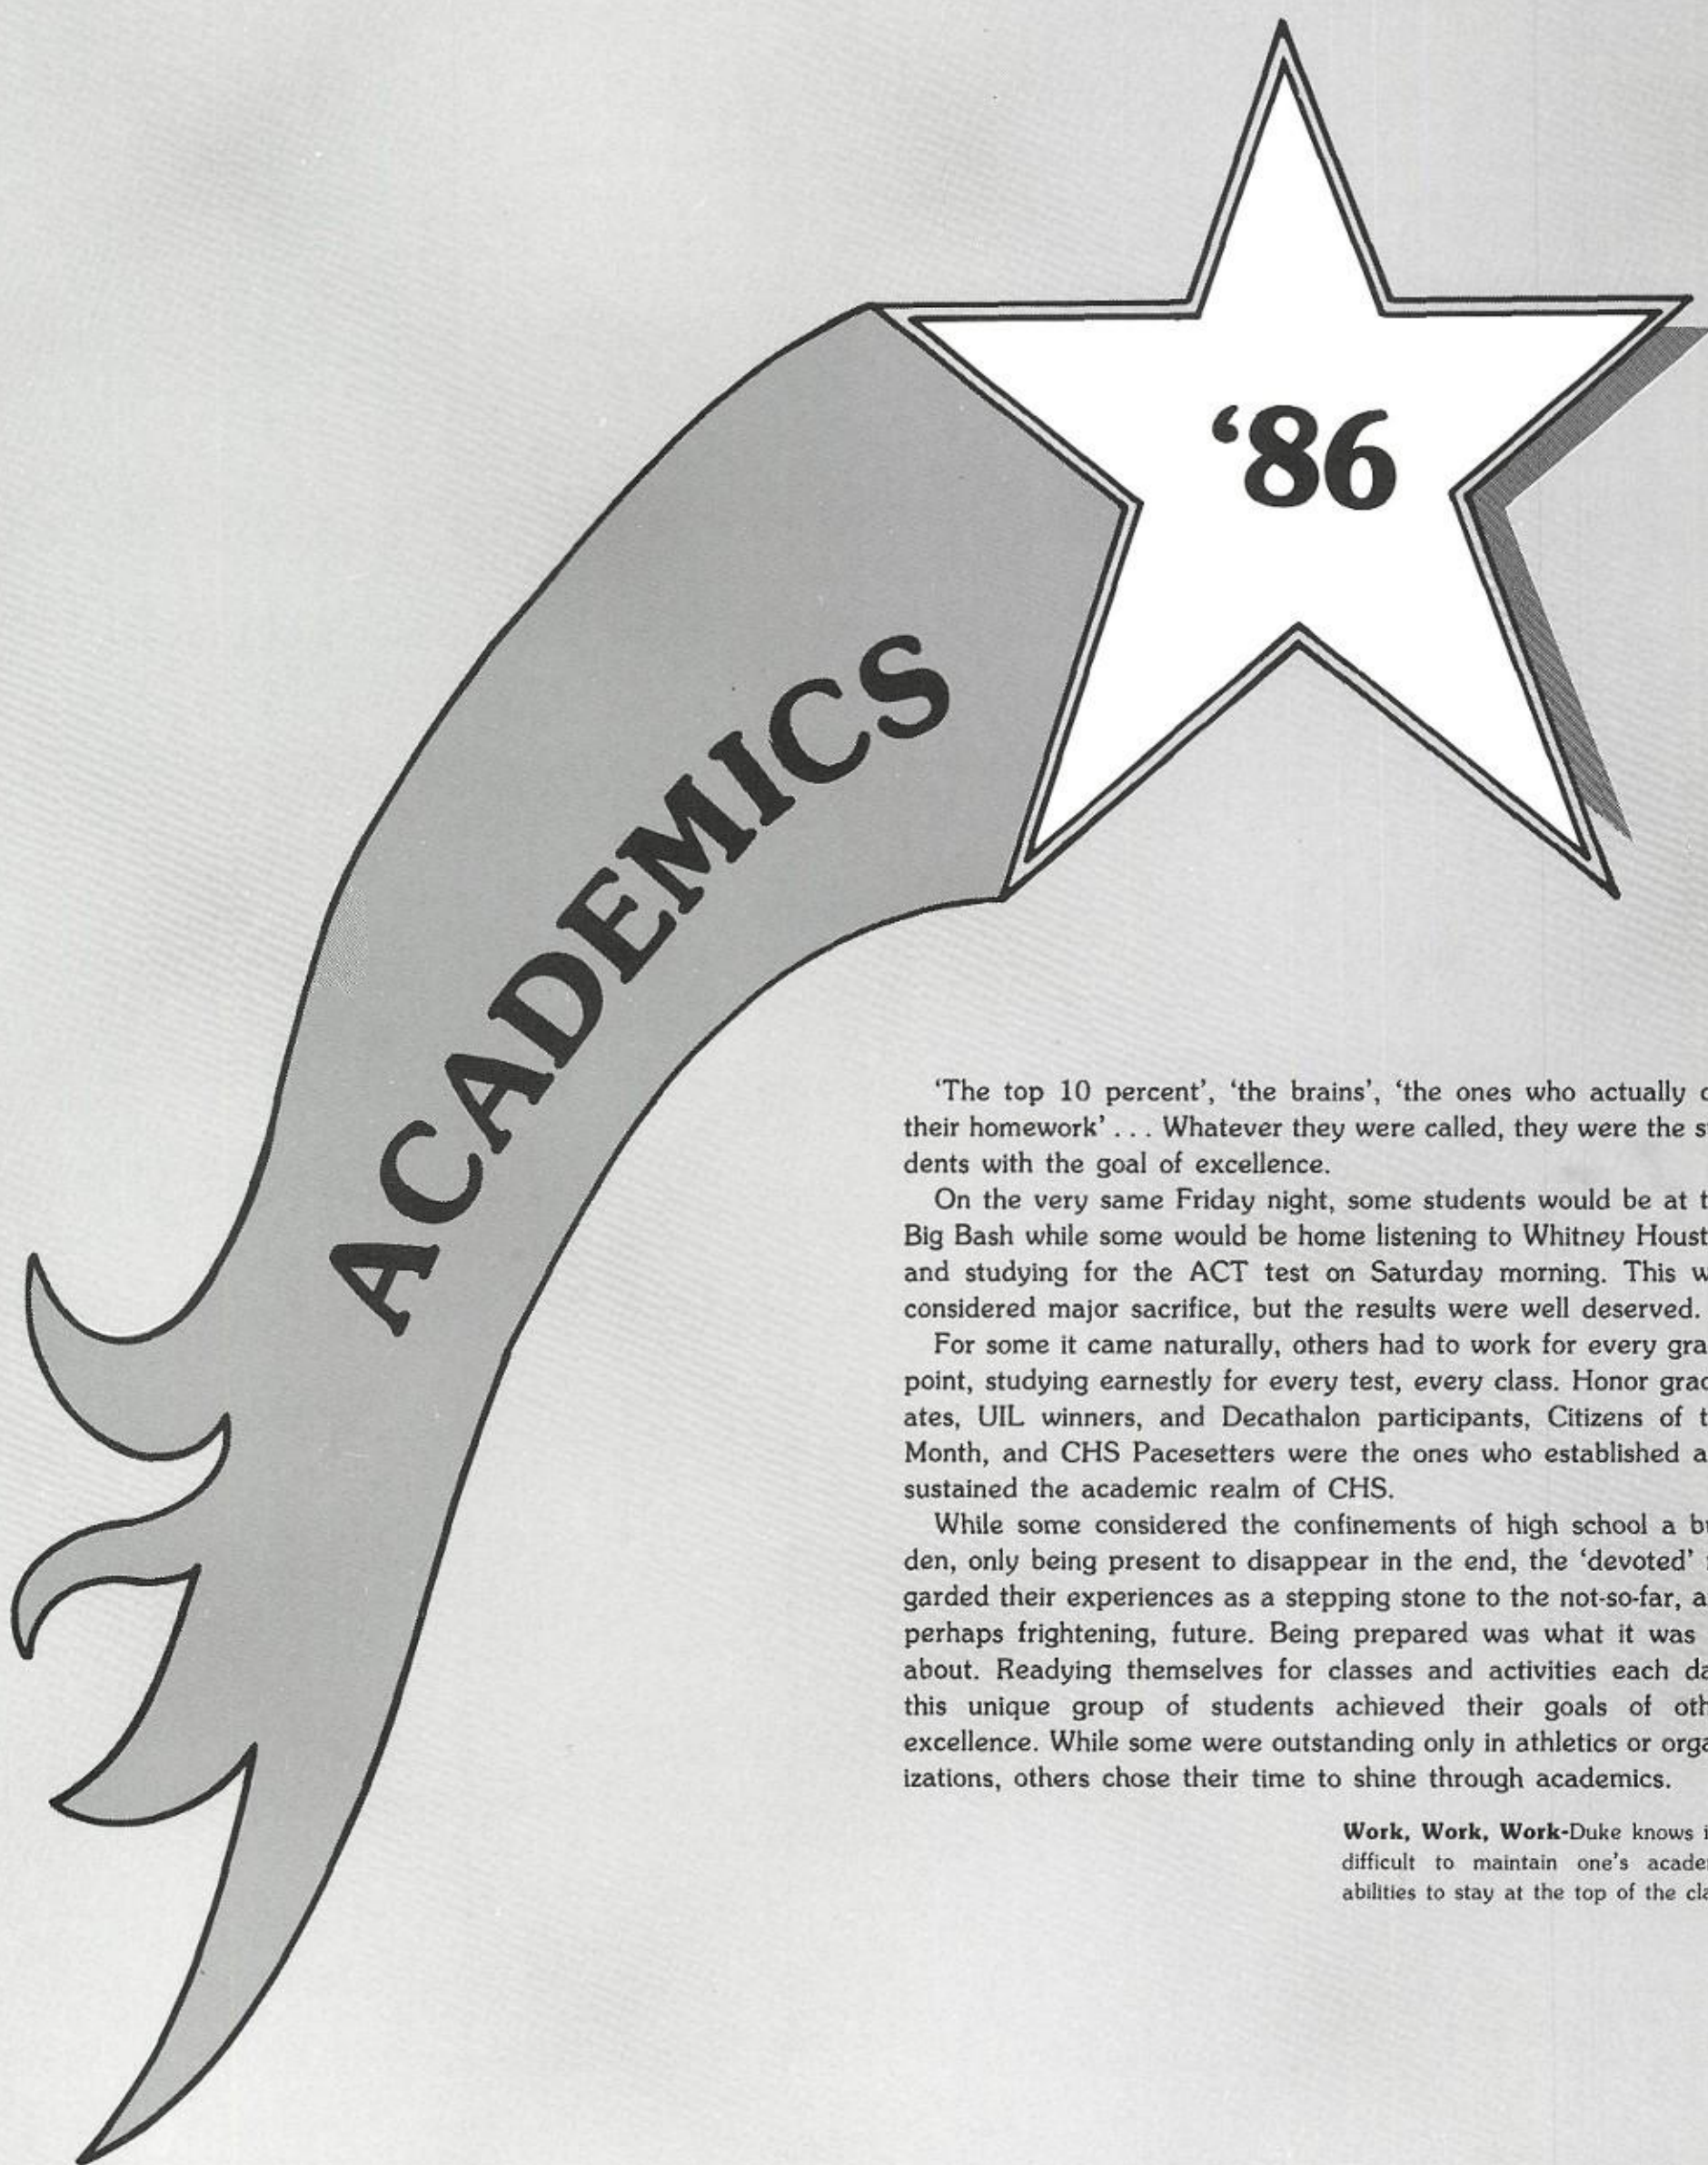

Mr. Harrison has been associated with the Carthage school system for five years. He has served as coach, English teacher, and assistant principal. 'I have enjoyed working with students who need help or direction,' he said.

Harrison is also active in the Fellowship of Christian Athletes. One of his prime inspirations in life has been Jesus Christ.

The highlight of his career at CHS was his association with the semi-finalist football team of 1983 and a state track meet champion, Roscoe Tatum.

Coach Harrison has influenced and helped many students in his various positions at CHS and for these reasons the 1986 Pine Burr has been dedicated to him.

'The top 10 percent', 'the brains', 'the ones who actually did their homework' . . . Whatever they were called, they were the students with the goal of excellence.

On the very same Friday night, some students would be at the Big Bash while some would be home listening to Whitney Houston and studying for the ACT test on Saturday morning. This was considered major sacrifice, but the results were well deserved.

For some it came naturally, others had to work for every grade point, studying earnestly for every test, every class. Honor graduates, UIL winners, and Decathlon participants, Citizens of the Month, and CHS Pacesetters were the ones who established and sustained the academic realm of CHS.

While some considered the confinements of high school a burden, only being present to disappear in the end, the 'devoted' regarded their experiences as a stepping stone to the not-so-far, and perhaps frightening, future. Being prepared was what it was all about. Readying themselves for classes and activities each day, this unique group of students achieved their goals of other excellence. While some were outstanding only in athletics or organizations, others chose their time to shine through academics.

Work, Work, Work-Duke knows it is difficult to maintain one's academic abilities to stay at the top of the class.

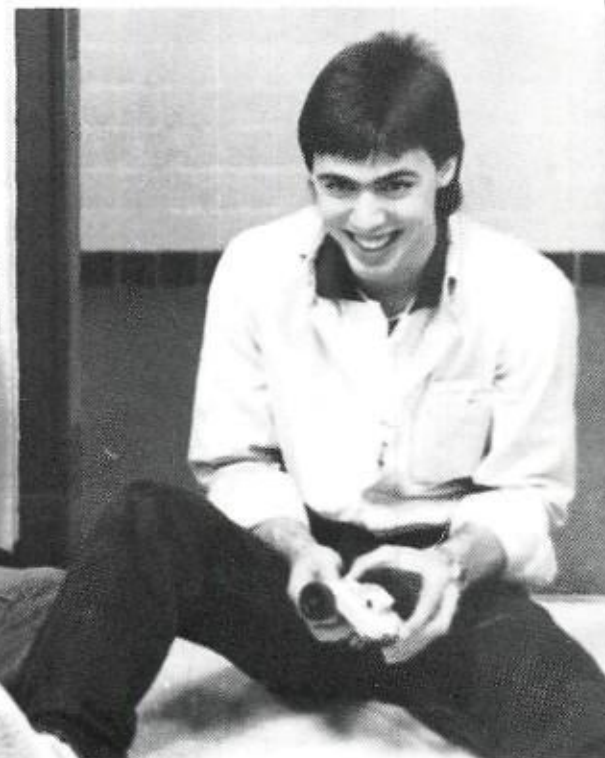

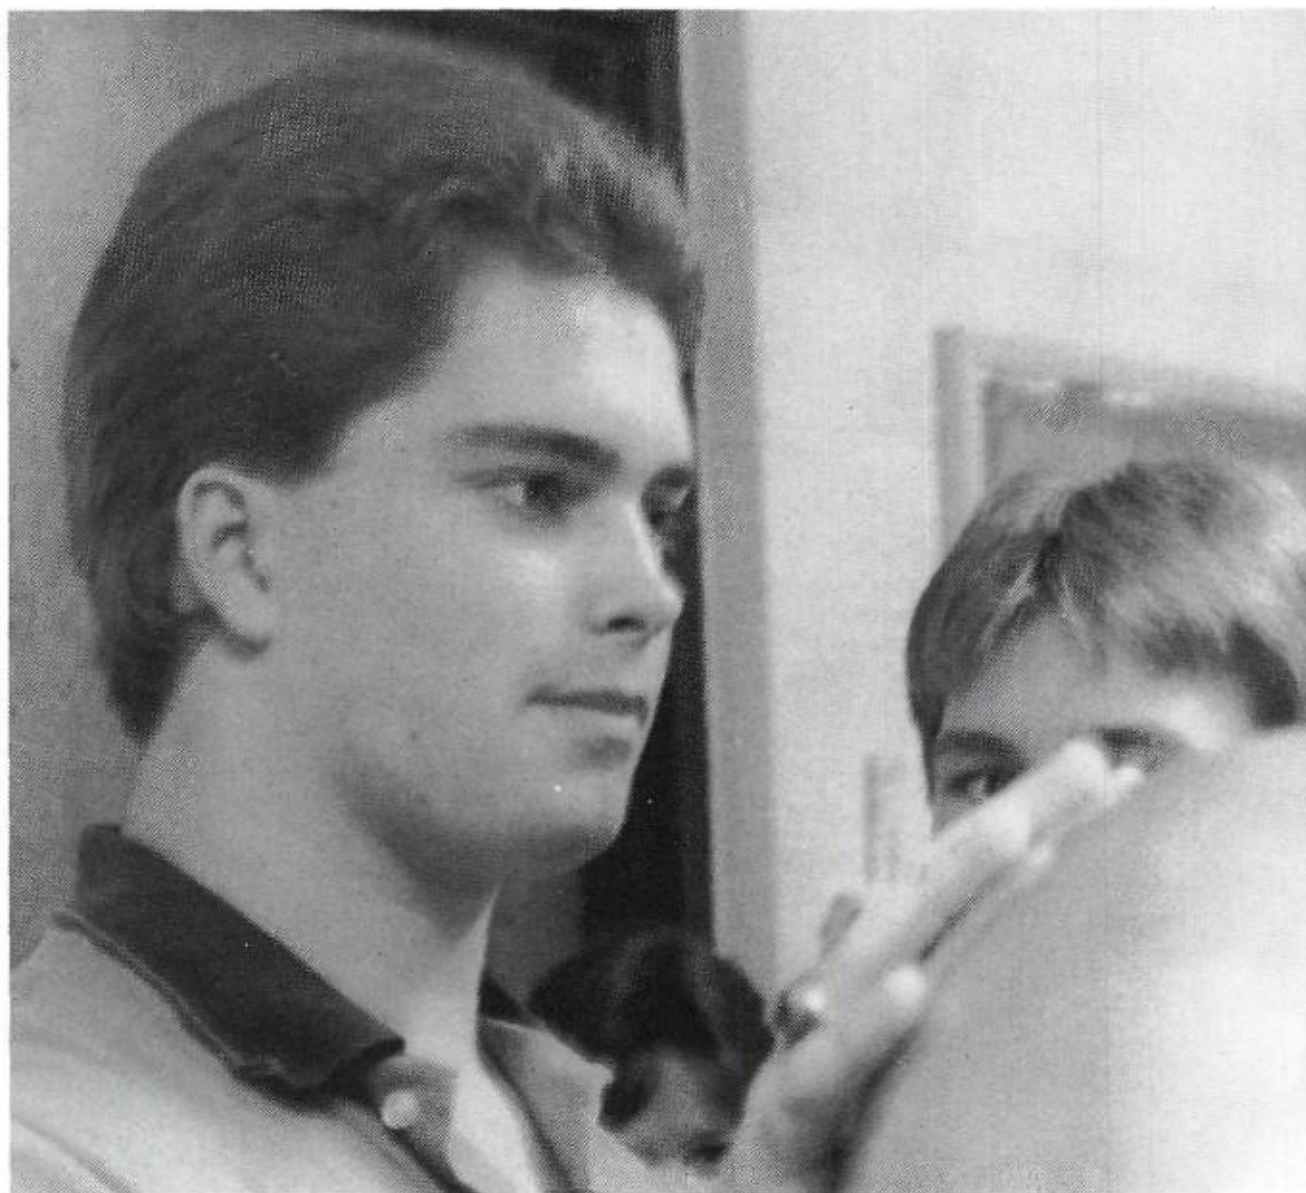

Class Charisma in Academic

Academic classes were those classes that were not electives. English, history, mathematics, government, health and the physical and biological sciences were academic courses required to graduate.

Some courses such as advanced biology, chemistry, trigonometry, calculus, and physics could be taken as electives by inquisitive students preparing for college.

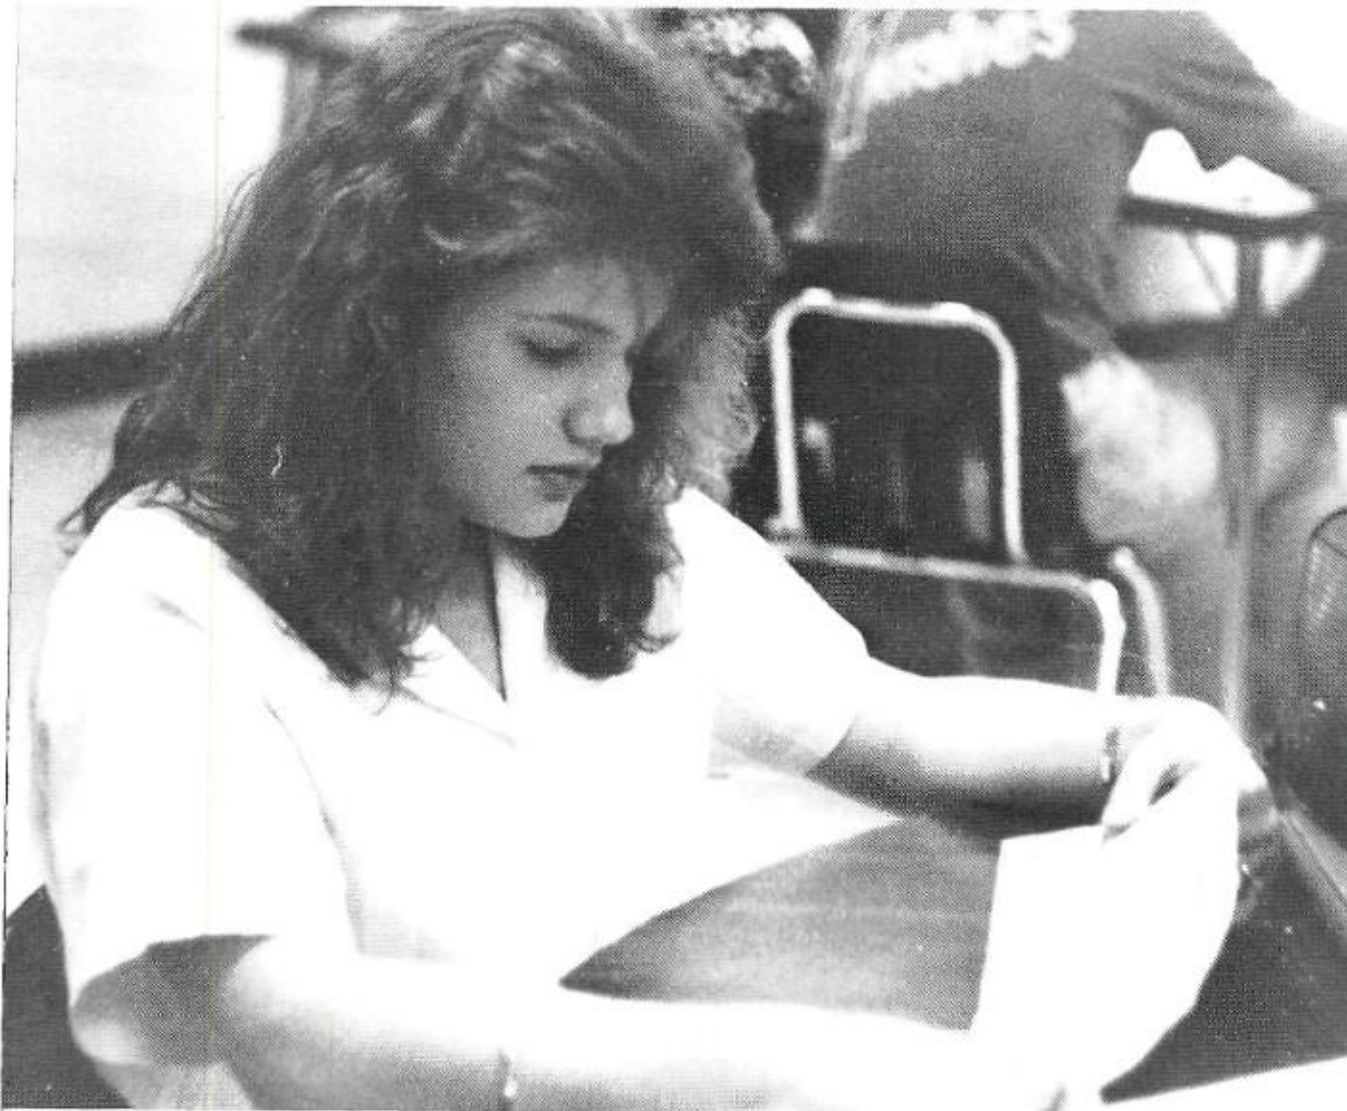

Most of the time spent in academic classes took the form of notetaking, studying, and preparing for tests. Occasionally, teachers spruced up the bill of fare with interesting experiments, creative projects, or scientific labs. These routine-breaking exercises were what made academic classes memorable.

Simply Shocking-T J Pelton lends a hand in a physics experiment on static electricity while Chris Medlin looks on in astonishment.

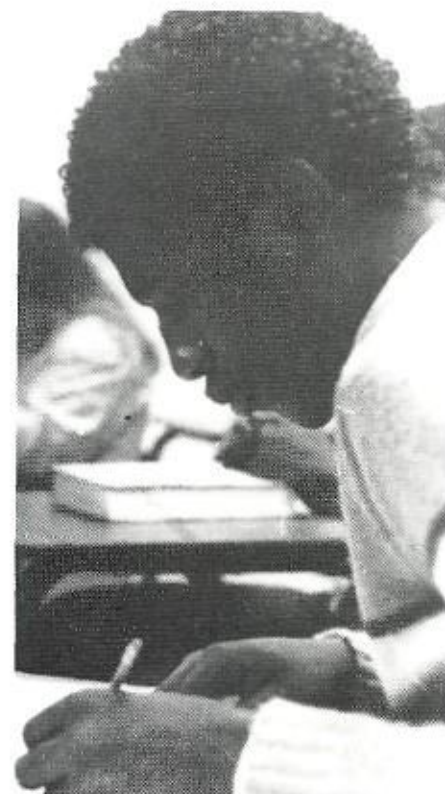

Say Cheese-Polly Knight takes credit for her geometry project, 'geometree', for Mr. Rhiddlehoover's class.

Pit Crew-Kevin Henderson and Wesley Smith get their mousetrap car wound up for a drag race in honor of physics class.

Thank Goodness-Charlotte James surveys the end result of six weeks' worth of hard work.

Not All Fun And Games-Welton Sanders learns that English was never meant to be entertaining.

Fishing Fever-Advanced biology students, Amy Abernathy, John Paul Davis, and Dana Ritter, work on ecosystems for Mrs. Reeves's class.

Citizens Awarded By Faculty

A senior student was nominated and chosen by the faculty members each month to serve as Citizen of the Month. The selection was based on academic abilities, character, and community awareness. Each student chosen was awarded a plaque by the Panola Watchman.

The citizens of the months for 1985 were Betty Kyle for September, Lloyd Briggs for October, Susan Scott in November, and Tom Warren for December. In 1986, the recipients were Jason Gibert for January, Chris Stacy in February, John Paul Davis for March, Ricky Mitchell in April, and Karen McDaniel in May.

Setting the Pace

Setting the pace at CHS was a group of ten outstanding students recognized as CHS Pacesetters by faculty members. The choices were announced at the Pine Burr Awards Assembly.

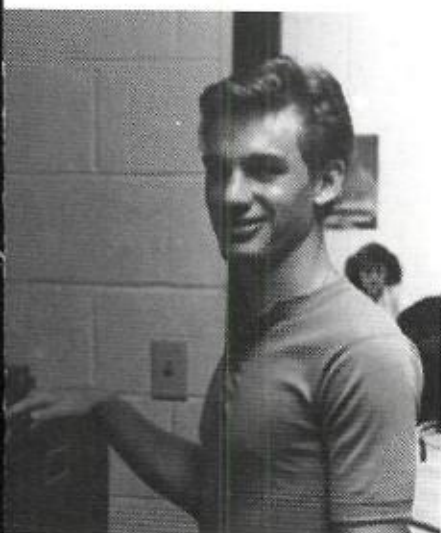

Mrs. Paula LaGrone, English IV teacher, said, 'I looked at leadership qualities, involvement in school activities, qualities of a good citizen, and academic qualities like grade point average maintained while participating in other things.'

While making her choice, Mrs. Bonnie Pope, government and history instructor, looked for students who 'march to their own drummer.'

The students were outstanding academically, artistically, athletically, or musically. Regardless of the area in which they excelled, these individuals were role models and admired by their fellow classmates for their dedication and hard work.

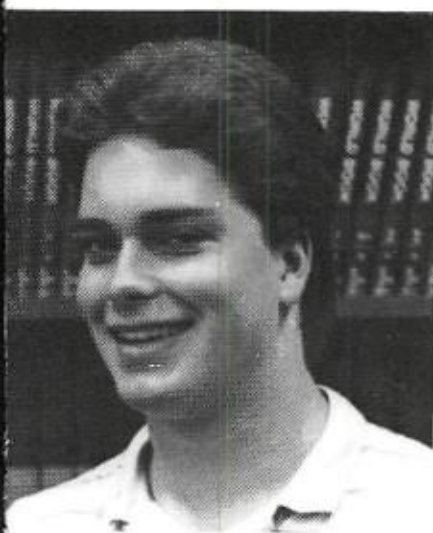

Those selected were Dana Brady, John Paul Davis, Jason Gibert, Betty Kyle, T J Pelton, Dana Ritter, Susan Scott, Chris Stacy, Audrey Tate, and Tom Warren.

Grads Receive Scholarships

The hard work and high marks of the seniors were rewarded Tuesday, May 6, at the annual scholarship assembly. Many students received scholarships from various groups.

This year a new scholarship was established in honor of Mr. E. Metz LaFollette. The first recipient was the class valedictorian, Jason Gibert. The funds for the award were contributed by students, school organizations, faculty members, and private individuals. The money was placed into an interest-bearing account for future graduating recipients.

Cream Of The Crop-The top four graduating seniors, Chris Collins, Tom Warren, Dana Ritter, and Jason Gibert, get together for photographers after the assemble in which they were honored.

Congratulations-Lloyd Briggs was presented a scholarship by Mrs. Wedgeworth, a National Honor Society sponsor, after he was voted on by the other NHS members.

Honored-Recipient of the Noon Lions' scholarship, Kelly Graves, shakes the hand of Mr. Nixon, the Lions' representative at the assembly.

Students Honored At Awards Assembly

Howdy-Exchange student Anne Valo is given some Texas-style souvenirs, a Resistol hat and Justin boots.

Caring Mothers-Linda Griffith, Jane Reynolds, and Peggy Snow are recognized for all their help.

Naturals-Susan Scott and Lloyd Briggs were named outstanding senior boy and girl.

State Bound-Wendy Warf prepares to go to the state finals in headline writing.

UIL Places Third In District

This year Carthage placed third place in the UIL district meet.

Seven students placed at the district meet on March 18. Tracy Terry placed in typing; Kevin Henderson in persuasive speaking; Wendy Warf in headline writing; Chris Collins in ready writing; Darren McDonald in science; Lloyd Briggs in accounting; and Levon Thomas in spelling. Those placing in district continued on to regional competition.

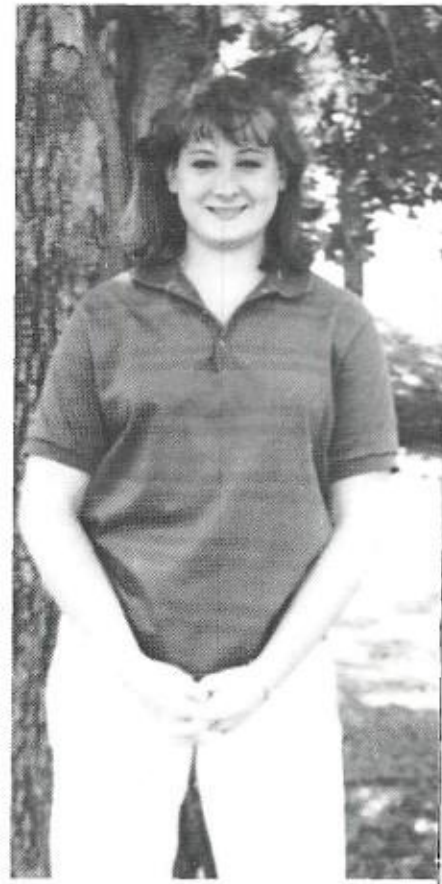

The one-act play received runner-up honors. Cheryl Foster got honorable mention; Karen Woods was named best actress; and Erin Townsend was placed on the all-star cast.

At the regional contest on April 19, Wendy Warf placed third in headline writing and Lloyd Briggs placed first in accounting.

Wendy Warf advanced to the state meet on May 9. Lloyd Briggs did not go to state because regionals was as far as his event went.

The UIL sponsors were Paula LaGrone, ready writing; Ann Morris, spelling; Lucky Watkins, speaking events and one-act play; Karen Reeves, science; Norma Jennings, typing; Doris Wedgeworth, shorthand and accounting; Becky Gullette, number sense; and Nancy Williams, journalism. The director of all events was Mr. Charles Newton.

District Winners-Tracy Terry, Kevin Henderson, Wendy Warf, Chris Collins, Darren McDonald, Lloyd Briggs, and Levon Thomas.

Regional Winners-Lloyd Briggs won first place in accounting while Wendy Warf placed third in headline writing at regional competition in Huntsville.

Practice Makes Perfect-Erin Townsend, Darren Allison, Karen Woods, and Odell Sessions perform the one-act play for the student body in preparation for contest.

Nervous Itch-Mr. Charles Newton experiences a case of nerves as he anticipates victories at UIL contest.

Participants-Roy Brady, Lloyd Briggs, Levon Thomas, and Loretta Broadway hope to beat the competition.

Through hard work and loyal devotion, the winning tradition continued at CHS. The Bulldog varsity football team proved that they were ready for the action by capturing district and bi-district and making the regional playoff game in College Station.

The tradition continued with the cross country girls taking first place in the district meet in Kilgore during the fall schedule and participating in the regional meet.

It was an improvement year for the basketball teams as both the boys and the girls teams increased their previous season's win records. The freshman boys took first place in district while the girls varsity squad missed playoff action by only one game.

The spring sports resumed with high hopes in golf and baseball. No pass, no play regulations decreased the number of athletes in these areas, but nevertheless, expectations ran high. Tracksters began working out in lovely early spring weather with lofty goals for a terrific season. CHS athletes were ready to shine in the winning tradition.

Ready to Play-Duke supports the Bulldog winning tradition in every sport.

Bulldogs Capture Bi-District Crown

Despite losing sixteen starters from the '84 8AAAA district championship team, the 1985 Fighting Carthage Bulldogs captured the Bi-District crown. The season started with a 35-12 mauling of the Atlanta Rabbits in a game that was delayed by a thunderstorm. The Bulldog offense racked up 349 yards. Sammy Buffin gained 145 yards while Jeff Jones added 150. Tyrone Burroughs and Marcus McLemore were leaders for the defense.

The Bulldogs then put the bang on the 1984 regional AAA champs, the Gladewater Bears. Going into the game the Bears were ranked tenth in AAA state-wide, but the Bulldogs beat them 37-20. The Bulldogs rushed and passed for 319 yards, scoring five touchdowns and a field goal. The defense was led by Mark Calhoun and Stephen Anderson.

son.

The Bulldogs then traveled to San Augustine to demolish the Wolves 35-0. The offense raked up 417 yards and scored four touchdowns in the second half. Jeff Jones had the most yards with 171. The Bulldog secondary allowed only eleven completions on twenty-five attempts. Jack Parker led the defense with eleven tackles.

After winning the first three games easily, the Bulldogs went into Mt. Pleasant ranked tenth in the state. The Tigers apparently were not impressed by ratings as they handed the Bulldogs a 24-7 upset. Even though the score was one-sided, the Tigers had only 50 more total yards than the Dogs. Turnovers demolished the only chances the Dogs had of winning.

The 1985 Homecoming game pitted the Bulldogs against the Center Roughriders and fans were apprehensive about the Bulldogs chances of returning to the playoffs. The Bulldogs showed it was too early to give up on them by beating the Roughriders 28-19. Quarterback Mike Castleberry gathered 112 yards for the Dog offense while Jack Parker had eleven tackles and a 35-yard touchdown interception for the defense.

The Bulldogs went into district play with a 4-1 record.

The Dogs ended the regular season as zone runner-up and advanced into the state playoffs. The Dogs took the district title by beating Kilgore 15-9. The Bulldogs traveled to Mesquite and handed the McKinney Lions a 21-14 defeat to become Bi-District champs before losing to Westlake 17-0 in the region championship game.

Carthage Bulldogs

CHS 14 Henderson 28

Carthage opened to zone play with a 28-14 loss to the eventual zone champions, the Henderson Lions. Questionable calls, unnecessary penalties, and turnovers destroyed the Bulldogs' chances of winning the game. Henderson scored twenty-one points in the first half but were held to only seven during the second half. This was the turning point for the Bulldog defense.

CHS 28 Chapel Hill 6

Carthage roused Chapel Hill 28-6 in their best offensive showing all year. The offensive allowed the Carthage backs to amass 400 yards rushing. Jeff Jones had the best offensive yardage with 180 and two touchdowns, while David Willie gained 136 yards. Lonnie Monson, Chris Medlin, and Jack Parker had the best defensive numbers.

CHS 14 Athens 14

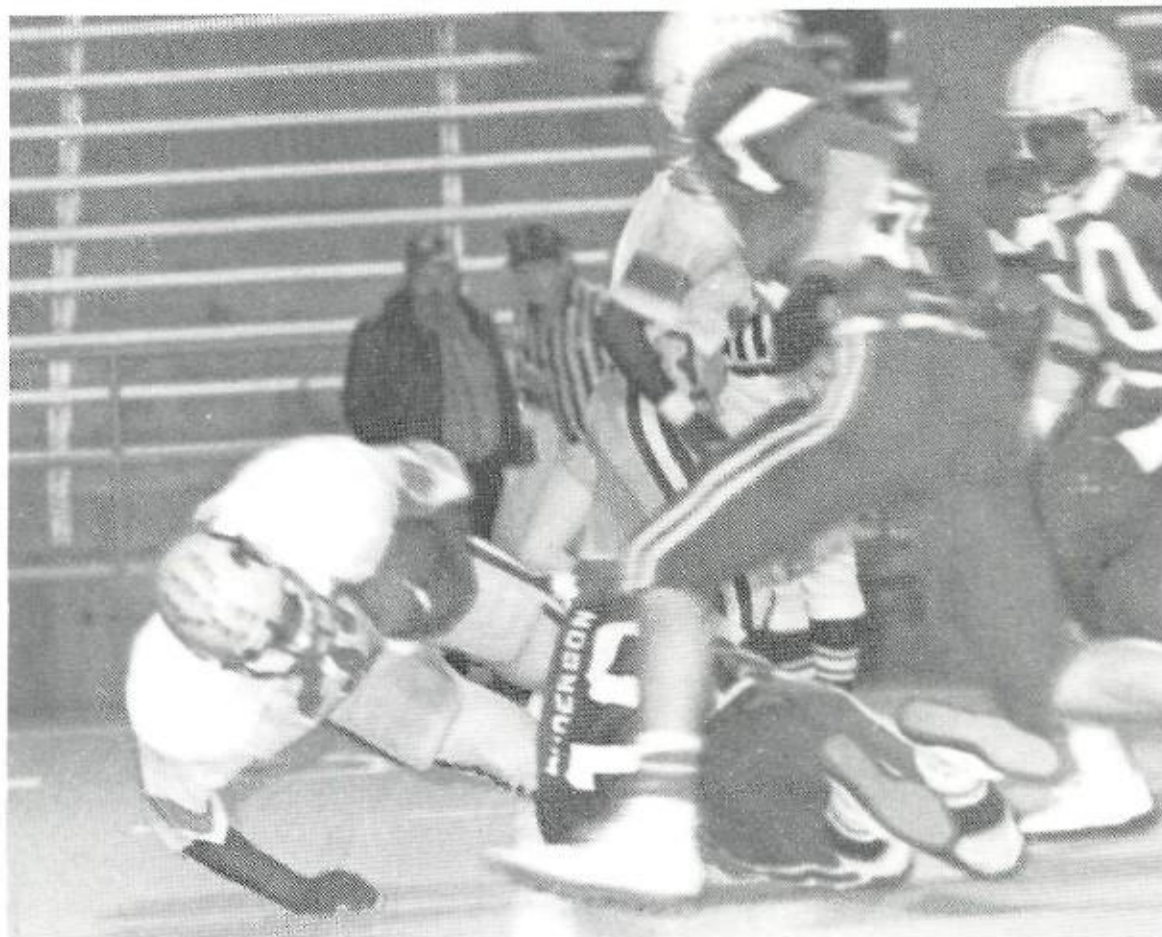

The Bulldogs outnumbered the Athens Hornets statistically most 2 to 1, but the Bulldogs and the Hornets deadlocked at 14 points each. However, Carthage won with more penetrations. This fact eventually placed the Bulldogs into the playoffs. The Bulldogs racked up 14 points early and then failed to put any more points on the board. David Willie led the Bulldogs on offense with 118 yards, while Jack Parker led the defense with nine tackles.

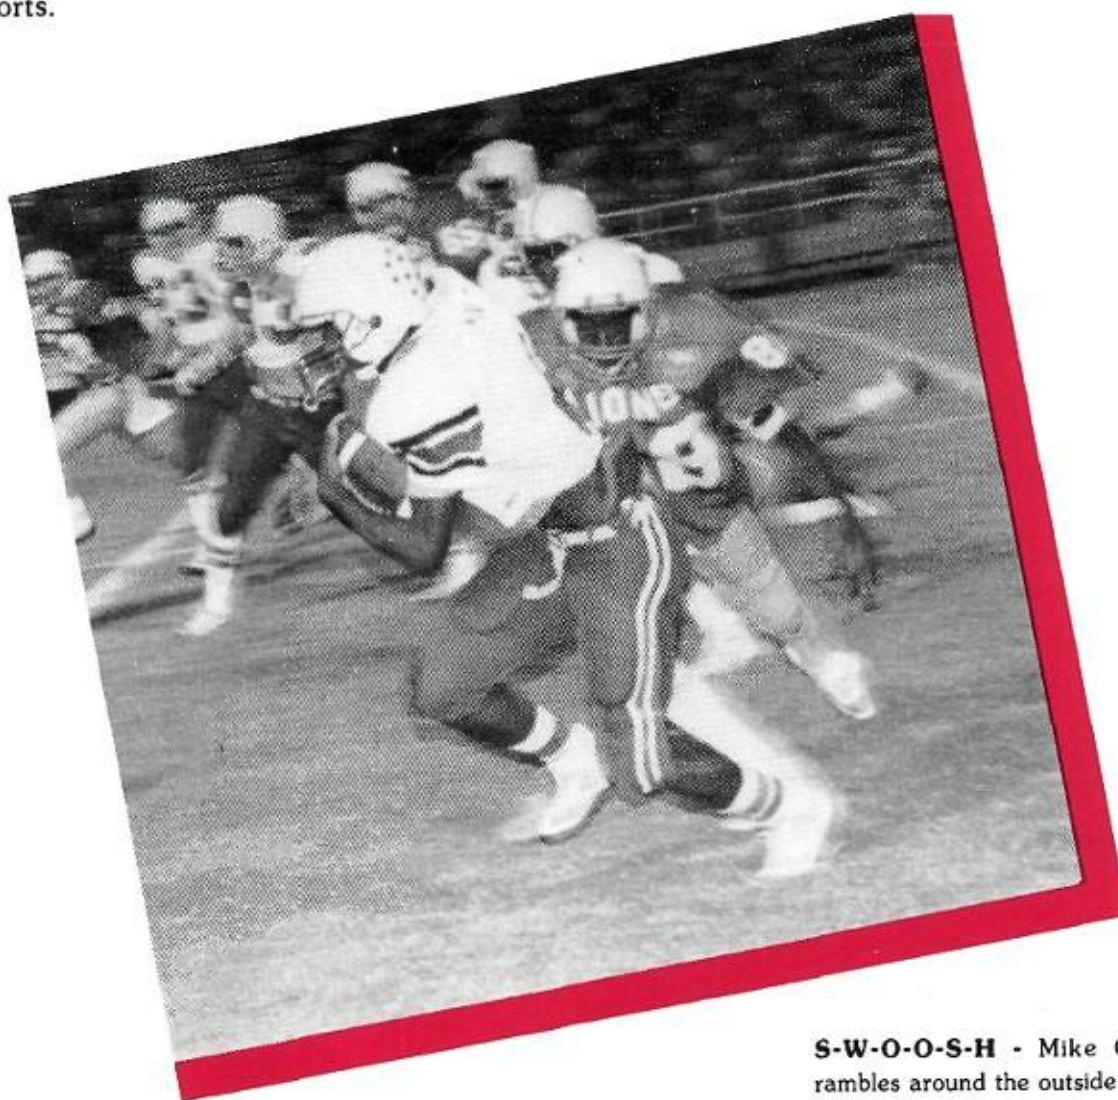

CHS 43 Palestine 14

The Bulldog defense knew it was in for a busy night going into the game against Ivory Brown, the leading rusher in Northeast Texas, averaging close to 125 yards a game. The Bulldogs rose to the occasion by allowing Ivory only 6 yards on seven carries before putting him out for the remainder of the evening with an injury. The Bulldogs gave the Wildcats a nice 43-14 Halloween present. The Wildcats ended the night with 43 yards total offense, while the Bulldogs had 349 yards. Sammy Buffin scored four touchdowns and 131 yards. For defense, Chris Medlin recovered a fumble in the endzone for a touchdown and nailed eleven tackles. Medlin was named East Texas Player of the Week for his defensive efforts.

The Battling Bulldogs traveled to Mesquite to host the McKinney Lions in the Bi-District game at Memorial Stadium.

After falling behind 14-0 in the first quarter, the Dogs came out on top due to the holding power of the defense. The Lions were denied the goal line four times, twice in the last four minutes of the game.

Sophomore Frank Chadwick recovered a fumble in the end zone to insure a Bulldog victory. Mike Castleberry was the big rusher for the Dogs with 130 yards and two touchdowns.

The Bulldogs won the Bi-District crown with a 21-14 score.

The Bulldogs traveled to College Station during the Thanksgiving holidays to play the Westlake Chapparals, the Dogs' last adversaries of the season. On a slippery Kyle Field, the Bulldogs just could not manage to put the ball in the end zone and lost 17-0 despite a mere 28 yard total offensive edge to the Chapparals. The Dogs did not come up with the big play they had relied on all season.

The Dogs ended the 1985 season at the regional playoffs against Westlake who continued to the semi-finals where they were defeated by the 4-A champions, Sweetwater.

Six Chosen All-District

At the end of a successful season, the Bulldogs had six players make the first team All-District. Defensive players honored were Lonnie Simonson, linebacker; Mark Calhoun, defensive lineman; and Chris Medlin, defensive end. Offensively, Todd Griffith was chosen as a guard, T J Pelton as a tackle, and Sammy Buffin as a running back.

Players making the All-District second team were Mike Castleberry, Scott Brown, Marcus McLemore, Jeff Jones, Alan Apple, Jack Parker, Bobby Baker, and Stephen Anderson. Honorable mention All-District were Bill Huff, Kerry Allison, Jason Ballenger, Scott Page, Todd Bogenschutz, and Fonta Castleberry.

The Dogs also placed five players on the All-East Texas team. Pelton made the first team while Griffith made the second team. Simonson, Calhoun, and Medlin were honorably mentioned. Pelton was also named to the third team All-State.

The Junior Varsity Bulldogs finished third in district play with an 8-2 record.

The highpoint of the season was the Mt. Pleasant game in which the Dogs came from behind, 0-17, to defeat the Tigers, 21-17.

Henry Hollie, a running back who gained 1600 yards rushing for the year, helped the JV to break a 6-6 tie with Chapel Hill during district play. With only three seconds left, Hollie bolted 70 yards to break the tie, 12-6.

Defensively, Donald Bryant was the big-play man to whom Coach Stan Davis turned. 'They matured and learned a great deal about character and football against some tough opponents,' said Coach Davis.

Freshmen Tie For Second

The Freshmen tied Henderson for second place in district. Offensive action produced 133 points for the season while defensively the frosh allowed only 78 points to be scored against them.

After long, hot two-a-day summer practices, the freshman squad wanted to prove their abilities on the field. The early 14-0 loss to Gladewater was an eye-opener for the young players. Coaches Doug Reed and Mike Baysinger prepared heavily for the next game with Mt. Pleasant which the Dogs won 20-6. The winning streak continued through games with Center, Chapel Hill, and Athens, while the Henderson game ended in a 7-7 tie.

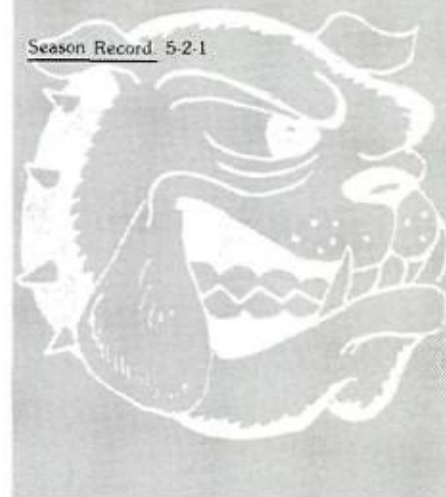

The best offensive effort of the season came in the Palestine game in which the offense scored five touchdowns to win 33-14.

The final showdown with Jacksonville began as a blowout with the score being 20-7 in favor of the Indians. However, the freshman squad came back to establish a 20-18 final score.

Dogs Improve

The varsity basketball team won two third place trophies at the Carthage and the Gladewater tournaments as a result of difficult practices and long shooting sessions.

The squad placed fourth in the Waco-Midway tournament, playing against highly-rated teams from all over Texas. The Bulldogs beat Grapeland, a team ranked in the top ten in 2-A and Midway-Waco, another highly-rated team.

The Bulldogs began district with a 10-10 won/lost record. The first district game was against Henderson on their home court. 'We really wanted that game,' said Warren Castleberry. The game went right down to the wire. A Lion hit a shot with about 8 seconds left, giving them a two-point lead. This was a disappointing loss for the Dogs. 'I feel this loss really hurt us, because we wanted to win so badly,' said Senior Michael Castleberry.

After the Henderson loss, the Dogs continued the district season and finished with a 3-7 record. The highlight of the district schedule was the defeat of Henderson in the second round of play to the delight of an enthusiastic audience.

The season as a whole was much improved. 'We really improved over last year,' said Coach Gary Surratt, 'and the future looks even better.'

Players Shine

With the Bulldogs improving with each game, the players' individual statistics improved as well. Shooting the lights out of the nets, Mike Castleberry scored 469 points and was the leading scorer on the team. He scored a total of 137 points in district play alone. His average was 17 points a game. Mike was chosen by the coaches as honorable mention for the all-district team.

The second leading scorer was Warren Castleberry, an all-district team member, with 380 points. Clearing the boards were Kenneth Robinson with 125 offensive rebounds and 157 defensive rebounds. Kenneth also was honorably mentioned for the all-district team. The leader in assists was Mike Castleberry with 80 for the season.

JV Faces Tough Competition

The junior varsity basketball team finished the season with an overall record of 8-14. The district record was 3-7. Three of the district losses were by two points of less.

Coach Stan Davis had high expectations for the team but noted that they lacked confidence in their abilities to win. 'We were competitive even though our record did not reflect it,' said Coach Davis.

Dogs Have Disappointing Season

Coached by Steve Zurline, the girls varsity basketball team placed fourth in district with a record of 7-17. Eight of the losses were by 5 points or less.

Senior Susan Scott led the team in scoring while Susie Davis made the most steals and assists. The most rebounds were pulled down by Gale Osborn.

The highlight of the '86 season was the Henderson game. The team really had it all together that night. Coach Zurline said, 'The girls pulled together. They wanted to win and they did.'

The most exciting games were played against Marshall and Palestine. 'In both games, I felt like our opponents had the edge in the talent category, but we had the edge in desire, hustle, and attitude. The girls played hard and as well as they were capable of playing,' said Zurline.

The team will remember this season for the way they fought back after going 0-12 early in the season. By the end of district play, they had fought back to a good position to place in district. In the final game of the season, the girls were in the hunt for a playoff berth with Athens.

Although the Lady Dogs had a rough and disappointing season, the year was enjoyable for the team members. They learned how to 'hold the rope.'

Patience Pays

'Dedication + Hard Work + Intensity = Success,' said Girls' Junior Varsity Basketball Coach Sue Donohoe when describing her '85-'86 Lady Dogs.

Only by coming together as a unit and patiently straightening out the kinks in their game did the team capture second place in district.

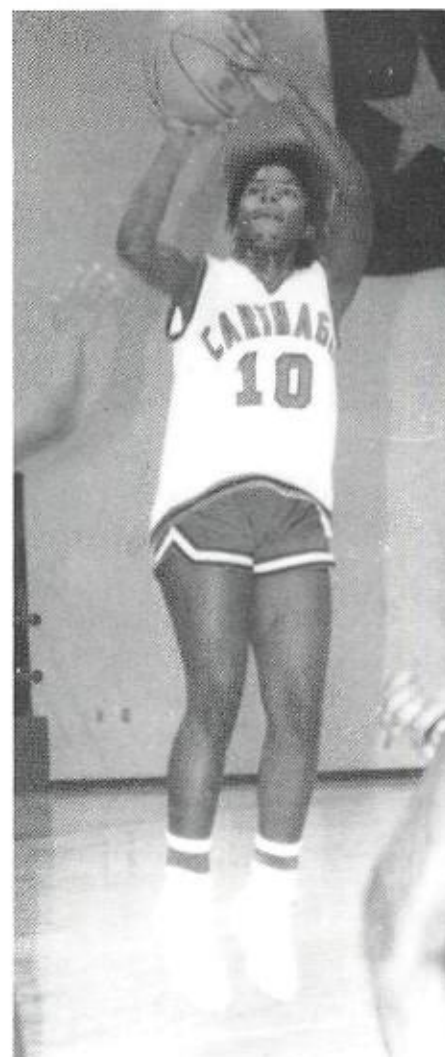

The girls had an outstanding desire to learn and be coached to better themselves and their performances. 'It was rewarding to work hard to accomplish a goal and then see it happen in a game,' said Donohoe.

While the players adjusted to the coach's expectations, Miss Donohoe was also forced to submit to regulations, such as the new bench decorum rule. During the games, coaches were not allowed to leave their seats to wander along the sideline. The consequences were a technical foul. 'That was a tough one for me,' said Donohoe.

Working as a team, the players took time to overcome weaknesses and to strengthen themselves in their abilities. The results were not only a winning season, but also a good foundation for future athletic pursuits.

Frosh Tied Up

Coached by Mike Baysinger, the freshman girls' team finished with a 12-2 season to make them co-champions with Henderson for the district title.

According to Coach Baysinger, Antonio Robertson and Andy Apple were the team leaders. 'The girls looked up to these players and felt as long as they were playing well, the team would win,' said Baysinger.

The highlight of the season was winning the Carthage freshman tournament. This gave the girls the confidence they needed before district play began.

In the championship game of the John Tyler tournament, the girls gained lots of experience. 'It was the first time we were really challenged and the team learned they could play at a higher intensity and pushed hard to play well,' said Baysinger.

The strength of the team lay in their individual natural abilities and their undying 'want to'. Baysinger said, 'Self discipline was a problem, but with my pushing, there was some motivation to improve themselves.'

The team overcame its weaknesses to pull together to finish in a tie for first place.

Track Takes District Title

Henry Hollie represented the varsity track team at the state meet in Austin as he competed in the 110-meter hurdles. He placed third in the state meet after having placed first in the regional meet to qualify.

At the beginning of the track season, Coach Groves felt that the team could do well. 'We had an outside chance of winning district. It was a team effort that made us succeed,' he said.

The team captured the district title, a first for CHS, with first place performances by Anthony Jones, Billy Brent, Jeff Jones, and David Willie in the 400-meter relay; Scott Brown in the shot put and discus; Sammy Buffin in the long jump; Anthony Jones in the 100- and 200-meter dashes; and Henry Hollie in two hurdle events.

JV Finishes in the Middle

The Bulldogs junior varsity track team had a successful season, placing in 11 events at the district meet and finishing third overall in the district.

Derrick Jones won the long jump, the 100-meter dash, the 200-meter dash, and the 400-meter relay. Other members of the winning relay team were Jerry Castleberry, Raydell Pipkin, and Kelvin Willie.

Second place finishes went to Darius Gates in the pole vault and Matt Reed, Raydell Pipkin, Roderick Jones, and Theo Hodge in the 1600-meter relay. Placing third were Raydell Pipkin in the long jump and Darron Allison in the 800-meter dash. Others placing were David Allen, Roderick Jones, Jerry Castleberry, and Theo Hodge.

Boys Lose Out

The boys' cross country team consisted of seniors Gary Cassity and Jason Gibert and juniors Patrick Henigan and Todd Robinson. Although not very many boys ran this year, these four put their minds to it and ran as fast and as hard as they could. They did not have a full-time coach so when they traveled with the girls' cross country team, Coach Steve Zurline instructed them.

The boys placed second in district, but could not advance to regionals because they did not have the required number of runners to form a team. Hard work and personal discipline was an evident source for success for these four athletes.

Osborn, Kyle Win District

'Because of the early spring weather, coaching track in East Texas is a pleasure,' said Girls' Track Coach Steve Zurline at the All-Sports Banquet.

This season was especially enjoyable because miler Kit Kyle and Gale Osborn, the shop put and discus district champion, went to the regional meet in Conroe. Osborn placed third in the shot put while Kyle placed sixth in the mile.

At the district track meet held in Carthage, the girls' team earned two first place medals, one second place medal, one third place medal, eight fourth place medals and four sixth place medals despite an afternoon thunderstorm.

The girls participated in several meets before district, including Kilgore, Hallsville, Tatum, Henderson, and the Gas Capital Relays.

'The girls worked hard and improved their times each meet. They put a lot of heart into running,' said Coach Sue Donohoe.

Catch The Wind

Coached by Steve Zurline, the girls' cross country team made their way to San Jacinto for the regional meet by winning first place in district 8-AAAAA at Kilgore.

The team was led by the more experienced runners, Michelle Sneed and Kit Kyle. Coach Zurline stated, 'They led us through by setting good examples of competitiveness.' Polly Knight, Lawanda Smith, Angie Williams, Andy Apple and Debbie Kasper were the other members of the team.

'The most outstanding thing about the '85 season was the overall hard work and dedication put into the program by the ladies,' said Zurline.

The strength of the team was that were able to have seven very competitive runners who pushed each other hard in practice and competition. Their only weakness was that some of the runners lacked cross country experience.

The team had many memorable moments such as facing the downpour at the Potlatch run and running in the mud and slop at regionals and then getting strange looks from the desk clerk at the Hilton as they tracked seven muddy bodies through the lobby back to their rooms.

The girls' cross country team won district and advanced to regionals where they placed seventh out of fifteen teams. 'They were a closeknit team who really cared about each other. It was a great season,' said Zurline.

Golfers Tee Off

The boys' golf team experienced an interesting season in which they finished fifth in the district.

In the Carthage tournament, they came away with second place. The team effort was led by Rusty Robinett with an 86 average.

The junior varsity girls' team was comprised of first-year players who improved throughout the season. Several of these girls showed talent and should prove to be varsity material next year.

Girls Go To State

The varsity girls' golf team won the district championship for the first time in the history of CHS. They went on to take second in the regional tournament at Madisonville which sent them to the state tournament in Austin.

The team finished second in all their meets, except one in which they finished third.

Susie Davis won medalist honors at every meet. In the regional meet, she won only after a 4-hole playoff.

Seniors Jerri Long and Darla Youngblood had exceptional seasons to complete their high school careers, according to Coach Wade Youngblood.

CHS Serves Their Way To The Top

The tennis team practiced hard all season in hopes of coming home with all the honors in the district meet. However, their luck seemed to run out.

In district team tennis, the team advanced to regional play in Friendswood.

In the individual standings, Stephanie Mitchell placed second in the district tournament in girls' singles, while in boys' singles Ali Ghiassi went for it all in the junior varsity district match.

Lisa Morgan and Matt Evatt were honored with the Mary Robinson Sportsmanship Award at the scholarship assembly. At the All-Sports Banquet, Stephanie Mitchell was presented a trophy for the most consistent winning as a singles player and Lindsly and Evatt were recognized as the most consistent doubles team. Finally, Ali Ghiassi was named Most Dedicated Team Member.

The Carthage Bulldog varsity baseball team finished the season with an 18-8 record. The Dogs won the zone title with a record of 9-1; their only defeat came against Chapel Hill.

The Bulldogs played Hallsville for the district title in a best of three series. The Dogs won the first game 4-3, but lost the second and third games, 4-5 and 1-4.

Coach Scott Lee was honored as the coach of the year and Fonte Castleberry was named the player of the year at the district meeting.

The Dogs placed ten on the all-district team. First team all-district were Timmy Wilkerson, pitcher; Kenneth Smith, catcher; Jason Gibert, infielder; and Daniel Davis, designated hitter. Players named to the second team included Bill Huff, Marcus Collins, and Todd Alexander. Receiving honorable mention were Chris Stacy, Rusty Robinett, and Lonnie Simonson.

J. V. Baseball

Matures

The junior varsity baseball team, coached by Bill Pickens, earned a 7-4-3 record this year.

Only two sophomores participated on the junior varsity team while the remainder were freshmen. The players matured as the season progressed and improved with each game according to Coach Pickens.

There was not much pressure on the boys to win games.

The coaches worked around the boys' schedules as much as possible. The important thing was improving individual skills and abilities.

Each player got some playing time in every game so that everyone received game experience. The coaches believed that this special attention and effort will pay off in seasons to come.

Spirit Continues Into Banquet

The '85 football season was celebrated with a banquet sponsored by the booster club members. A record-breaking crowd attended to hear former Bulldog quarterback Audrey McMillan, a professional Houston Oiler, speak to the aspiring athletes about the importance of education and goals.

Coach Sleepy Reynolds recognized the outstanding players of the year. Brad 'Red' Kent received a standing ovation as he was awarded the sportsmanship trophy. The Offensive Lineman of the Year was T J Pelton, Sammy Buffin was named the Offensive Back of the Year, and Lonnie Simonson accepted the Forcing Unit of the Year award.

Stephen Allison was recognized as the Defensive Back of the Year while Michael Castleberry was named Most Valuable Player.

A $1500 scholarship award sponsored by the Texas Coaches Association and Athletic Supply, was presented to Chris Stacy who also walked away with the Academic Award. Frank Chadwick was chosen as the Sophomore of the Year by the coaches.

The climax of the evening was the introduction of the 'Dawg Power Spirit Towel' by the booster club and football players. They demonstrated how they were to be used to indicate support for the 'winning tradition'.

Reynolds Tells All-Coach Everett Reynolds relates a story about Audrey McMillan's early career as Bulldog quarterback to Mrs. Reynolds and M. McMillan.

How To Succeed-Audrey McMillan, Houston Oiler and guest speaker at the banquet, shares his experiences in succeeding in life through education.

And Who Had The Chicken?-Ben Roberson appreciates the excellent service he receives from Mr. Charles Newton, who is moonlighting for that extra bit of money as a waiter.

Big Winners-Coach Everett Reynolds stands with Sophomore of the Year Frank Chadwick; Offensive Lineman of the Year, T J Pelton; Sportsmanship winner, Brad Kent; and Defensive Back of the Year, Stephen Anderson.

Congratulations-Standing with Coach Reynolds are Offensive Back of the Year, Sammy Buffin; Most Valuable Player, Michael Castleberry; Forcing Unit Player of the Year, Lonnie Simonson; and Scholastic Award and Scholarship recipient, Chris Stacy.

Standing Room Only-Every seat was occupied at the banquet, proving that the banquet was a tremendous success.

And The Winner Is . . .-Coach Reynolds gives Brad Kent the Sportsmanship Award while Bobby Baker and the rest of the Bulldogs give him a standing ovation.

Sports Banquet Honors Athletes

The All-Sports Banquet honored athletes from the spring sports, including basketball, golf, tennis, and track. Baseball awards were not included because the season was still in progress.

In boys' basketball, Michael Castleberry was named the player of the year, Warren Castleberry was voted most improved, and Kenneth Robinson was given the defensive player of the year award.

Susan Scott was named the most valuable on the girls' team, while Cammy Phillips was recognized as the most improved player. Debbie Kasper was given the fighting heart award. Kit Kyle was honored as the most valuable girl on the junior varsity basketball team.

Rusty Robinett and Susie Davis were named the most valuable boy and girl by the golf teams, and Jerri Long was chosen as the most improved golfer.

The tennis team voted Lisa Morgan and Matt Evatt as the most valuable players and Ali Ghiassi was named most dedicated. Stephanie Mitchell, Johnny Lindsly, and Matt Evatt tied for the most consistent honor.

Anthony Jones was honored as the most valuable senior on the boys' track team. Henry Hollie was named most valuable runner and Scott Borwn was named the most valuable field event athlete. Maureen Balachandran was chosen the most valuable senior by the girls' track team while Kit Kyle was given the most valuable runner honor. Gale Osborn was recognized as the most valuable field event athlete.

CHS students really shone as they participated in organization activities at local, district, regional, and state events. Belonging to a club gave students opportunities to pursue their individual interests and hobbies whether it was riding bulls, programming computers, or designing clothes. Participation in a club also allowed students to spend time with friends outside the academic restrictions, playing and working together. Traveling to state conferences and conventions highlighted students' experiences and added adventure to the humdrum of the spring semester.

Students looked forward to club meeting days as a time to get out of class and as a time to learn valuable skills. Serving as an officer of an organization taught leadership and responsibility. Organizing club meetings and conducting sessions using parliamentary skills helped develop life skills for future citizen participation. Visiting with sponsors and fellow club members improved social skills as well. Members also learned the importance of working together to insure the success of an organization, especially in fund raising projects. Club days were definitely something to anticipate.

Cheerleaders Arouse Dawg Spirit

Too Hot To Handle There's Absolutely No Doubt...

The varsity and junior varsity cheerleading squads kept spirit alive and growing among the Bulldog fans during the year. Cheerleaders were chosen by a panel of judges and elected by the student body in April. They immediately began gymnastic classes with Coach Paul Prince, and they continued practicing throughout the summer. Camp at Southern Methodist University earned them blue ribbons in tough competition.

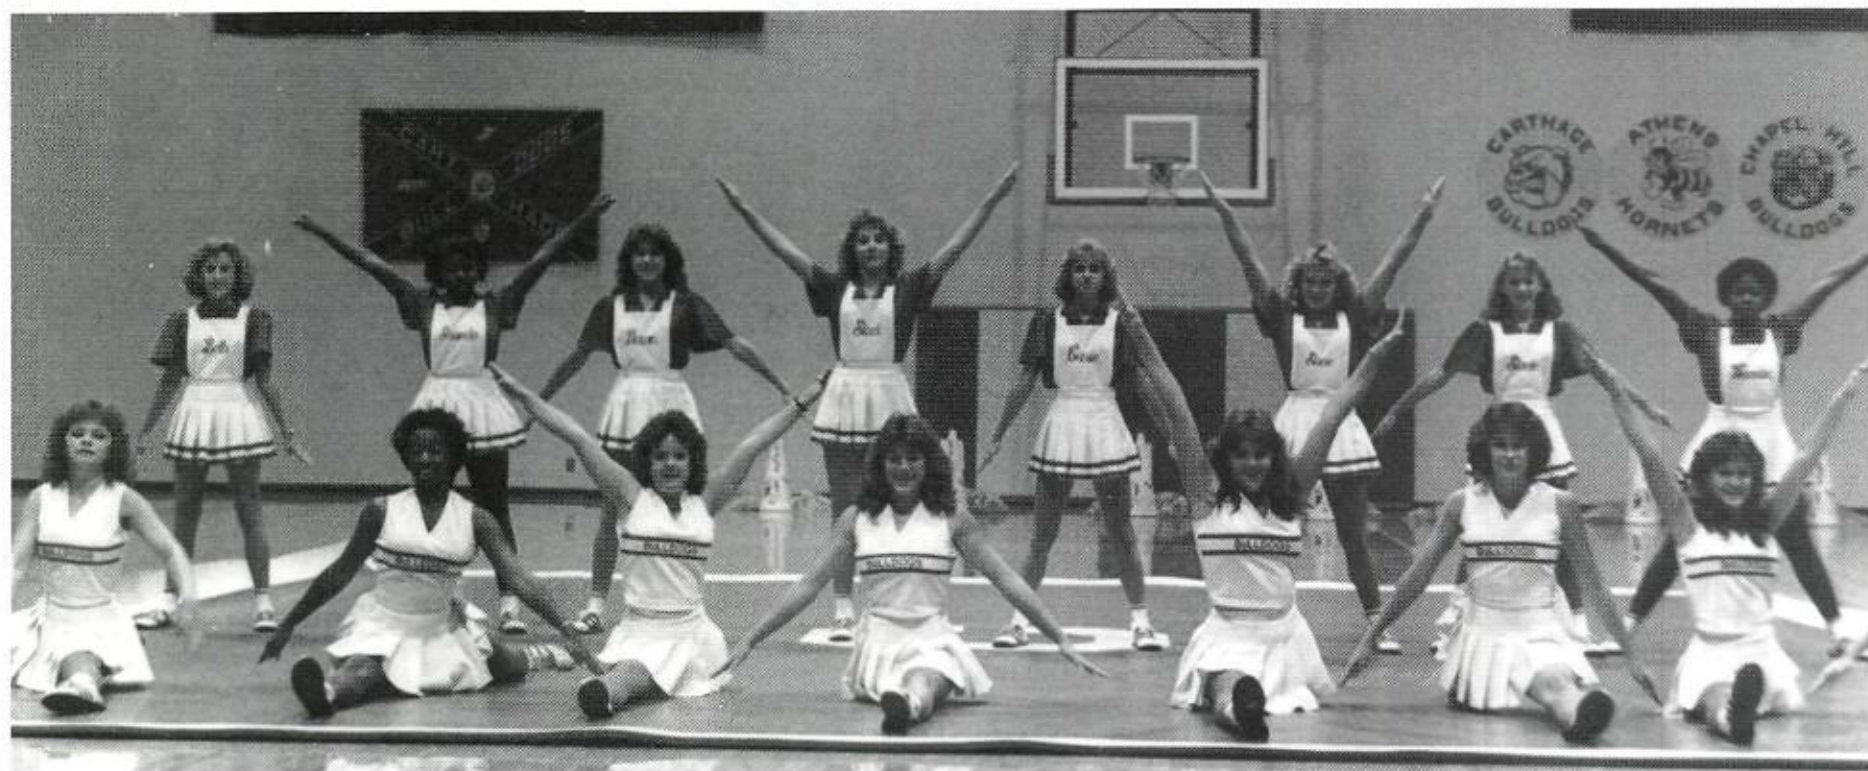

As football season began, the cheering squads organized pep rallies and painted spirit and run-through signs for every game. They even served ice cream to the teams after practice.

The highlight of the season occurred at the final football game. Both squads cheered at the regional playoff contest in Kyle Field at Texas A & M University.

Always Grinning-The cheerleaders flash those winning smiles that always fired up the fans.

Singers Accentuate the Positive

Choir members began early in the year, practicing and preparing for pleasing performances.

A brand new group, the CHS Accents, was organized by Mrs. June Lewis, choir director, as an additional performing group. The small, up-beat group performed at several functions, including the Sesquicentennial festival, Kiwanis and Lions Club meetings, and the Texas Public School Week breakfast.

At practices, individuals with good singing abilities spent time trying to blend as a group. The intensity of the rehearsals and the extra effort put forth by every member was rewarded as the group won a number one rating at concert contest held at CHS in April.

A-One, and A-Two, and A-Three- Madonna McClure served the senior class as song leader by applying what she had learned in choir classes.

FTA Continues

The Future Teachers of America Club sold silk homecoming mums during October to raise funds for a scholarship to be awarded to a deserving member of the local organization.

The recipient was announced by club sponsor, Mrs. Norma Jennings at the scholarship assembly in May. Senior Audrey Tate received the scholarship that would cover fees and tuition to Panola Junior College for two years.

FTA boasted 57 members, making it one of the largest clubs on campus. Members served as hosts for the annual Open House.

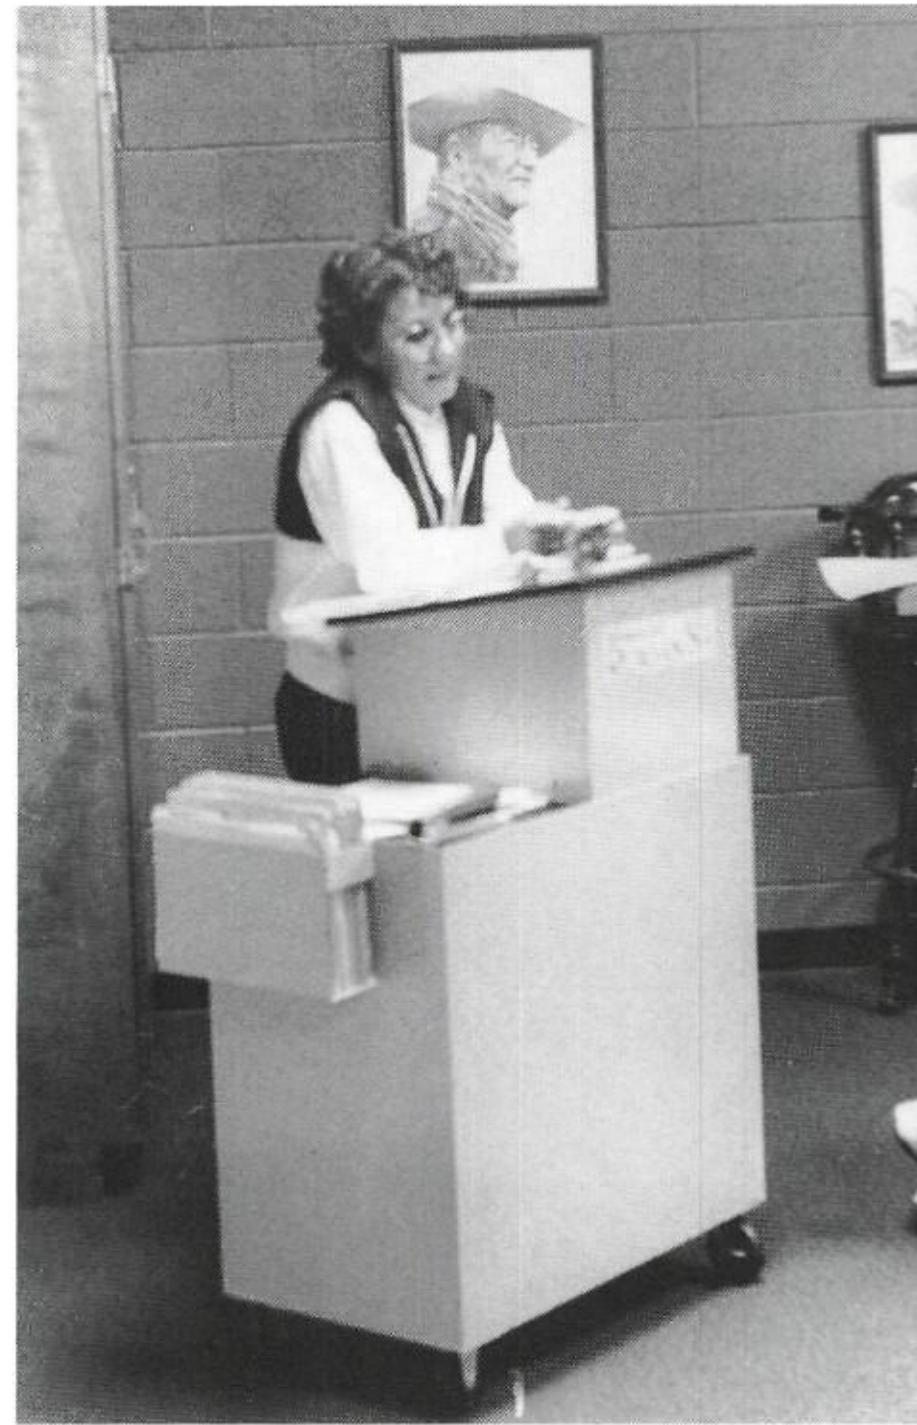

Six members attended state convention where they learned about different aspects of teaching, attended a dance, and helped elect the new state officers.

History-Making Bands Perform

The Carthage High School band went to concert/sightreading contest April 24. Both bands made straight 1's.

Following the annual contest, all the bands combined in the gymnasium to perform the spring concert on May 12. The boys wore coats and ties while the girls were decked out in formals. During the concert, the directors presented awards. The grand finale was a rendition of 'Texas, Our Texas', performed by all bands from junior high and high school.

Dancing Till It Hurts

Sharon Bird served as the choreographer for the twirlers and flag corps. Their work never seemed to end; many times they worked on their various routines and then had to go to band practice for another two hours.

These performers had to be persistent with their work to have many different routines ready throughout the year for halftime performances. Some of the songs they twirled and danced to were 'Wake Me Up Before You Go-Go', 'Easy Lover', and 'Barbara Ann'. The

Hard Work Pays

Susan Scott was the first band member selected from CHS since 1981 to play in the all-state band in San Antonio. To attain this honor, Susan tried out against 20 French horn artists in district competition. She placed fifth in the all-district band. Then in the all-area contest she qualified for state by placing third.

For three months, Susan practiced to prepare for state competition. She placed ninth in the all-state contest. 'I was really shocked when they told me I made it. It was a great thrill,' said Susan.

She's So Proud-Susan Scott shows off her all-state patch on her band jacket.

All-Area Qualifiers-Nathan Hanlon, Susan Scott, and Tom Warren qualified to advance to the all-area contest in their individual sections.

Band Breathes Sigh of Relief

Each band member breathed a well-earned sigh of relief as rigorous marching practices gave way to concert rehearsals. During concert season, the band proved that the honors and awards they won were the direct results of hard work and practice. After weeks of steady concert preparation, the band presented a spring concert consisting of 'In Storm and Sunshine' by J.C. Heed; 'A Jubilant Overture' by Alfred Reed; and 'The Third Suite' by Robert E. Jager. The band won excellent ratings in most of the contests they entered, and were a shining asset to the school.

What a Pair!

Seniors Wesley Smith and Susan Scott were chosen by the band members to be the Band Beau and Sweetheart. The announcement was made in November during a football game halftime show.

During her senior year, Susan participated in all-region, all-area, and all-state competitions and played in solo and ensemble contests for four years. She was named outstanding freshman, sophomore, and junior bandsman, and she served as band president. Her reaction to being chosen sweetheart was typical. 'I was excited and happy. It is neat to receive an honor like this from your friends,' she said.

Wesley participated in all-region and state solo and ensemble contests as well. He was also thrilled to get this honor. 'The part I liked best was the presentation of the congratulatory kiss,' said Wesley.

Band Shines All the Time

Preparation for halftime performances and marching contest began in August with Band Camp at Broken Bow, Oklahoma. This week was spent teaching marching fundamentals and learning music for the drills, plus time for fun and recreation.

After returning from camp, two hours were spent each Monday night practicing for the halftime performances.

As marching contest drew near, tensions rose as perfection was expected in order to make a superior rating. Debbie Taylor sums up her feeling of the night of contest, 'I was just hoping we would make a 'I' and start the tradition again.'

There were tears of joy and sighs of relief when the judge made the announcement of the superior rating.

The People Who Made It Possible-

Veteran Band Director C. G. Bowie; Twirler and Flag Director Sharon Bird; Head Band Director Stuart Bird; and Concert Band Director Dewayne Hubbard work long hours to keep up the spirit of the Bulldog band.

Say Cheese!-The band officers are Susan Scott, president; Dana Brady, vice-president; Betty Kyle, historian; and Tom Warren, secretary/treasurer.

Student Council Leads the Way

All Grins-Student Council officers were Brad Jackson, president; Dana Ritter, vice president; John Paul Davis, secretary; and Shannon Smith, treasurer.

Student Council representatives and officers were the busiest and most involved people in the school. 'Yet, it is those students who have the most to do that you can always count on to get the job done,' said Mr. Charles Newton, Student Council sponsor. This year's council got the job done.

Council members sponsored various fund-raising events during the year. The most ambitious project was the collection of over $600 to purchase Duke, the school mascot. Another money project was the Kiss-A-Pig contest. Several teachers were chosen to participate. The one receiving the most contributions was given the opportunity to kiss a real, live, squealing pig during halftime of a basketball game. Coach Pickens bestowed the resounding smack to the delight of a packed gym.

During Homecoming Week, the council hosted a spirit contest which the senior class won. They also conducted the pregame ceremony in which the homecoming queen was crowned.

In addition, members participated in The Great American Smokeout by adopting a teacher who smoked for the day to help them overcome the habit.

To provide funds for the E. Metz LaFollette Scholarship, the student council sponsored a western picture day for students.

Hey, Duke!-Andy Shutt, Audrey Tate, Teri Wallace, Steven Anderson, and Billy Brent spend a few minutes getting acquainted with Duke before a pep rally.

Busy As A Bee-Betty Kyle exhibits her characteristically busy nature as she boosts the senior class into a winning lead during the money game of spirit week.

Just My Size-Lucky President Brad Jackson and Lori Rhiddlehoover agree that the homecoming crown is just Dana's size.

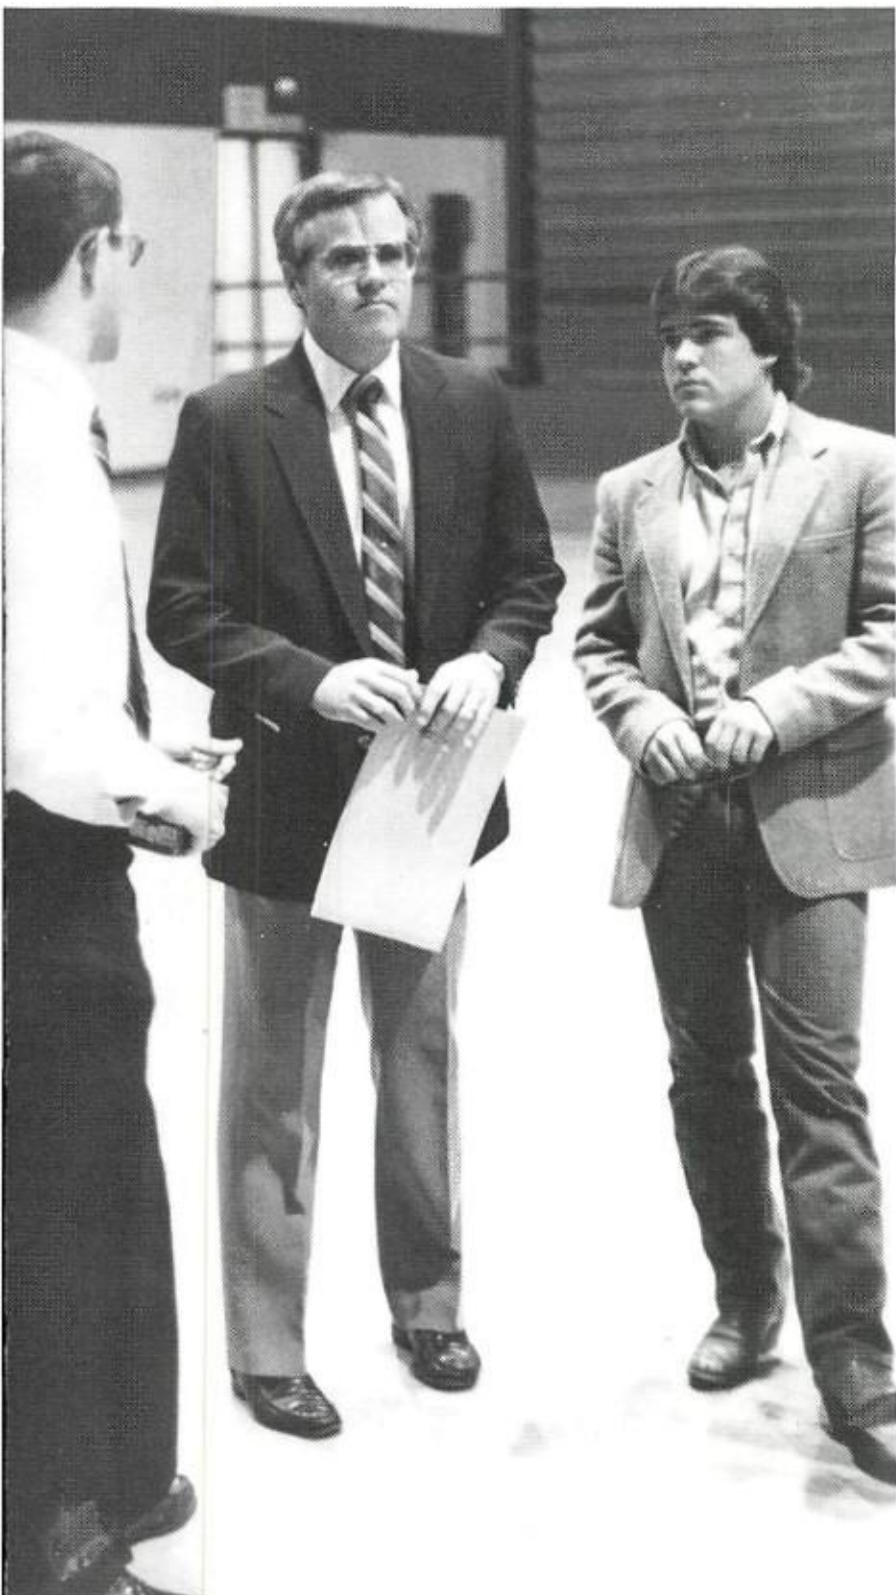

Who Was That?-Mr. Newton, student council sponsor, is evidently astonished by the student body's attitude during a pep rally.

Thank You Very Much-Brad Jackson, council president, gladly accepts a check from John Paul Davis, president of the Key Club, as a donation for the scholarship fund.

Key Club Continues To Shine

The CHS Key Club worked hard throughout the year performing various service projects for the community.

This year's club, made up of over 80 students, sponsored several dances, including the annual sweetheart dance at Valentine's to honor the four club sweethearts, Amy Abernathy, Trela Thomas, Angie Skelton, and Staci Bush.

The club also decorated the football stadium for the Homecoming festivities and sponsored two booths at Potlatch to sell soft drinks. The proceeds from the various fundraisers went to send thirty club members to the state convention in Dallas.

Key Club also gave money to the local Camp Fire Girls program to help them build playground equipment.

As for charity, the Key Club answered phones for the annual MDA Telethon and traveled door to door collecting local donations that in turn helped crippled children.

Key Club worked closely with the local Kiwanis, and the members of the club had excellent opportunities to help others, meet new people, support the school and community, gain recognition, and have a great time.

Key Club Officers-Louis Zanolli, parliamentarian; John Paul Davis, president; Brian Pasquier, region 4 lieutenant governor; Robert Duke, treasurer; Toni Rider, vice president; and Amy Abernathy, secretary.

Key Club Sweethearts-Senior Amy Abernathy, Junior Trela Thomas, Sophomore Angie Skelton, and Freshman Staci Bush serve as club sweethearts.

What's Your Opinion?-John Paul Davis consults Mr. Cariker about the club's next project.

Sign In Please-Angie Skelton hurriedly signs her name before the meeting begins.

I Think We Should-Robert Duke shares fund raising ideas with fellow Key Clubbers.

Friends Forever-Trela Thomas and Stacie Steptoe enjoy goofing off after Key Club meetings.

Convention Highlights Year

The highlight of every Key Clubber's year has been the Texas-Oklahoma Convention, and this year promised to be no exception. From the beginning of the school year, the organization had been busy performing various service projects with hopes of being recognized as one of the top twenty clubs in the Texas-Oklahoma District. This year the convention was held in Dallas from April 18 to April 20. Over 2000 students represented numerous schools from Texas and Oklahoma.

Of all the clubs present, eight girls were chosen to represent their clubs in the district sweetheart competition. Angie Skelton, a sophomore at CHS, was one of the eight chosen.

A Time For Us-Bobby Baker and Amy Abernathy relax on the long bus ride home after a very busy weekend.

This was Angie's second year to compete in the contest.

The convention started with a general session to welcome Key Club members, followed by a 'get-acquainted' dance at Union Station.

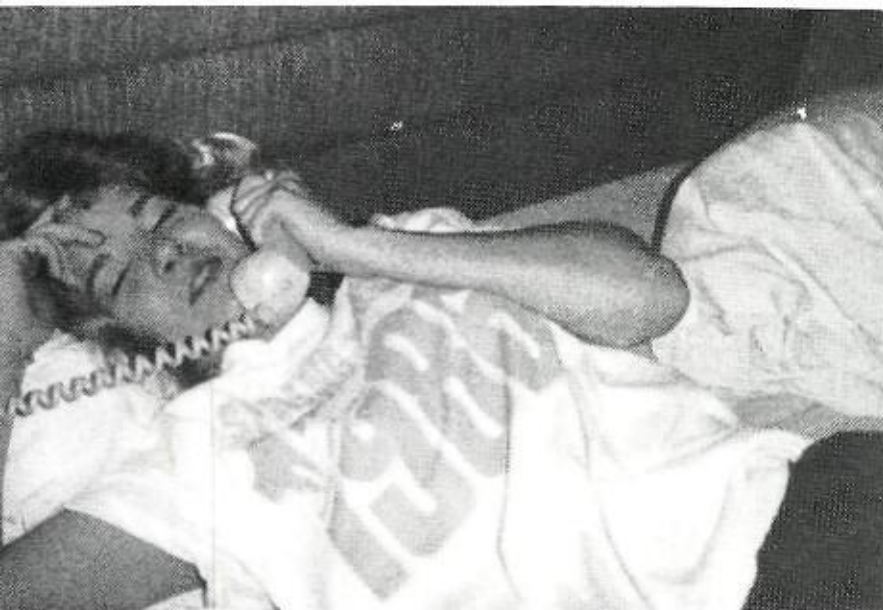

Saturday brought the district luncheon, free time, and the district talent show and sweetheart competition. Sunday ended the convention with the Governor's Farewell Brunch during which the old officers and lieutenant governors were retired and the new ones were installed. 'It was a terrific ending to an exciting convention, and the convention proved to be an exciting end to a very productive year,' said club president John Paul Davis.

And Be Sure To Remember-Carson Cockrum gives the members some last minute advice on how to behave at convention.

Going Up?-Staci Bush and Beth Baker enjoy playing in the elevators when they should be attending convention meetings.

Hello?-Staci Bush wonders which one of her new key club friends is calling her now.

Year Filled With Work and Fun

Writing copy, developing pictures, and meeting deadlines took many hours of hard work by the Pine Burr Staff to produce the yearbook.

Summer workshops helped prepare staff members for designing layouts and using cameras. Beginning in August, the staff members sold advertising space to local businesses to help raise money for the yearbook.

The annual sales to students were conducted in November and December while the highlight of the year was the annual Pine Burr awards assembly in February. The presentation was a CHS version of the Academy Awards and staff members awarded trophies to the winners.

Paper 'Tales' All

The Carthaginian staff learned that a great deal of time and work is involved in producing a newspaper. 'The pressure was high just before press time, but after the deadline was met, we could all breathe a sigh of definite relief,' said Sophomore Kerry Goodwin. 'It was hard work, but it was also a great opportunity to meet lots of nice people and make new friends,' she said.

The staff members learned copy editing marks, page layout and design, photography for newspaper, typing techniques, and word processing. Perhaps, the most beneficial element learned was how to work under a deadline and how to schedule time to get a job done.

Team effort was what newspaper production was all about. Staff members spent many hours after school meeting their deadlines. They printed the paper once each month, a total of nine issues in all. The most challenging issue was the Senior edition published in May.

Jennifer McNatt, the editor of the paper, had the privilege of interviewing Machine Gun Dave O'Neil, the renowned disk jockey of KTUX99. 'That was definitely the highlight of the year for me,' she said.

Serious Work-Jennifer McNatt would not think of letting anyone else do her job in interviewing Machine Gun Dave.

First year broadcast journalism students learned television production skills through classroom and studio activities. Students planned and produced individual projects on videotape, learned basic scriptwriting, directed productions, operated cameras and lighting equipment, regulated audio, edited, and produced computer graphics.

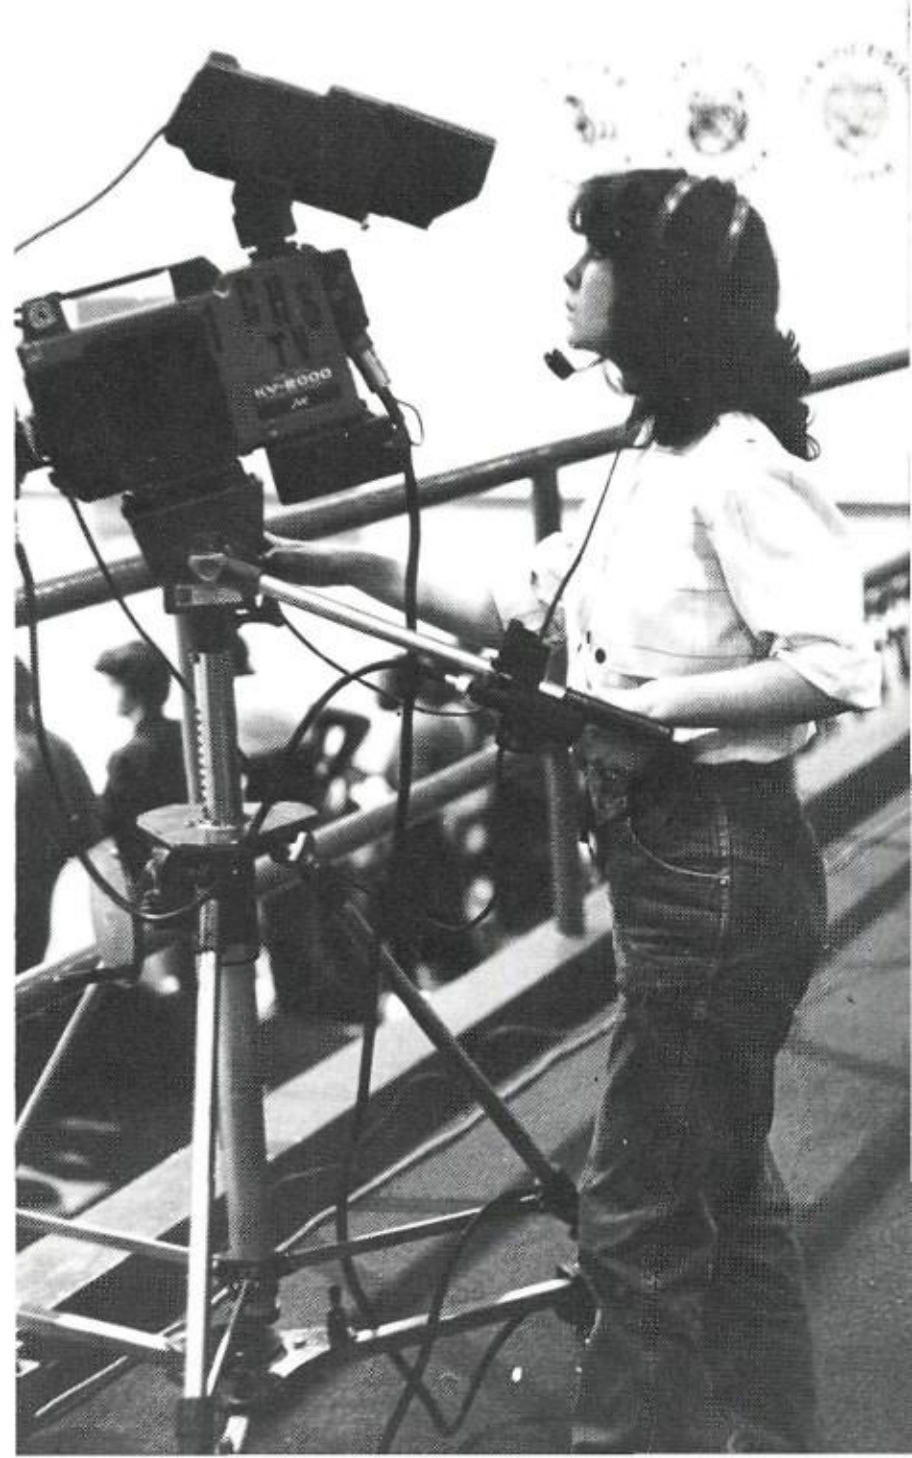

Second year independent study television students assisted with the production of 'Carthage Schools Presents . . .', a weekly local broadcast featuring school activities. 'I think that it is a good learning experience and one which I may use in a future career,' said Teri Wallace.

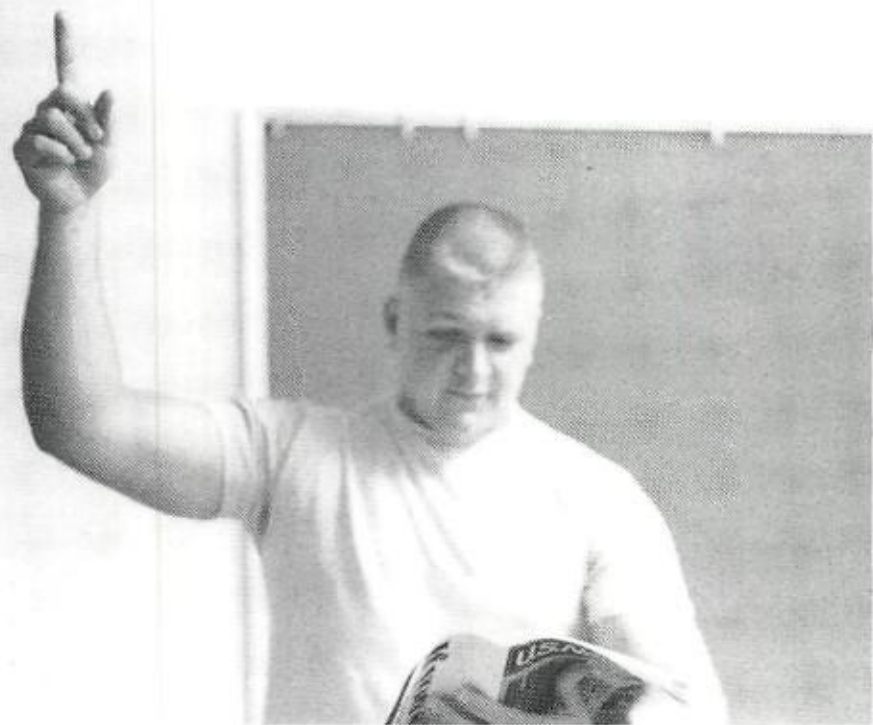

All T.V. students were active in taping and broadcasting football pep rallies, Potlatch activities, basketball games, livestock shows, assemblies, band contest, track meets, and other school activities. Instructor Donnie Pitchford thought his program taught discipline. 'Our motto is teamwork or go home,' he said.

Christian Athletes Inspire Each Other

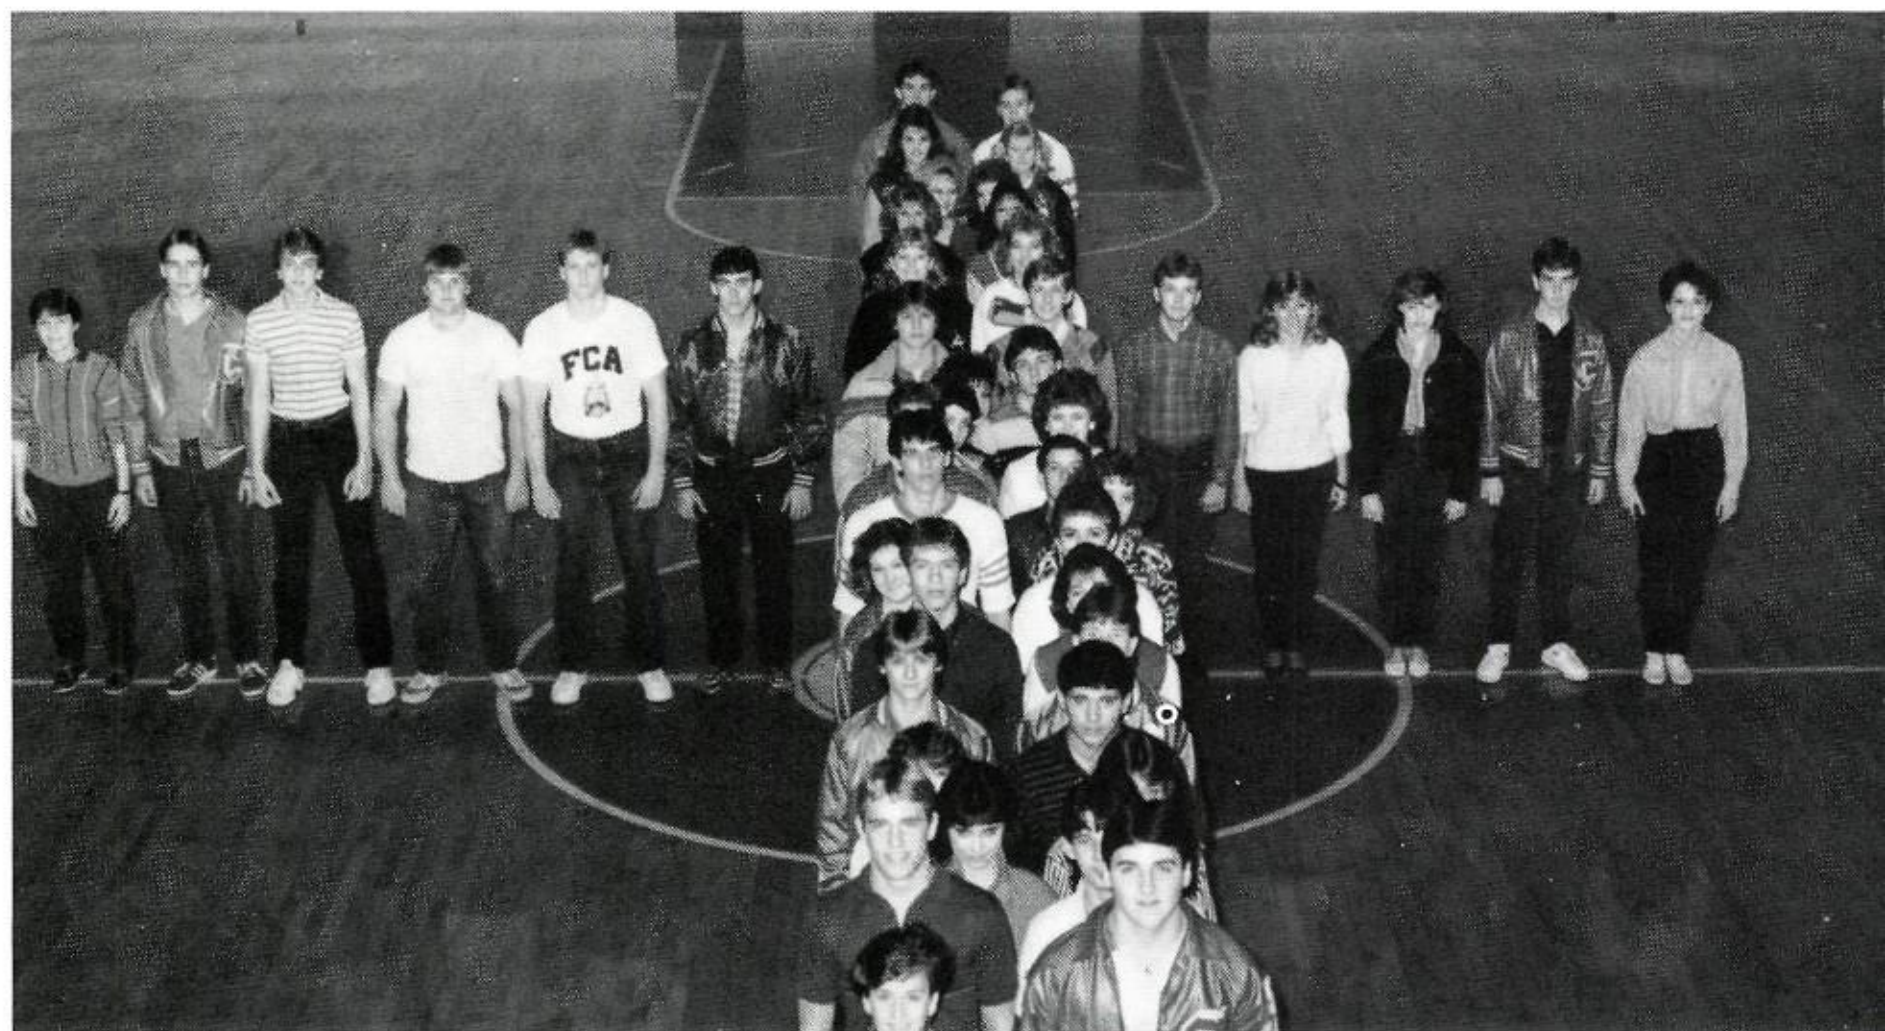

To raise money for scholarships, the Fellowship of Christian Athletes and their parents provided concessions for the Thursday night football games.

The scholarships were awarded to a deserving senior boy and girl. Each scholarship was worth one thousand dollars.

During the summer, three FCA members, Scott Brown, Vince Pyle, and Matt Reed attended a camp at Texas A & M University where they heard professional Christian athletes relate personal experiences from high school, college, and professional sports.

The organization was open to all Christian athletes. Every two weeks they met in members' homes to hear speakers tell about how being a Christian had strengthened their lives. This year's guest speakers included former CHS quarterback and professional football player, Audrey McMillian; Panola Junior College history instructor, Bill O'Neal; and Dennis Wilson.

IAC Performs Community Duties

Throughout the year, the Industrial Arts Club performed several community services. Club members cleaned up Q. M. Martin Stadium after each home football game. During football season, they also ran the chains for the eighth and ninth grade games as well as for the junior varsity home games. For the homecoming festivities, the club helped ignite the Bulldog spirit by burning a large CHS sign during halftime activities.

Another service performed by the club members was the painting of the United Fund sign located on the square downtown. This kept the community informed on the progress of the fund drive.

Along with the club sponsors,

Mr. Charles Worley and Mr. George Smith, the students cleaned up the Grand Bluff and Long Cemeteries. They also erected signs to help lead the Texas Sesquicentennial Wagon Train into town and to their overnight camping area. Signs were also built and hung in the yards of the oldest homes in the county.

During Texas Public School Week, club members blew up balloons for the great balloon launch at the elementary school. They also built toys for tots as part of their many community services during a very hectic year.

Hi-Ho, Hi-Ho-It is off to work for Stan Roquemore as he serves the customers at Winn-Dixie.

Rodeo Club Rides As Champions

For the first time, the Carthage High School Rodeo Club sponsored an East Texas High School Rodeo. The response and enthusiasm were excellent and the experiences gained by the members were memorable.

Points and places for the rodeo season were determined according to the number of contestants in each event as well as how well the cowboy or cowgirl performed. Scores were accumulated through the year. The top four students in each event were awarded belt buckles while the highest scorers were given saddles.

As of May 4, after approximately twelve rodeos, the overall leader in the junior division was Stacie Soape with 391 points. Also competing in the junior division were Monica Wimberly and Jason Peace.

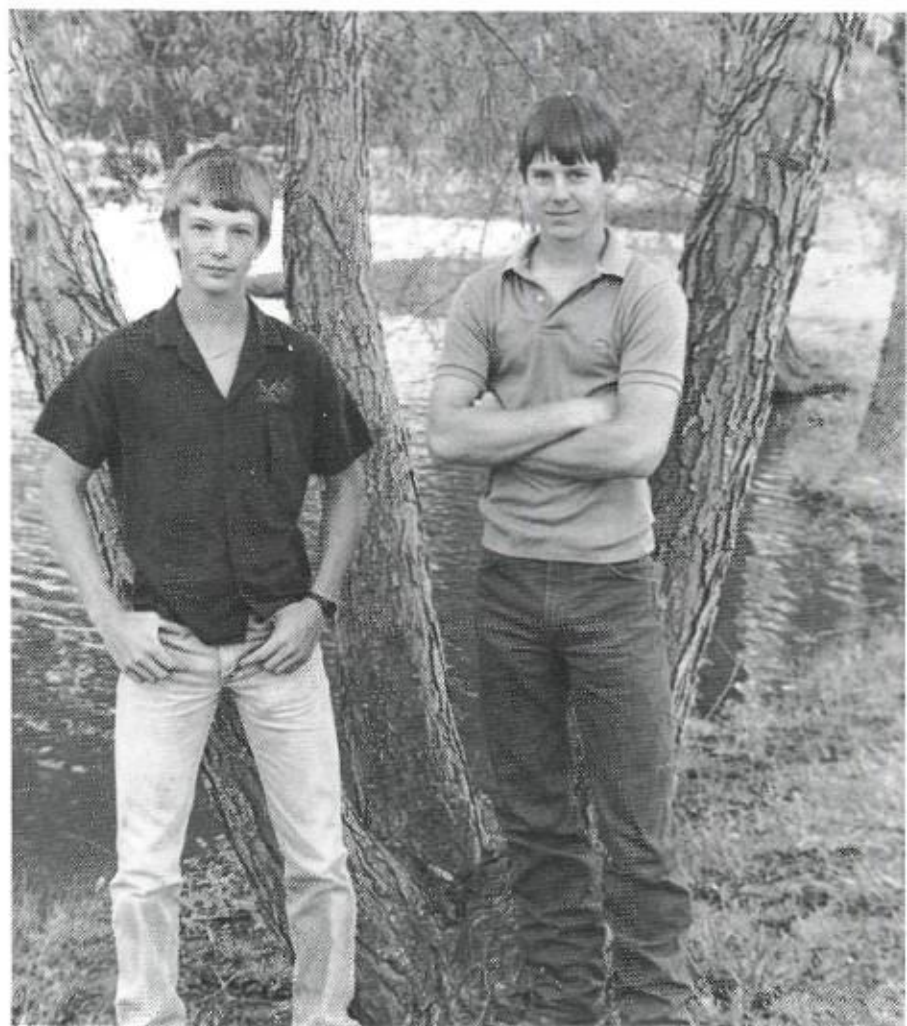

In the senior division, Tracie

Colston had earned 111 points in the barrel racing competition and 32 points in the pole bending. Edie Smith had earned points in three different events, 55 in pole bending, 49 in barrel racing, and 18 in goat tying.

Stacie Sanders led the Carthage bullriders with 120 points, Tracy Peace had 105, Mike Weatherford had received 99, Jeff Wynn had earned 67, and Steven Murphy had accumulated 51 points.

In team roping, Brad Gillis was the leading header with 71 points while Bryan Pride had 83 as a heeler. Other team ropers were Jim Morris, Stacie Soape, Suzanne Soape, and Blaine Gillis.

Rodeo Club Officers-Tracy Peace and Brad Gillis enjoy discussing the point standings before school by the pond.

Rodeo Club Members-Front Row: Tracie Colston, Edie Smith, Stacy

Sanders, Virgil Wedgeworth, Chris Gilbert, Darrell Curry, Jeff Wynn, Mary

Williams; Second Row: Todd Bogenschutz, Blaine Gillis, Mark Davis, Jim Morris, Brad Gillis, Steven Murphy, and Tracy Peace.

Fast Times At CHS-Stacie Soape turns the second barrel in record time to win first place at a CHS rodeo in May to increase her overall lead for the season.

Pole Bending-Tracie Colston hopes she has a quick enough time to win the jackpot as she runs the poles.

Getting Ready-Blaine Gillis warms up his loop before roping a steer in the team roping competition at the CHS rodeo.

Rodeo Club 'Buckles' Up

Rodeo Club members traveled year round to rodeo events all over the East Texas area to acquire more points and experience. They attended shows in Marshall, Rusk, and Tyler.

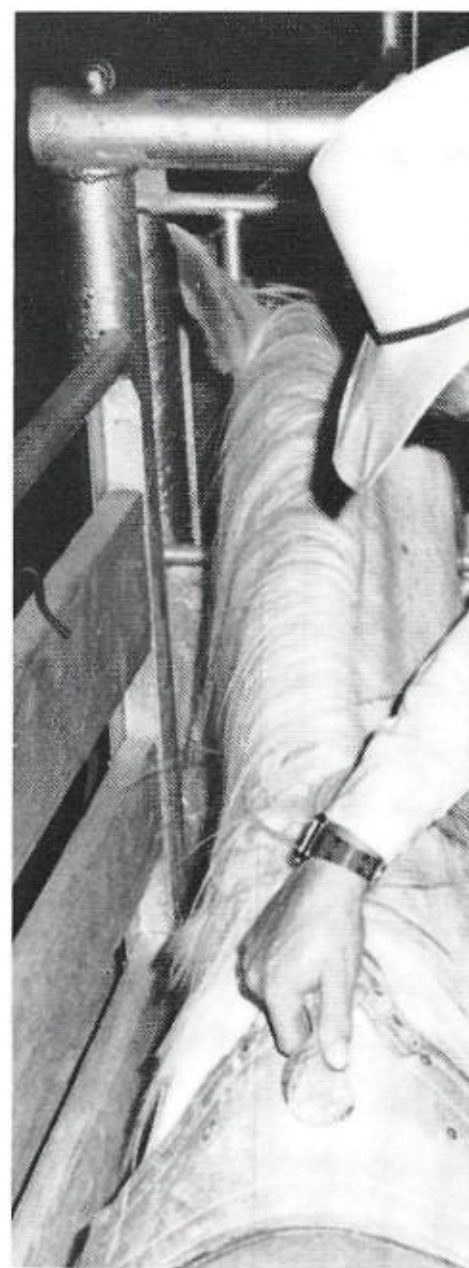

Rodeo competition involved more than just being able to ride a horse. Much time was spent practicing the finer points of each event such as roping, bull riding, or barrel racing. Some members even attended schools where they learned from professional rodeo participants.

As in any other sport, rodeo has its dangers, but the excitement of winning kept the spirit of rodeo alive at CHS.

Wide Loop-Brian Pride practices his perfect form in steer team roping competition.

Last Barrel-Edie Smith leans into the last barrel to reduce her time as she heads for home.

Quick Draw-Jim Morris team ropes quickly to stretch the steer in record time during team roping competition.

Riding Hard-Mike Weatherford leans forward to keep his balance while still watching the bull's head to see which way he will jump next.

Getting Ready-Tracy Peace waits patiently and prayerfully for his name to be called as the next saddle bronc rider.

Jobs Found in Computer Field

Computer Fun Days highlighted the year for Computer Club members. These were held on Saturdays when students were allowed extra time on the computers to experiment with new programs or to exhaust the possibilities of old ones.

The club sponsor, Ms. Becky Gullette, felt the Fun Days were beneficial. 'This extra time on the computers helped spark interest in computers and also allowed students, who were no longer taking a computer class, time on the instruments,' she said.

The club also planned a field trip to observe computers in action in a business setting. This was to encourage students to pursue a career in computer fields.

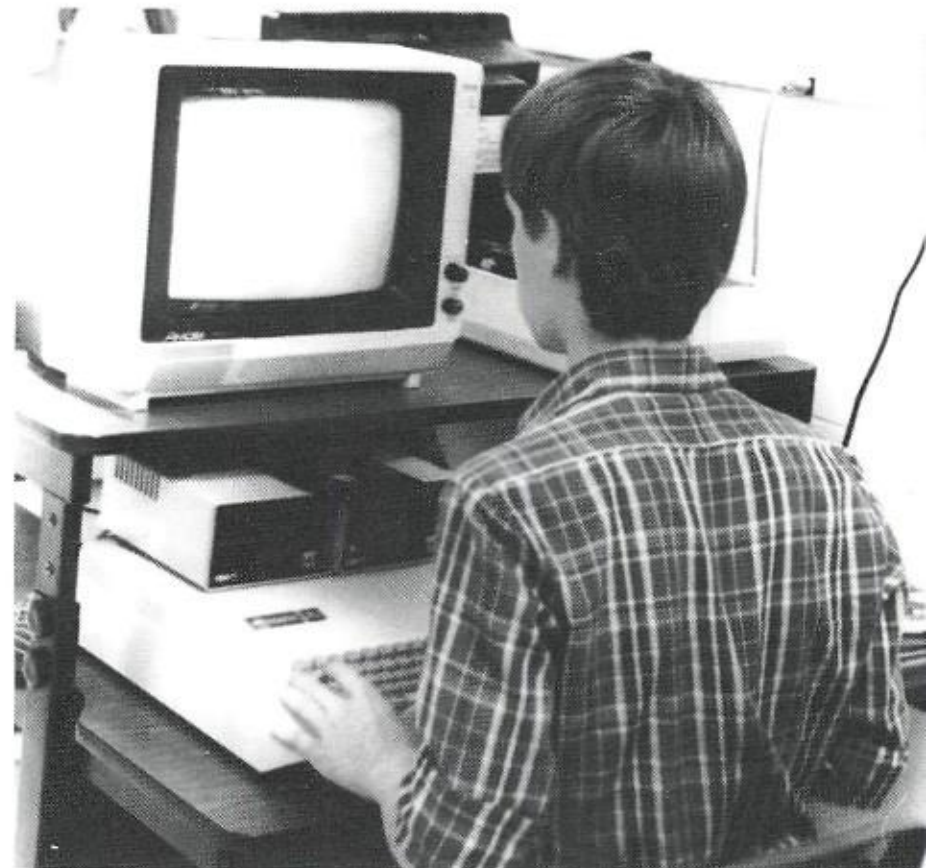

Officers-Andy Shutt, president; Paul Kennedy, vice president; Betty Kyle, secretary; and Angeles Kennedy, treasurer.

Whiz Kid-Joel Riley whizzes away on his computer during a club meeting trying out a new program.

Sponsor-Ms. Becky Gullette planned computer fun days for the members of the computer club.

Photographers Roam Campus is a fairly new organization on campus, the camera club was formed and adopted a constitution as its first order of business for the year.

During monthly club meetings, members of the camera club learned how to work the different parts of the 35mm camera and conducted business necessary to getting organized as an active club on campus. They established a photograph contest among the members to be held each semester.

A photography session was conducted at the All-Sports Banquet to raise money and to provide a service to the student body.

'Being in Camera Club was great, especially learning how to use the camera,' said club member Debbie Kasper.

This Is How The Shutter Works- Miss Williams shows Lorie Langlotz, Stacie Griffith, and Sonya Whitaker the proper way to adjust the camera lens.

Thomas Jefferson?-No, just Jackie Bush trying to write the camera club's new constitution.

HERO I Stands Out In A Crowd

The Home Economics Related Occupation (HERO) organization promoted better relations with school, at home, and on the job. Each student in HERO II worked for a company and did some kind of work at this company that was related to Home Economics.

Students chose from many areas of work. Child care, the serving or preparing of food, cleaning, maintenance, and fitness were a few areas chosen as work areas.

Each spring, HERO I students were recognized at the Vocational Educational Banquet. This year Terri Sparks was selected as the outstanding HECE student. The students recognized and thanked their employers for all the support they had given throughout the year to Vocational Education and HERO at the banquet.

May We Help You?-Lisa Ingram and Tonia Williams take pride in serving students in the cafeteria.

Carrie Riddle, Sandra Pipkin, Lisa Ingram, Melanie Kuoppala; Third Row: Sponsor Penny Boone, Lois Metcalf, Kelly Phillips, Veronica Walker, Tonya

Smith, Tyrone Burroughs; Fourth Row: Danny Smith, Teresa Powell, Shana Chambers, Tonia Williams, Kellie Bradley, and Teresa Figley.

Hard At Work-Danny Smith b stacks chairs after lunch periods over and everyone else has had to back to class.

Mr. Clean-Tyrone Burroughs keeps the scullery in tip-top shape during lunch periods.

HERO Officers-Denise Marry, reporter; Michelle Thomas, secretary; Terri Sparks, vice president; Lori Ewins, vice president; Belinda Taylor, president; and Cindy Brevard, historian.

What's The News?-Tonya Smith has the important job of changing the marquee with each new development.

Fit As A Fiddle-Terri Sparks stays in perfect shape as she works out at the Carthage Fitness Center.

Have A Nice Day-Kellie Bradley checks out the customers at Wal-Mart.

Motherly Care-Veronica Walker cares for children at the Day Care Center.

Always Smiling-Lori Ewins treats the customers at Golden Corral with warm courtesy.

HERO II Steps Into Action

HERO Chapter II members participated in several fundraising events this year. Students worked in the concession stand at the junior high basketball games, and they conducted a bake sale. Using these funds, the club members attended area and state meetings and traveled to Six Flags Over Texas.

During regular club meetings, HERO members planned teacher luncheons. They decorated the tables and prepared these luncheons for Halloween, Thanksgiving, Christmas, and other holidays.

Also at club meetings, members discussed different occupations related to home economics and what they might like to do in the future.

Super Singer-Angela Roberson works toward being the next Gloria Vanderbilt of CHS.

Needles And Pins-Linda Leary works magic when it comes to sewing in her favorite class.

Utmost Concentration-Stephanie Smith carefully sews without any slipped stitches.

Oh, No!-Jerome Beechum has to rip out a pocket and start completely over on his sewing project.

OEA Broadens Students' Skills

Office Education Association, sponsored by Mrs. Jeanette Tinkle, is a club in which members learn general office skills as well as have fun. Members spend their club meetings preparing for contest and sometimes having parties.

This year the organization attended the Area V Leadership Contest in Orange, Texas. Three students placed in area-wide competition. Cheryl Robertson placed third in Records Management I. Shelia Harrison placed fifth in Job Interview I, and Shonda Twomey placed fifth in Records Management II. These accomplishments allowed the club to go on to state contest in Ft. Worth.

'OEA offers an excellent opportunity for students to broaden their office skills while having a good time as well,' said Mrs. Tinkle.

OEA Officers-Tammy Carter, Karen McDaniel, Rachael Rhiddlehoover, Michelle Bowers, Sherry Cox, and Donna Soape.

Award Winners-Cheryl Robertson, third place in records management I; Shelia Harrison, fifth place in job interview I; and Shonda Twomey, fifth place in records management II.

Time Out-Keri Stanley and Karen McDaniel take a break from the word processor to rest their fingers and eyes and to catch up on some gossip.

Four Are Better Than Two-Sherry Cox and Michelle Bowers get together to proofread a typing assignment.

VICA

The industrial cooperative training program combined school training and work experiences into an organized program by providing supervised work experience on the job and an opportunity to study related information in school that helps students progress well in the work place.

The individual ICT students had the opportunity to master the practical job skills and procedures performed by the worker in a specific occupation. They learned the technical and related information basic to an intelligent understanding and practice of a given occupation in which they were interested. The ICT student developed the personal and social traits essential for becoming a successful worker.

VICA Officers-Todd Alexander, president; Joey Manshack, vice president; Todd Birdwell, treasurer; Jay Cheshire, sergeant-at-arms; Jeff Stephens, reporter; Stacy Mathis, secretary; and Randall Graves, parliamentarian.

VICA Members Work In Community

Members of VICA worked in various jobs in the Panola County area. Senior Todd Alexander, president of the local chapter, worked at LaGrone Air Conditioning and Electrical. 'Working in the electrical field has helped me make a definite career choice, and it has given me experience that should help me find a job,' said Alexander.

Junior Jay Cheshire, sergeant-at-arms in the club, was employed at Tyson Foods while Randall Graves worked for Graves Builders and also served as the club's parliamentarian. Joey Manshack, vice president of VICA, worked at D & R marble. Club reporter Jeff Stevens was employed by White's Auto Center, and Keith Clark worked at Piggly Wiggly.

Padriac Berry reported for work at Superior Supply Company. Several students worked on the CHS campus. These included Kenneth Smith and Tyrone Williams.

Club members learned the importance of working and how to get along with fellow employees in the work place. 'I feel this was good discipline and experience for these young men. This will help prepare them for future employment,' said Mr. Francis Garrett, club sponsor.

Where Are Those Instructions?-Stacy Mathis tries to figure out how the lawn mower goes back together at his job at Reeves Motor Sales.

I Just Can't Wait-Padriac Berry impatiently waits to see what his job will call for next at Superior Supply Company.

Almost Quitting Time-Jeff Stephens puts the finishing touches on a lawn mower he has overhauled at White's.

Patiently Waiting-The members of NHS gather to wait patiently for the induction ceremony to begin.

OOOO!-Dana Ritter and Bill Huff wonder what is on their plates at the annual NHS banquet following the induction ceremony for new members.

NHS Adds New Members

The National Honor Society is composed of students who possess four important qualities-leadership, scholarship, service, and character.

NHS members began the year with an impressive induction ceremony and banquet in the fall. New members, inducted during a candle-lighting ceremony led by the officers, were Kelley Munch, Kellie Bradley, Wendy Warf, Warren Wall, Robert Duke, Everlyn Brown, Paul Kennedy, Lisa Morgan, Niki Kozlowski, Lewis Zanolli, Johnny Graves, David Harris, Stephanie Mitchell, and Shonda Twomey.

At the banquet following the induction ceremony, Mr. Steve Roberson spoke to the audience about beginning small and finishing big in life.

Fund-raising activities included a plant sale in the early spring, co-sponsored by the PTA, and a bake sale. The funds were used to award a scholarship to a graduating club member.

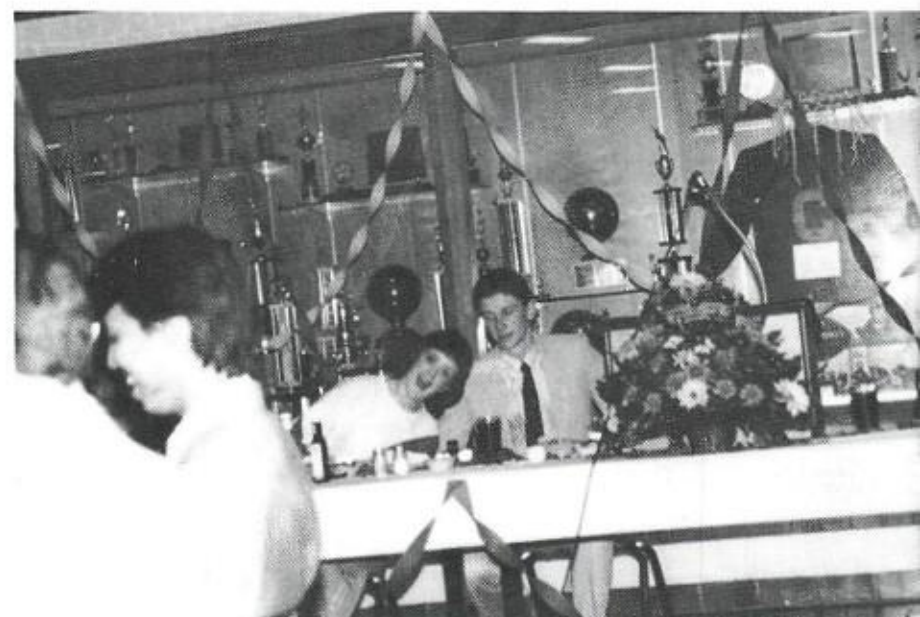

NHS Officers-Susie Davis, secretary; Lloyd Briggs, treasurer; Susan Scott, vice president; and Tom Warren, president.

We're Trying To Eat-Wendy Warf, Warren Wall, Louis Zanolli, and Lorie Langlotz try patiently to avoid the camera while eating dessert at the induction banquet.

Where Am I?-Tom Warren tries to forget his nervousness, but instead loses his place in his speech.

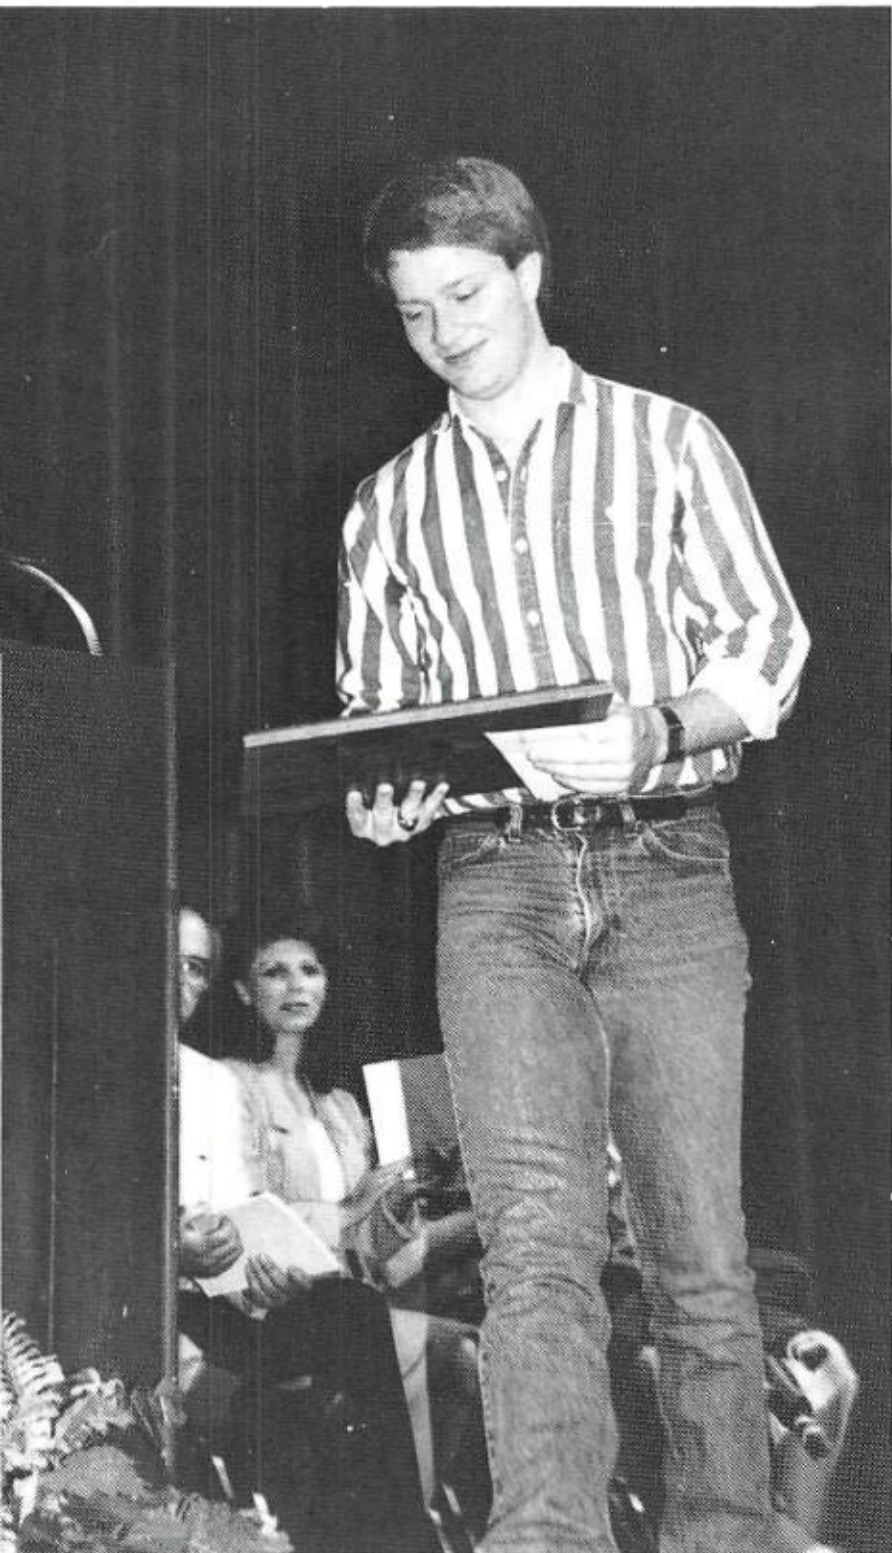

Is It Worth It?-Robert Duke wonders if it is worth all the hard work and endless hours of homework to stay in NHS.

Control Thyself-Tom Warren tries to get Susan Scott to control herself during the NHS banquet.

Parental Guidance-13-NHS members guide their parents through their class schedules during Open House.

Scholarship Recipient-Lloyd Briggs receives the National Honor Society scholarship during the scholarship assembly.

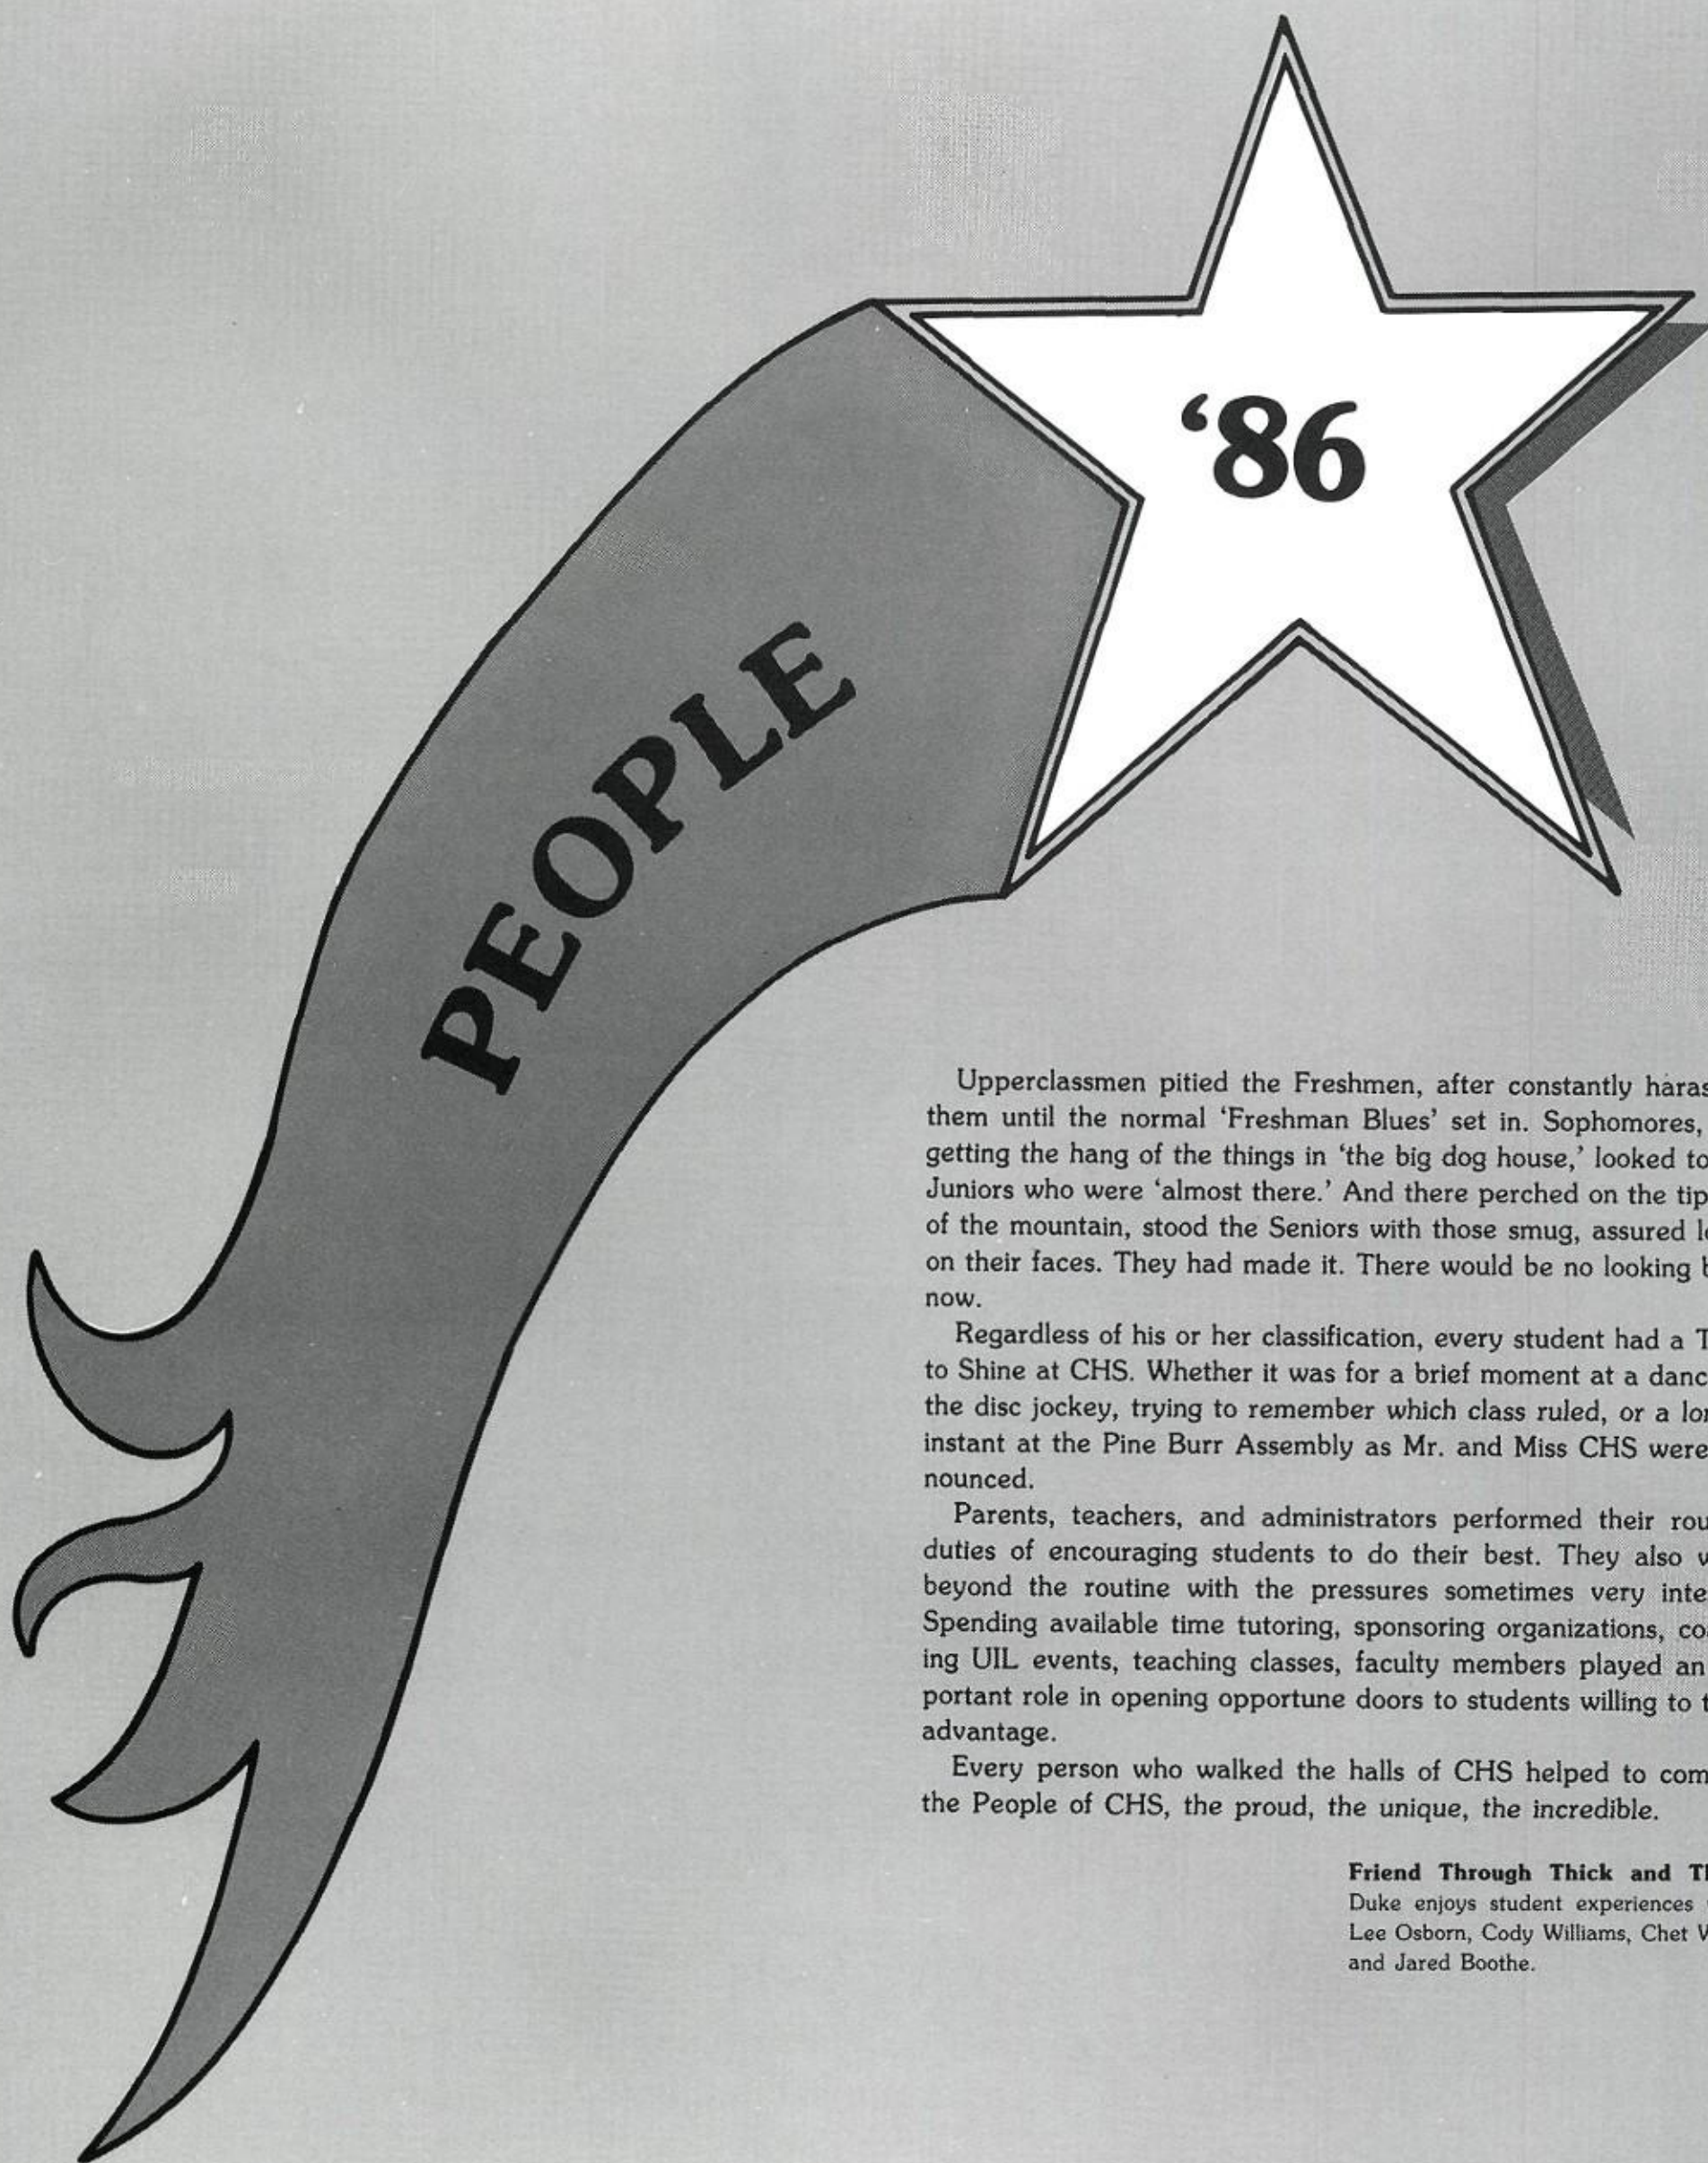

Before Time-Before the induction ceremony begins, Tom Warren discusses the program and the order of business with Mrs. Bounds.

Upperclassmen pitied the Freshmen, after constantly harassing them until the normal 'Freshman Blues' set in. Sophomores, just getting the hang of the things in 'the big dog house,' looked to the Juniors who were 'almost there.' And there perched on the tip of the mountain, stood the Seniors with those smug, assured looks on their faces. They had made it. There would be no looking back now.

Regardless of his or her classification, every student had a Time to Shine at CHS. Whether it was for a brief moment at a dance as the disc jockey, trying to remember which class ruled, or a long instant at the Pine Burr Assembly as Mr. and Miss CHS were announced.

Parents, teachers, and administrators performed their routine duties of encouraging students to do their best. They also went beyond the routine with the pressures sometimes very intense. Spending available time tutoring, sponsoring organizations, coaching UIL events, teaching classes, faculty members played an important role in opening opportune doors to students willing to take advantage.

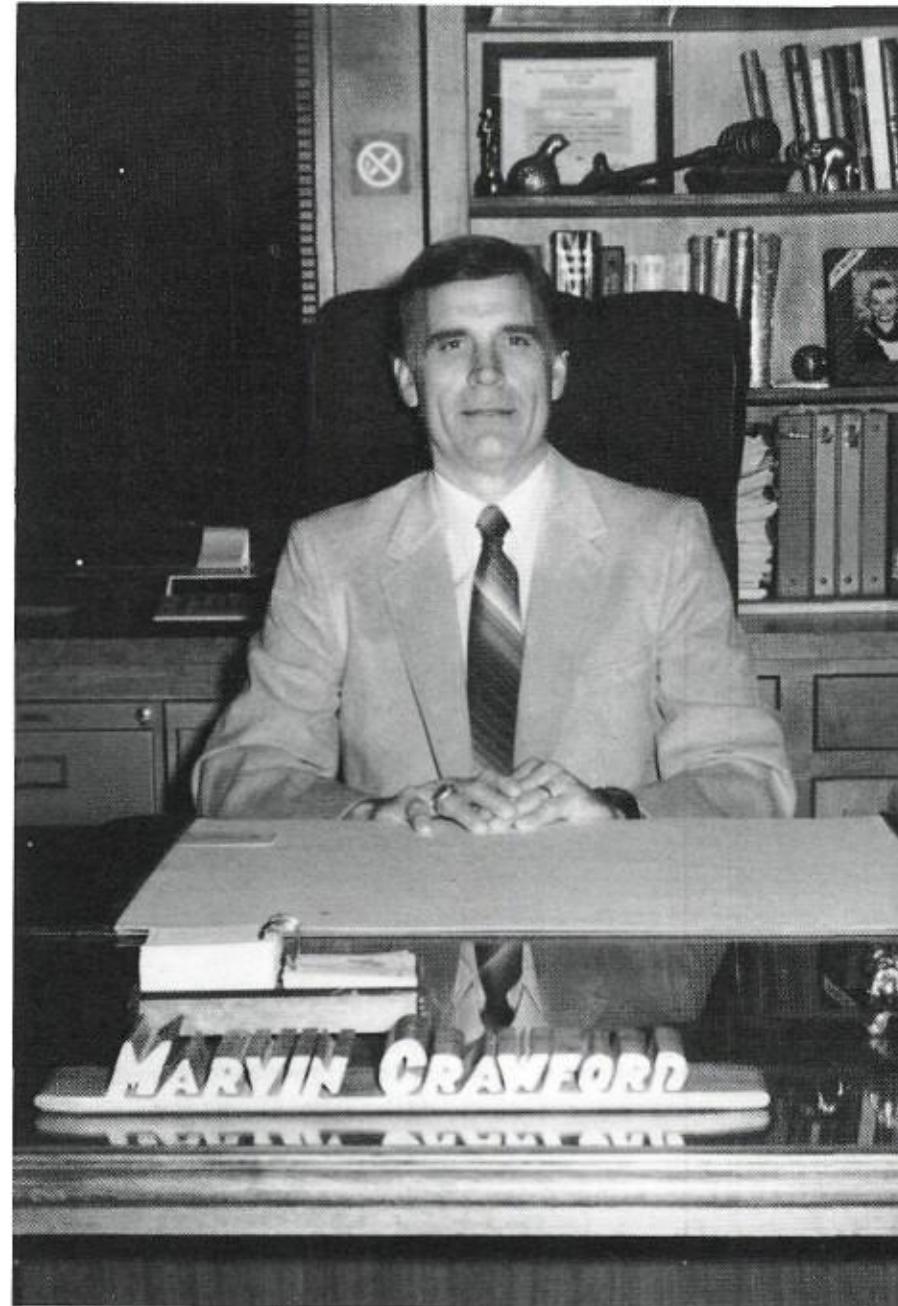

Every person who walked the halls of CHS helped to complete the People of CHS, the proud, the unique, the incredible.

Friend Through Thick and Thin
Duke enjoys student experiences with Lee Osborn, Cody Williams, Chet Williams, and Jared Boothe.

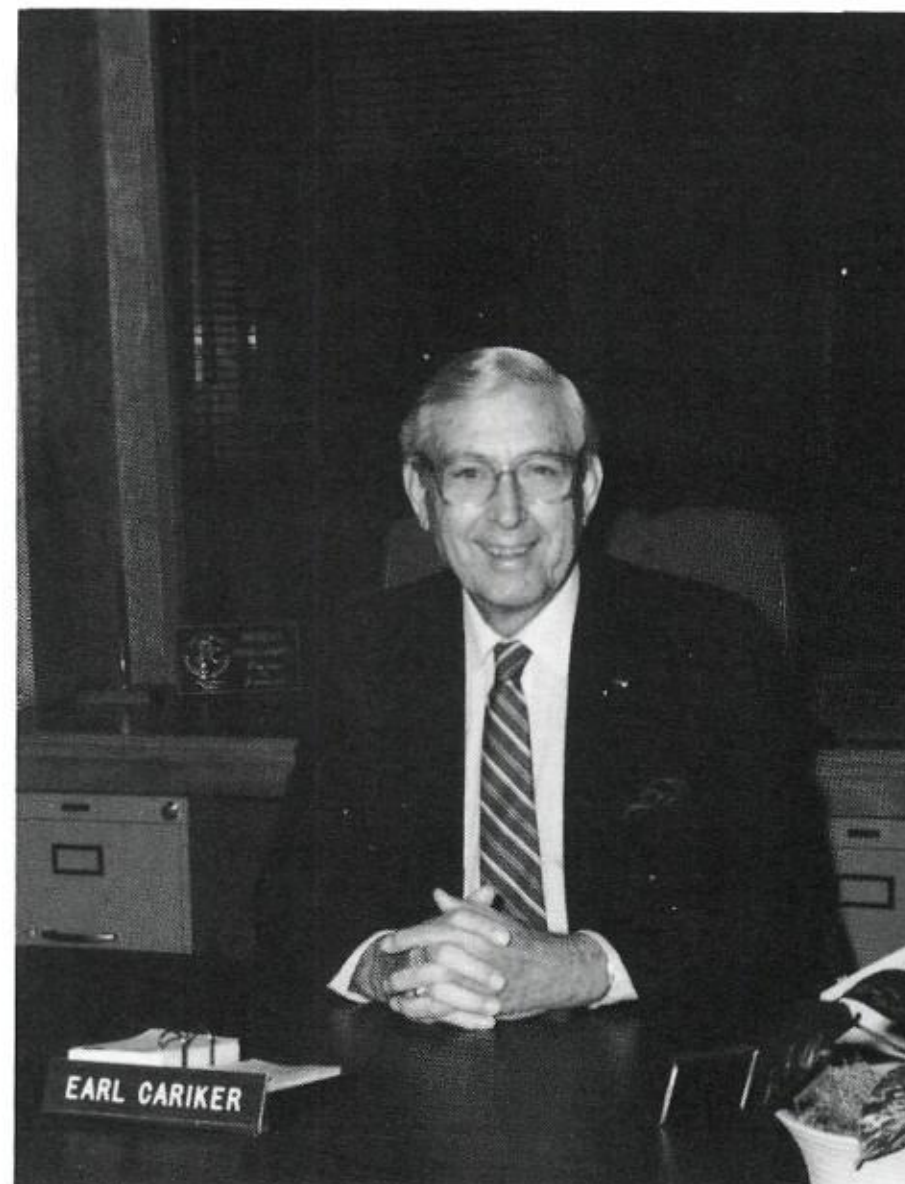

Superintendent-Dr. Marvin Crawford serves as superintendent of the Carthage Independent School District.

Administrative Secretaries-Mrs. June Arnold, secretary to the superintendent; Mrs. Jean Thomas, secretary to the administrative assistant and the director of support services; Mrs. Mattie Thompson, secretary to the Assistant Superintendent and the vocational director; and Mrs. Jane Jeffress, secretary to the assistant superintendent.

Business Office-Mr. Charles Langlotz, business manager; Mrs. Kerry Smith, receptionist; Mrs. Diane Gibson, accounts payable; Mrs. Doris Wallace, payroll clerk; and Miss Hattie Maude Johns, accountant.

Assistant Superintendent-Mr. Earl Cariker retires from fulltime work this year after decades of service to CISD.

Administrators Lead Onward

Assistant Superintendent-Mr. Mac Wheat serves as the assistant superintendent for personnel and administration.

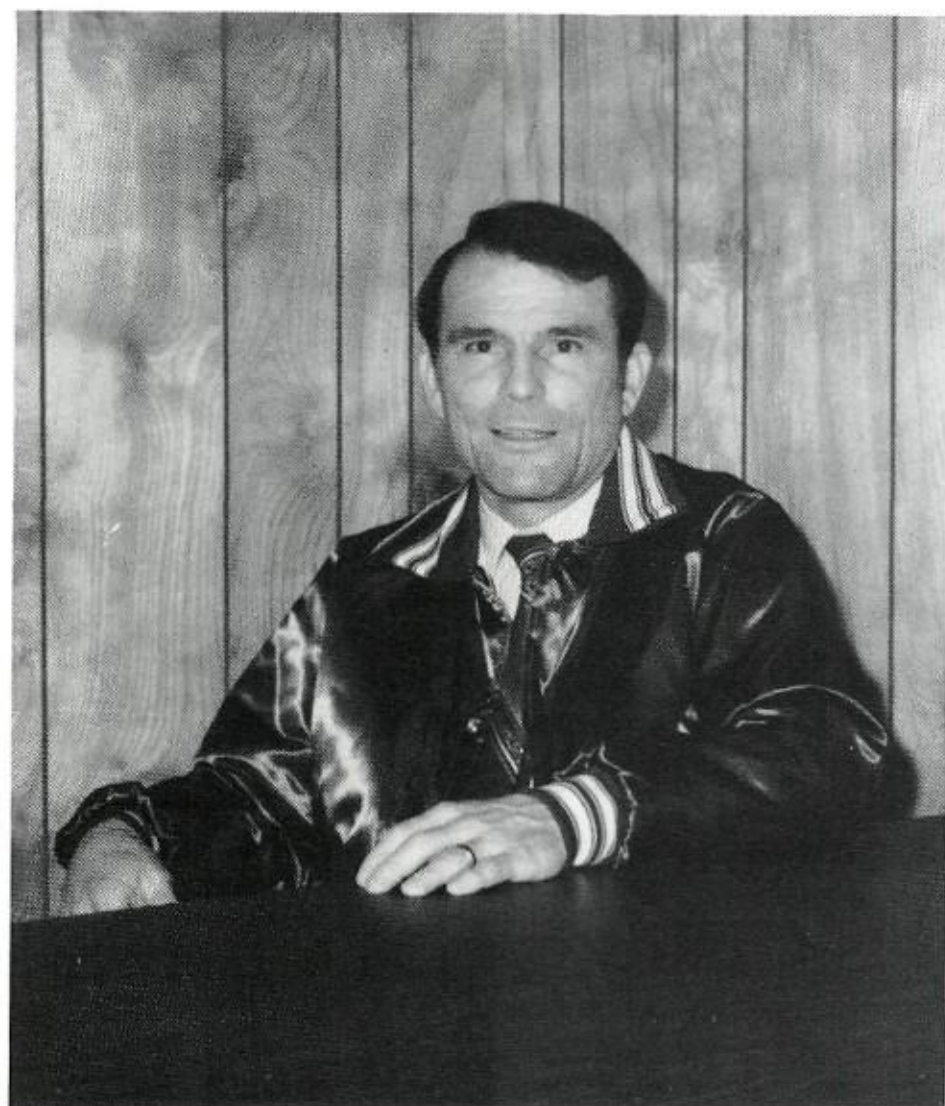

Administrative Council-Mrs. Joyce Allums, special education co-op assistant; Mr. Ernest Brewster, director of support services; and Mr. E. L. Oates, vocational director.

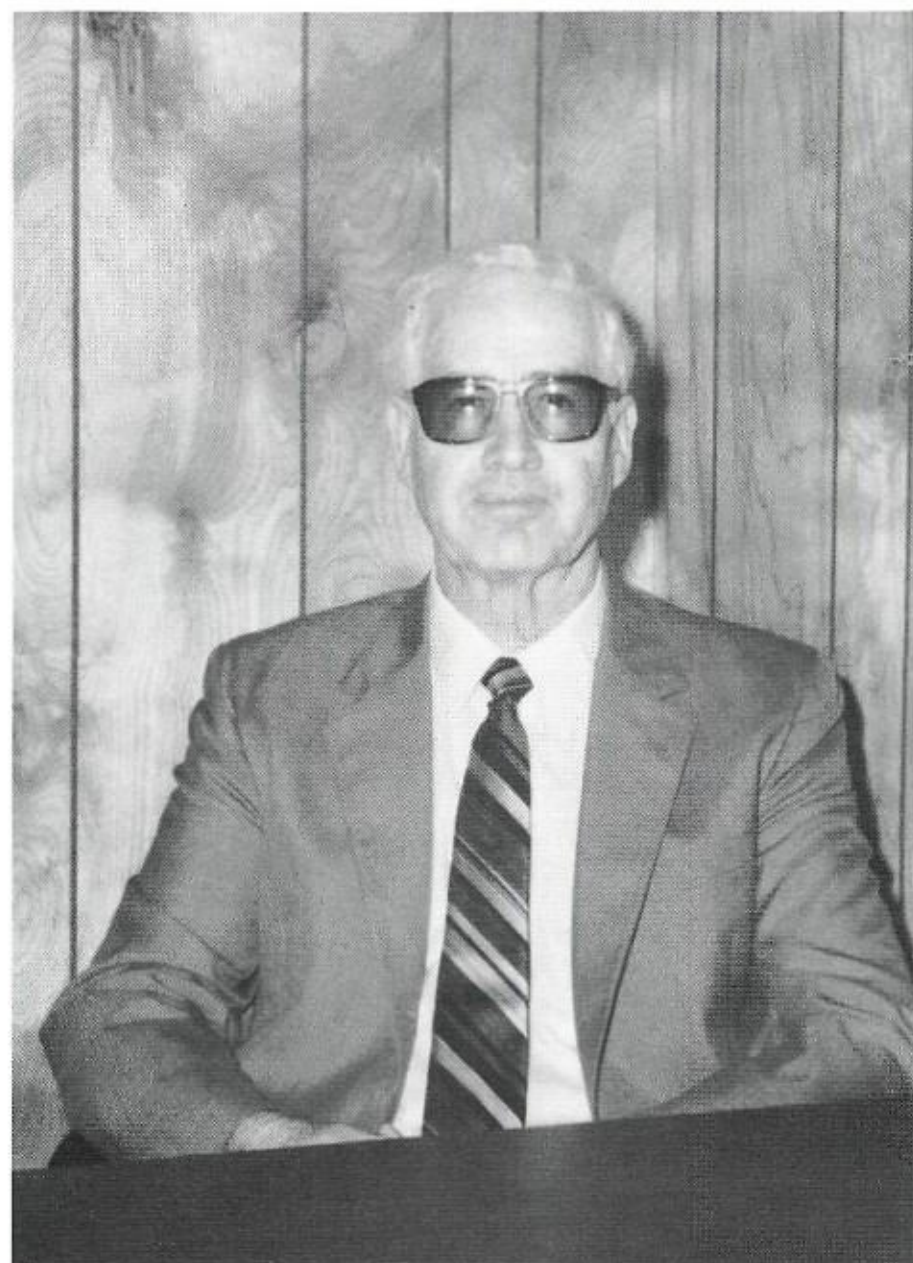

School Board-Mr. Murray Marie, Mr. Tom Escoe, Mr. Robbie Smith, Superintendent Marvin Crawford, Mrs. Elizabeth Morris, Mr. Phil Jimerson, and Mr. Bill Steptoe function as the CISD school board.

Administrative Assistant-As administrative assistant, Reba Allison works with public relations, special education, and curriculum instruction.

Assistant Principal-Mr. Charles Newton serves as assistant principal and director of vocational programs.

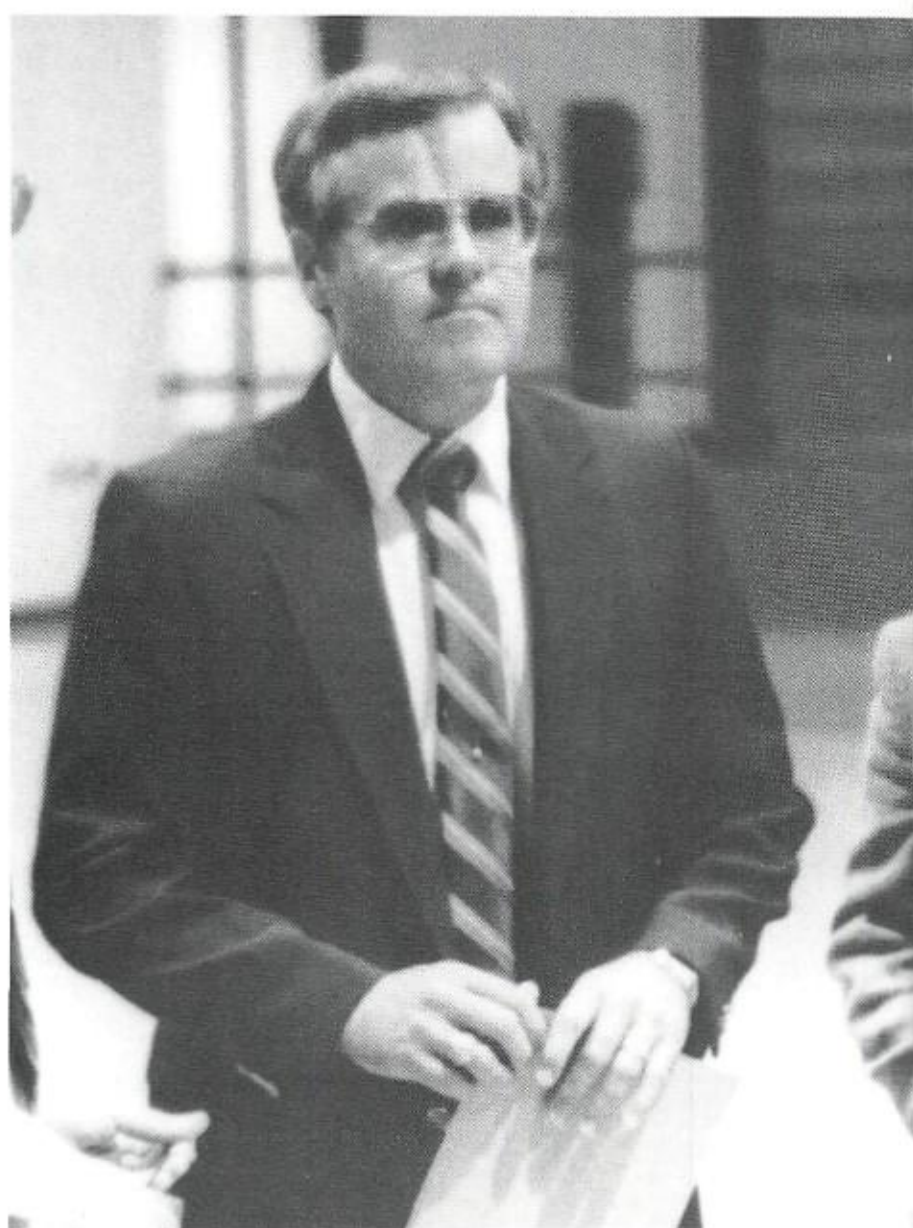

High School Principal-Mr. Metz LaFollette served as CHS principal for nineteen years.

Assistant Principal-Mr. Joe Charles Harrison serves as the coordinator of secondary instruction as well as an assistant principal.

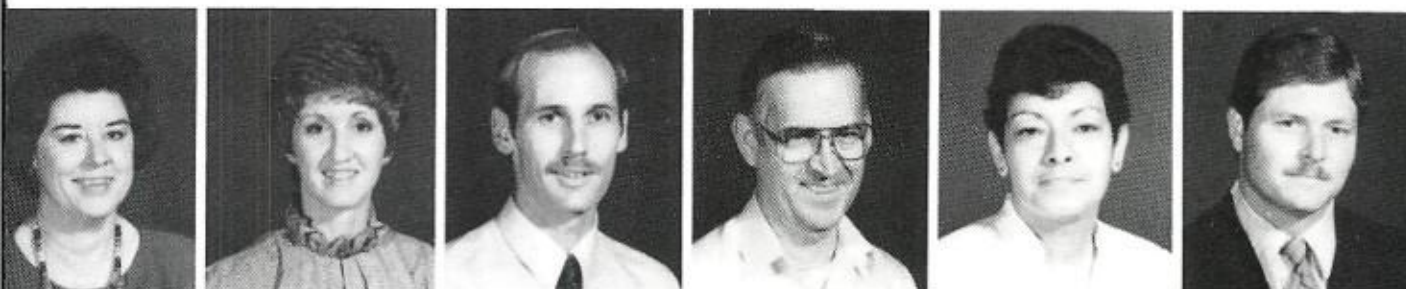

The New Guy In Town-Mr. Barry Rivers became principal on May 1st.

Faculty Encourages Excellence

Dark Of The Moon Premieres

The Allen Family-Dana Ritter, John Paul Davis, and Robert Colle rehearse down home on the farm.

Dark Of The Moon, the senior class play, was a shining success. After two performances, February 7-8, the class made over one thousand dollars.

The cast was chosen at tryouts on December 12 and rehearsed under the direction of Lucky Watkins for about six hours a week until the performance.

The cast included Brad Jackson, Kelley Munch, Alfred Lincoln, Jerri Long, Donna Wilson, Charlotte James, Maureen

Balachandran, John Paul Davis, Robert Colle, Dana Ritter, Lauree Wilson, Chris Medlin, Lorie Langlotz, Rachael Rhiddlehoover, Amy Abernathy, Bill Huff, Ricky Mitchell, Phillip Carter, Ronny Mason, Tammy Carter, Michelle Sneed, Jodi Strong, John Foshee, and Rodney Ortigo. Kellie Mosley was the stage manager while the light and sound technicians were Billy Brent, T. J. Pelton and Heath Cariker.

Barbara And The Witch Boy-The stars, Kelley Munch and Brad Jackson, rehearse their parts.

Men About Town-Ricky Mitchell, Ronnie Mason, and Bill Huff have a good time at play practice.

Saturday Night Live!

On Wednesday, May 21, the senior class got together to show the underclassmen, teachers, and parents their talents. The theme of the assembly was 'Saturday Night Live' with host Heath Cariker.

Acts ranged from hilarious skits, to lipsyncing, to touching solo vocals. The assembly concluded with a slide show and a teary rendition of the Alma Mater.

Can You Spell Funny?-Mr. Rogers, alias Heath Cariker, interviews a crazed bass player, T. J. Pelton.

Rocking Hard-Kevin Henderson, Nathan Hanlon, Heath Cariker, Tom Warren, and Wesley Smith, members of the band Outrage, play 'Holy Drive.'

The Timex Social Club-Albert Starling, Leon Hawkins, Odell Session, and Raymond Ingram lipsync for an enthusiastic crowd.

The Playboy Club

On May 24, juniors and seniors, decked out in tuxedos and formals, met in the high school commons for the annual junior/senior banquet.

SuTom Boggio welcomed everyone and Trela Thomas gave the invocation. Todd Bogenschutz responded for the seniors. A steak dinner was served by the cafeteria staff wearing bunny ears.

Madonna McClure performed the class song, 'That's What Friends Are For' and the Nifty 50's entertained, lipsyncing old classics.

At ten o'clock, the seniors and their dates returned to the commons for a night at the Playboy Club. Bill Sharpe, a popular area disc jockey, spun the latest records for the crowd to dance. At one o'clock, as the dancing ended, breakfast was served to those few who had lasted the entire evening.

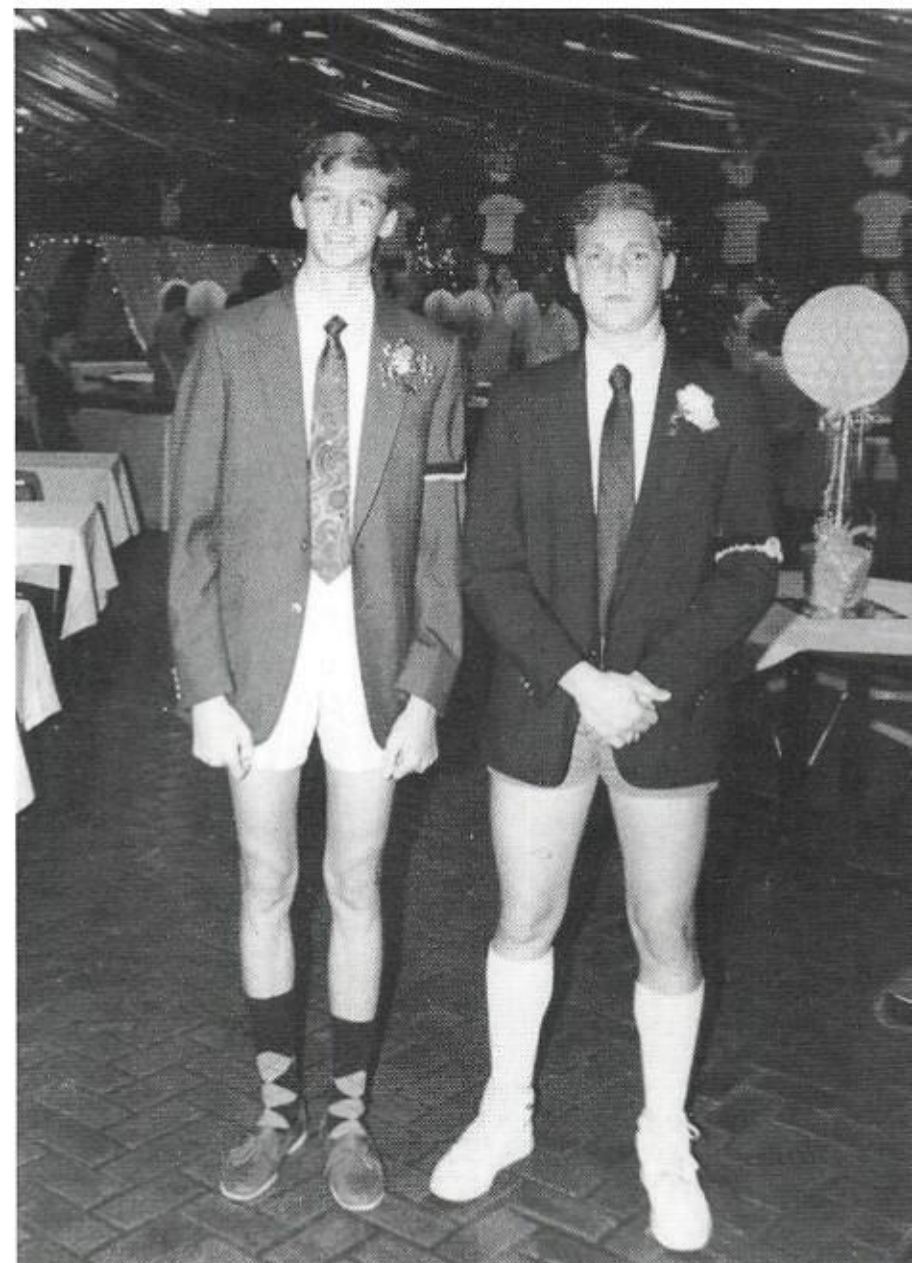

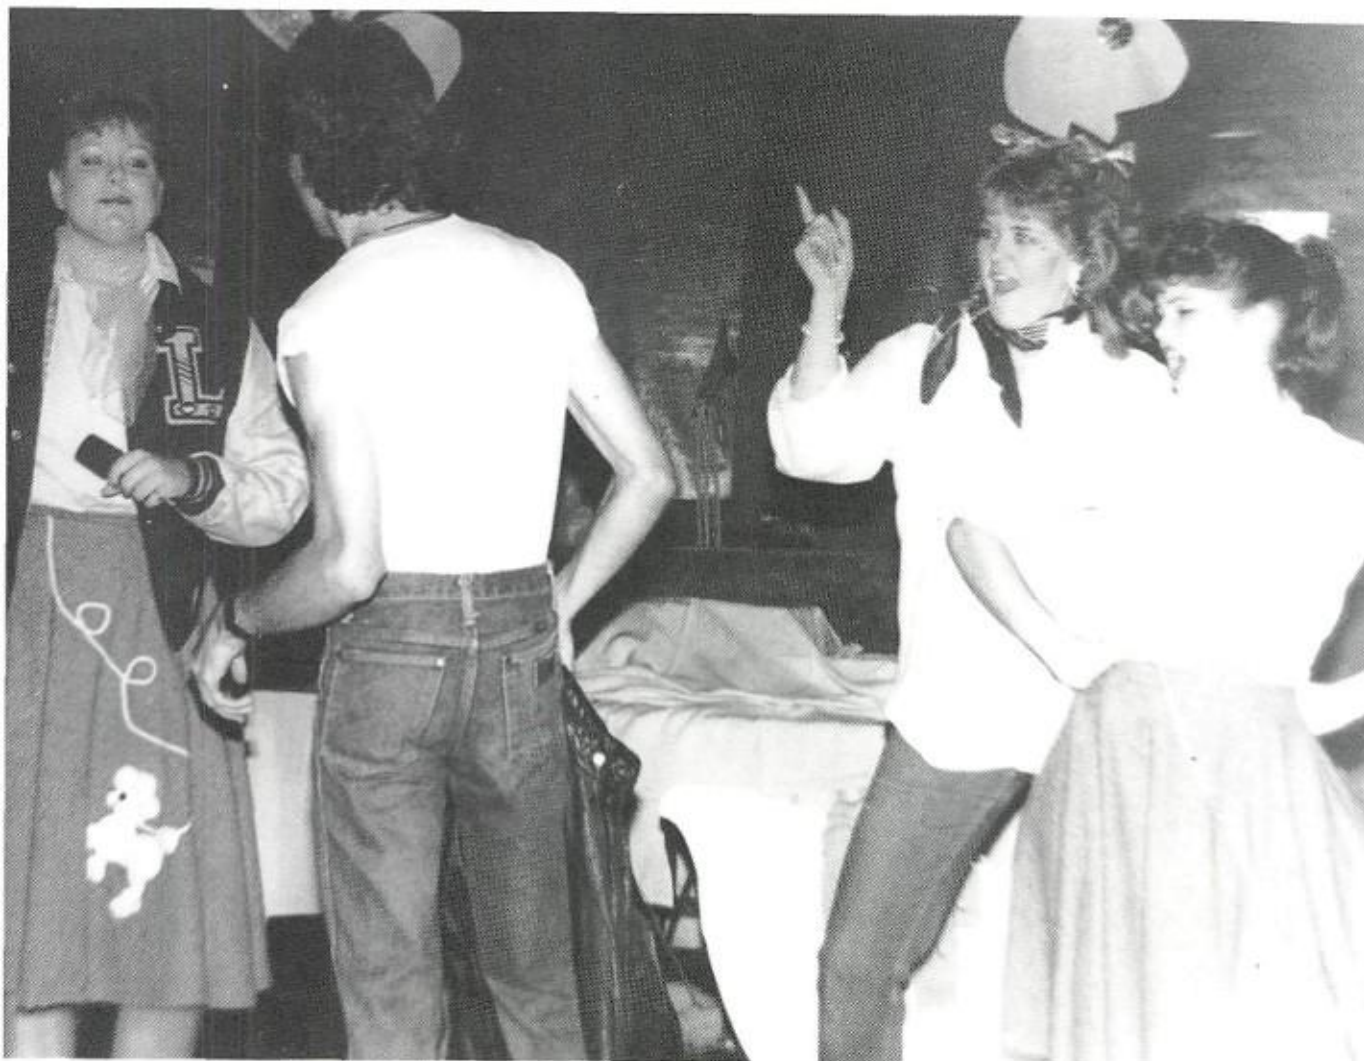

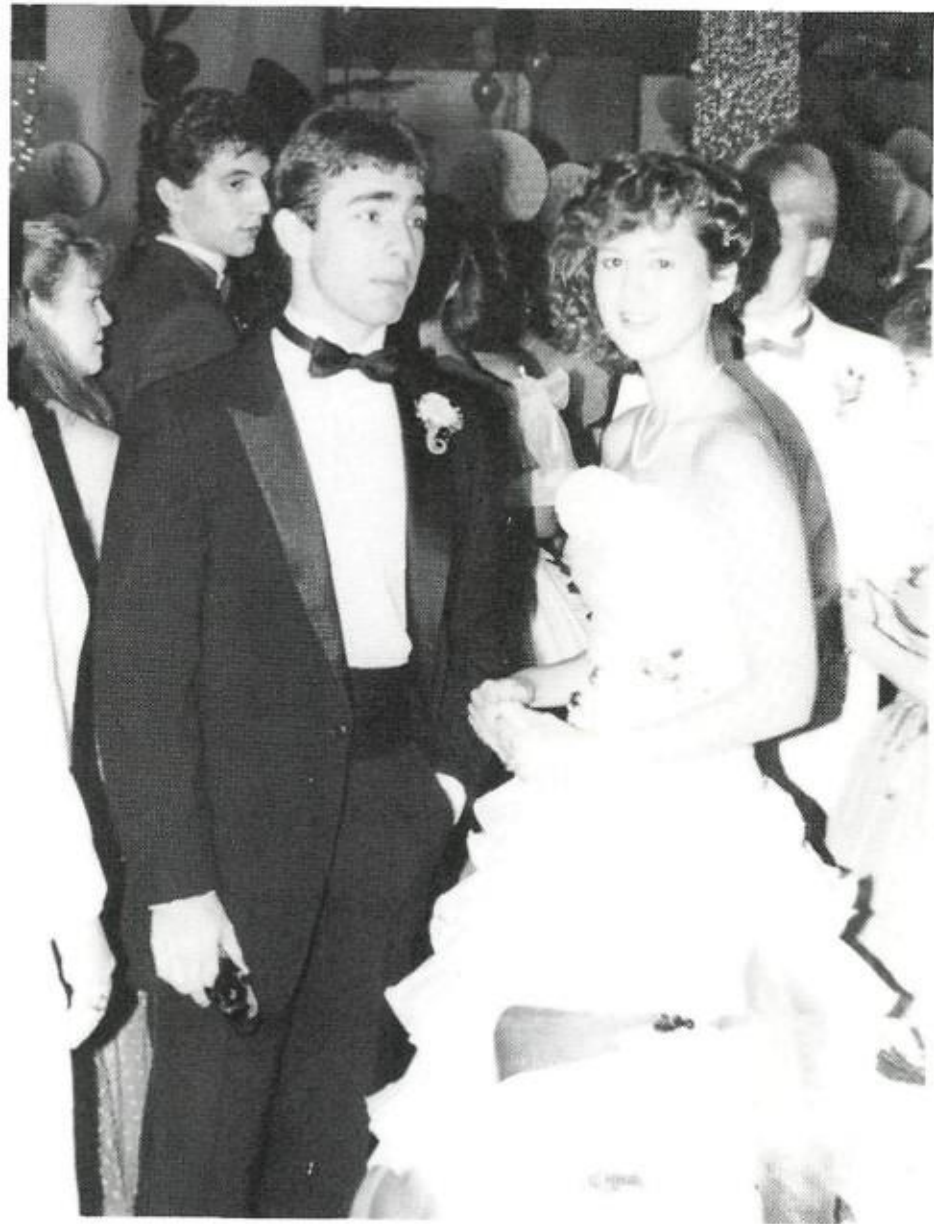

Table For Two?-Marcus Collins and Lori Ewins mistake a tuxedoed Ken Carter for the maitre 'd.

Dining In Style-The juniors and seniors enjoy their meals amidst the beautiful decor of the Playboy Club.

ful decor of the Playboy Club.

Hired Help-Juniors Robert Duke and Louis Zanolli get ready to move tables after the banquet to make room for the dancing.

Little Mr. Worley Cotton Tail-Brad Jackson and Rachael Rhiddlehoover are greeted at the door by 'Bud's Bunny.'

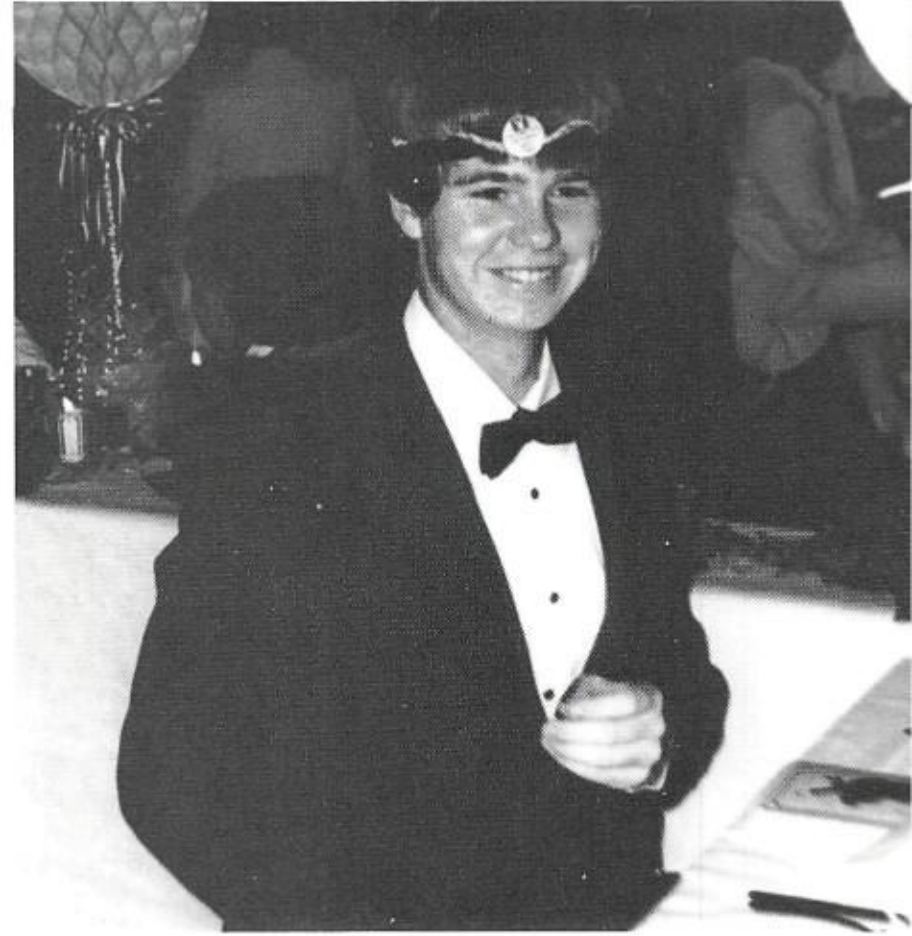

A Matter Of Comfort-Heath Cariker explains to Niki Kozlowski that his strained expression is directly related to his tight bow tie.

The Nifty 50's-Kellie Mosley, John Foshee, Melanie Hudson, and Donna Wilson perform their award-winning lip sync act for the banquet-goers.

And We Danced . .

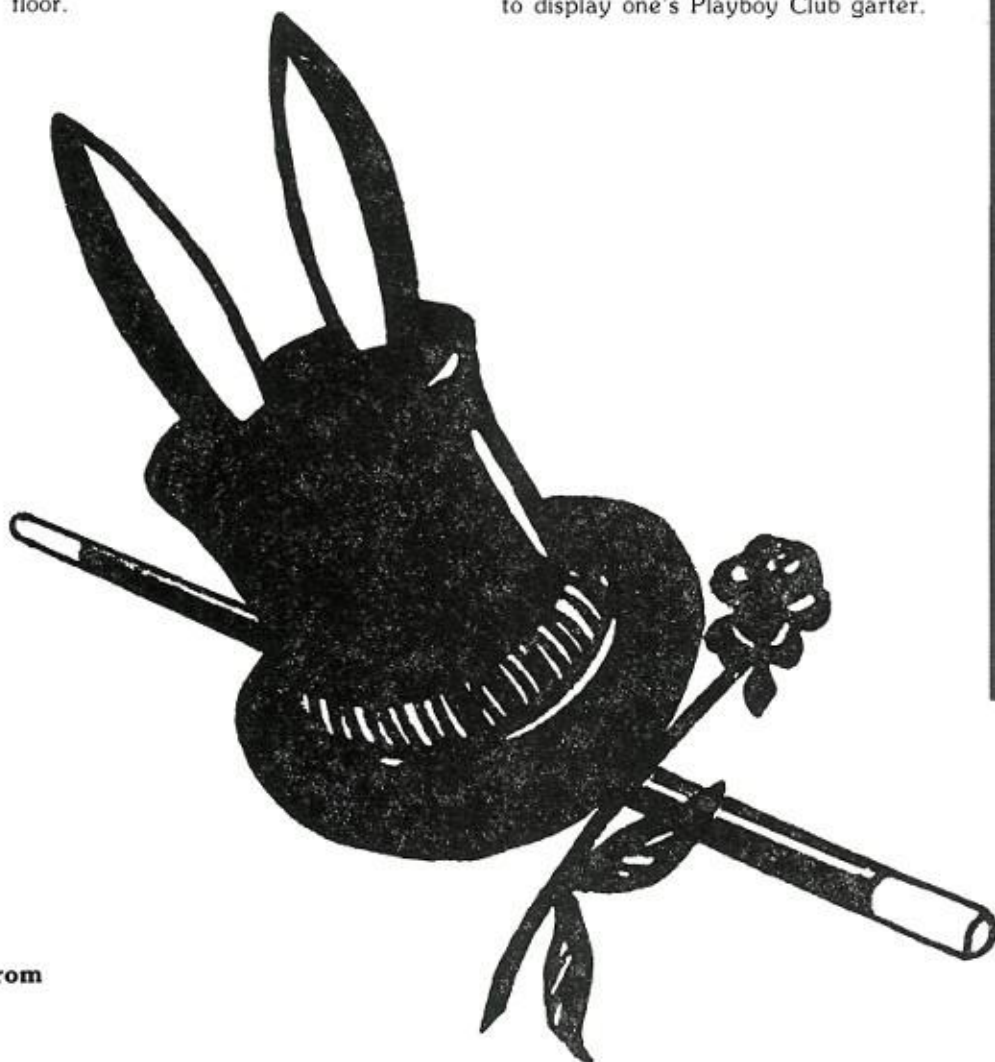

Dance Fever-Jerry Nations and Wendy Brooks show their stuff on the dance floor.

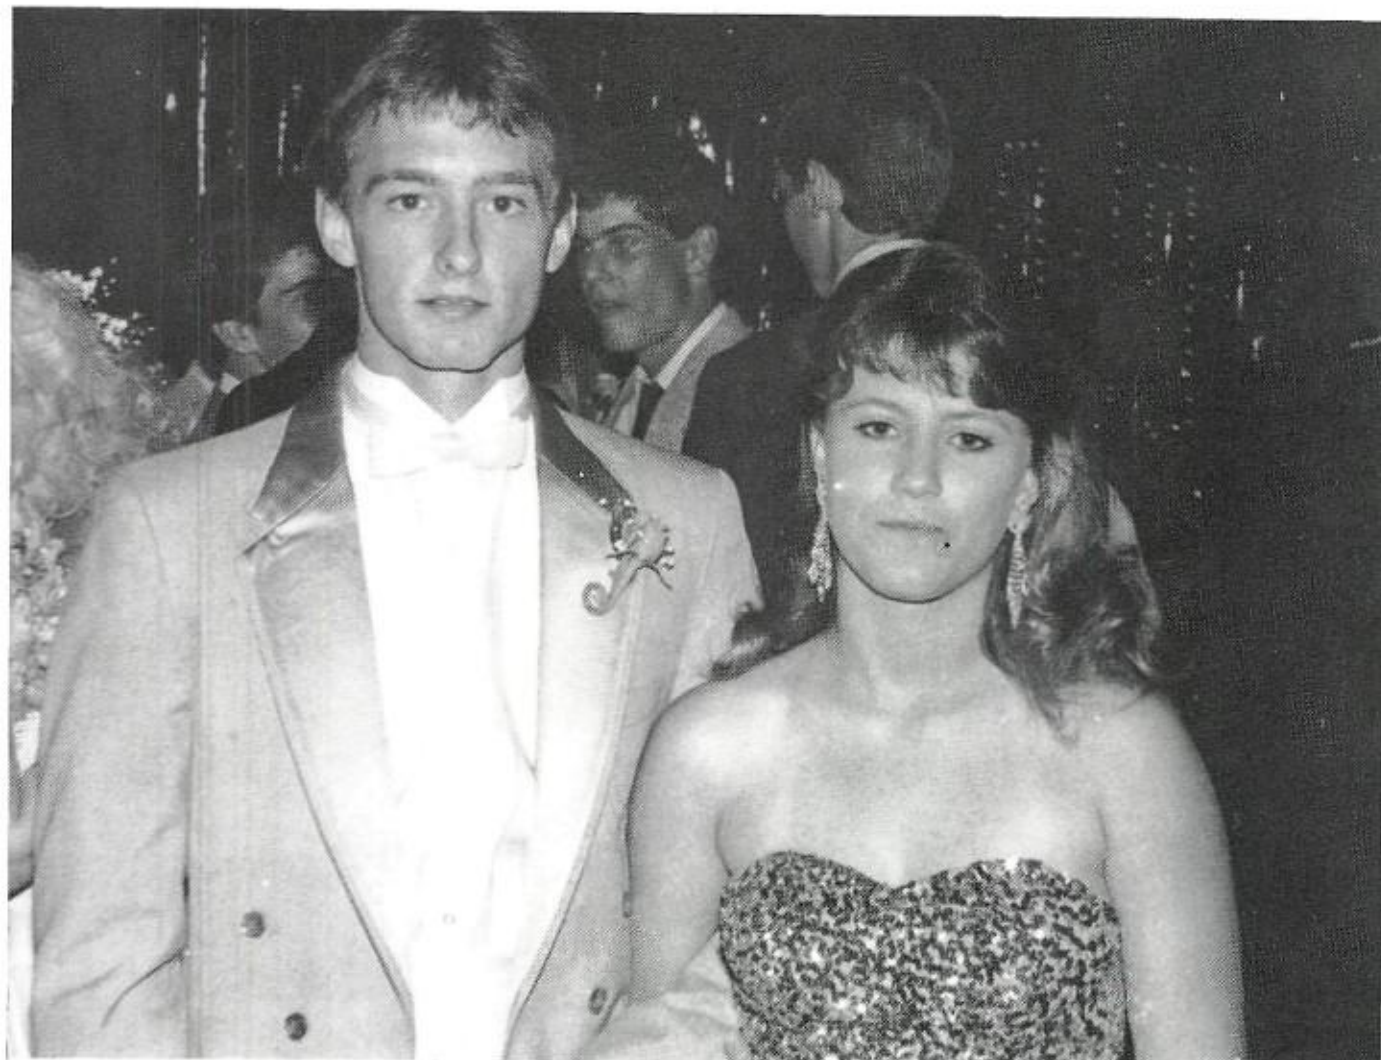

This Headband Is Too Small!-Jerry Harrison demonstrates the proper way to display one's Playboy Club garter.

Dancing Cheek To Cheek-Mado McClure snuggles up to Brent Coler as they dance at the prom.

Are We Having Fun Yet?-Todd Alexander and Laurie Buechler seem to be yearning for jeans and a Sonic coke.

Turn Out The Lights-Yvonne Krutza, Joe Morris, Keith Harper, and Dana Harris sway to a slow song.

A True Gentleman-Kevin Tatum assists Jocelyn Davis before he takes his seat.

Graduation Held In The Gym

Class of '86 Breaks Tradition

The 1986 commencement exercises were held in the CHS gymnasium due to rain, but the gym was filled to overflowing in spite of the storm.

At eight o'clock, the seniors began to file into the gym to the traditional graduation march, 'Pomp and Circumstance.' After Rev. Charles Dodson gave the invocation, salutatorian Tim Warren gave a touching welcoming speech. The CHS concert choir sang, and then Jason Gibert delivered the valedictory.

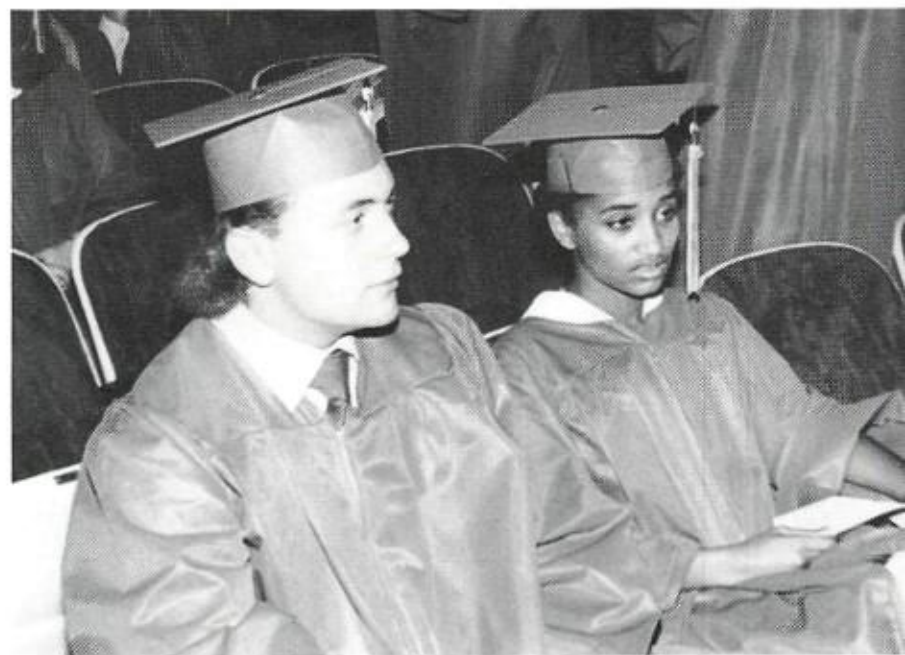

After Superintendent Dr. Marvin Crawford accepted the class of '86 for graduation, diplomas were handed to each graduate by school board president Tom Escoe and school board member Dwain Brady. CHS principal Barry Rivers recognized the 1986 honor graduates, and Elder Hubert Owens gave the benediction.

The graduates then sang the Alma Mater and, as is traditional, tossed their caps into the air.

The Waiting Is The Hardest Part- Jason Ballenger and Maureen Balachandran anxiously await the initiation of the graduation ceremonies.

We Can't Wait- Susan Scott and Steve Scott try to be patient as the last seniors march into the gym.

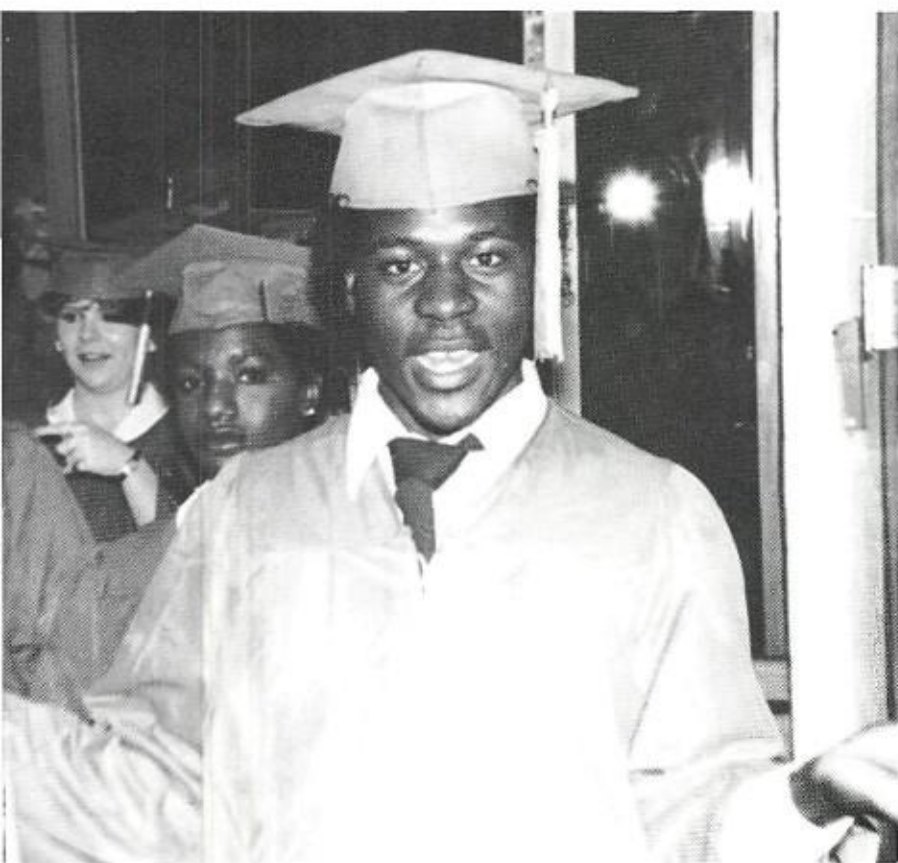

A Tearful Farewell- Tom Warren addresses a tearful salutatory to the class of '86.

At Last- Darla Youngblood will receive the last diploma at the 1986 graduation exercises.

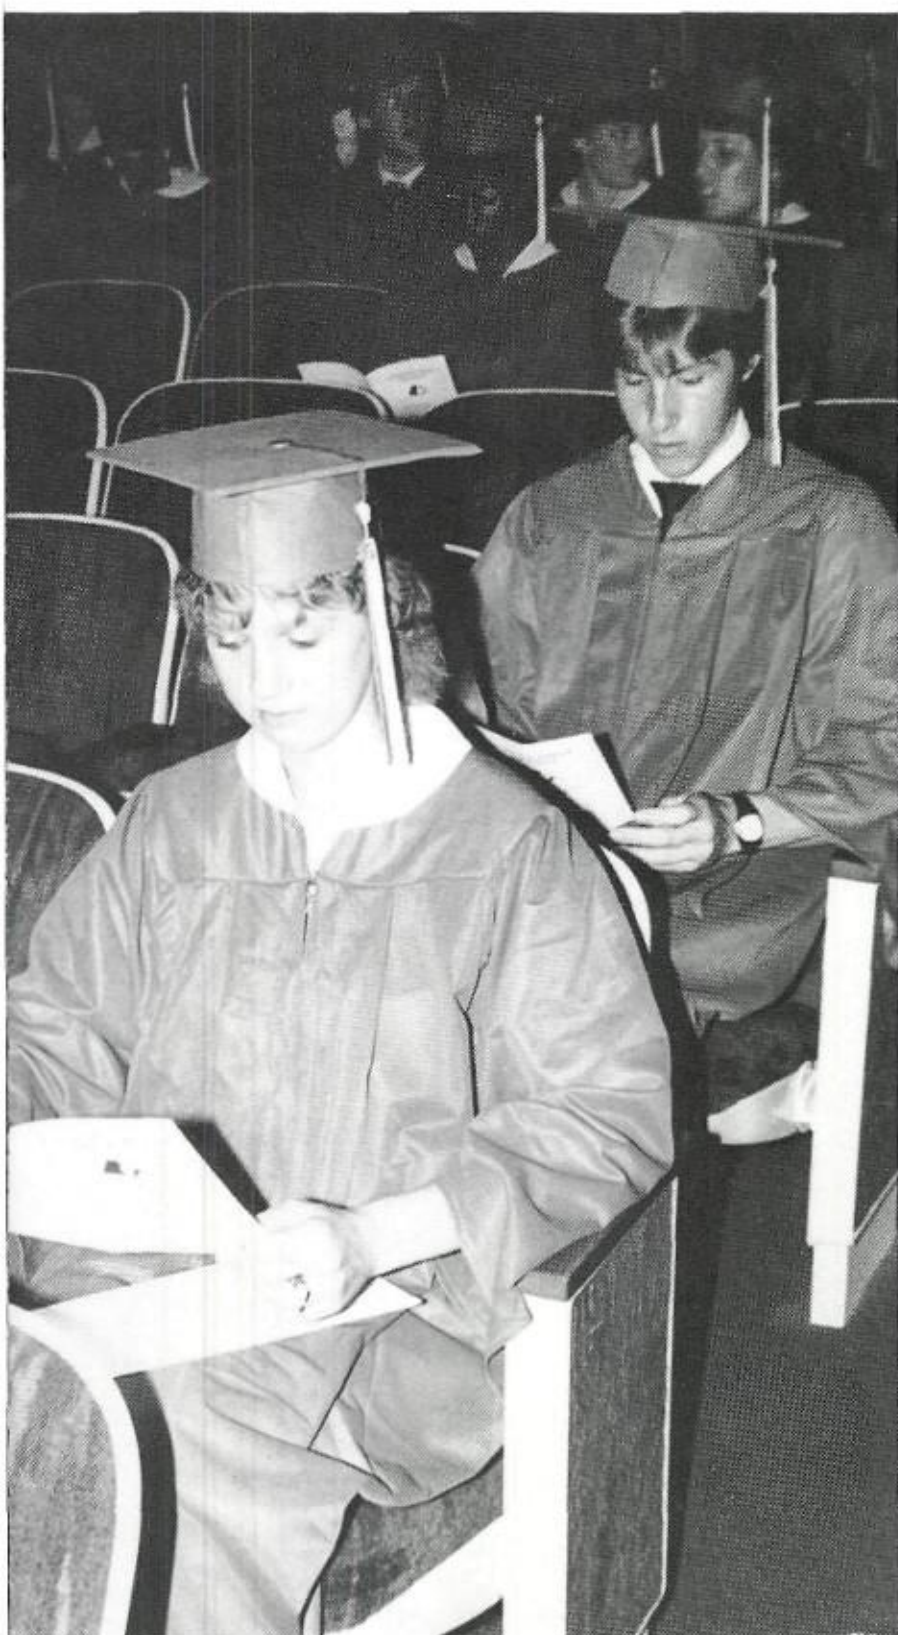

I Made It!-Ella Lister listens as James Lewis exclaims that he has finally made it to the big night.

First In Line-Joey Abernathy, Kerry

Allen, Todd Alexander, Eric Allen, John Alexander, and Amy Abernathy have mixed feelings about leading the graduates.

Is It Here?-Sheila Fields and Charlie Harvey check the program to make sure their names are included.

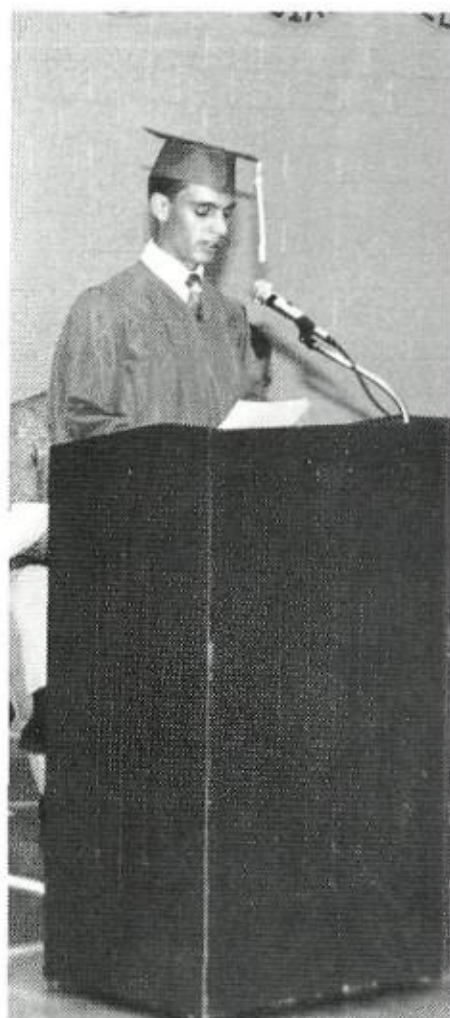

The Final Performance-Front Row: Patti LaGrone, Madonna McClure, Bridget Goree, Myra Moore, Robin Anderson, Meko Kelly, Lori Ewins, Amy Abernathy, Beth Baker, Demetra Ware;

Rain Does Not Dampen Spirits

A Sea Of Red-The seniors of '86 sit as a class for the last time.

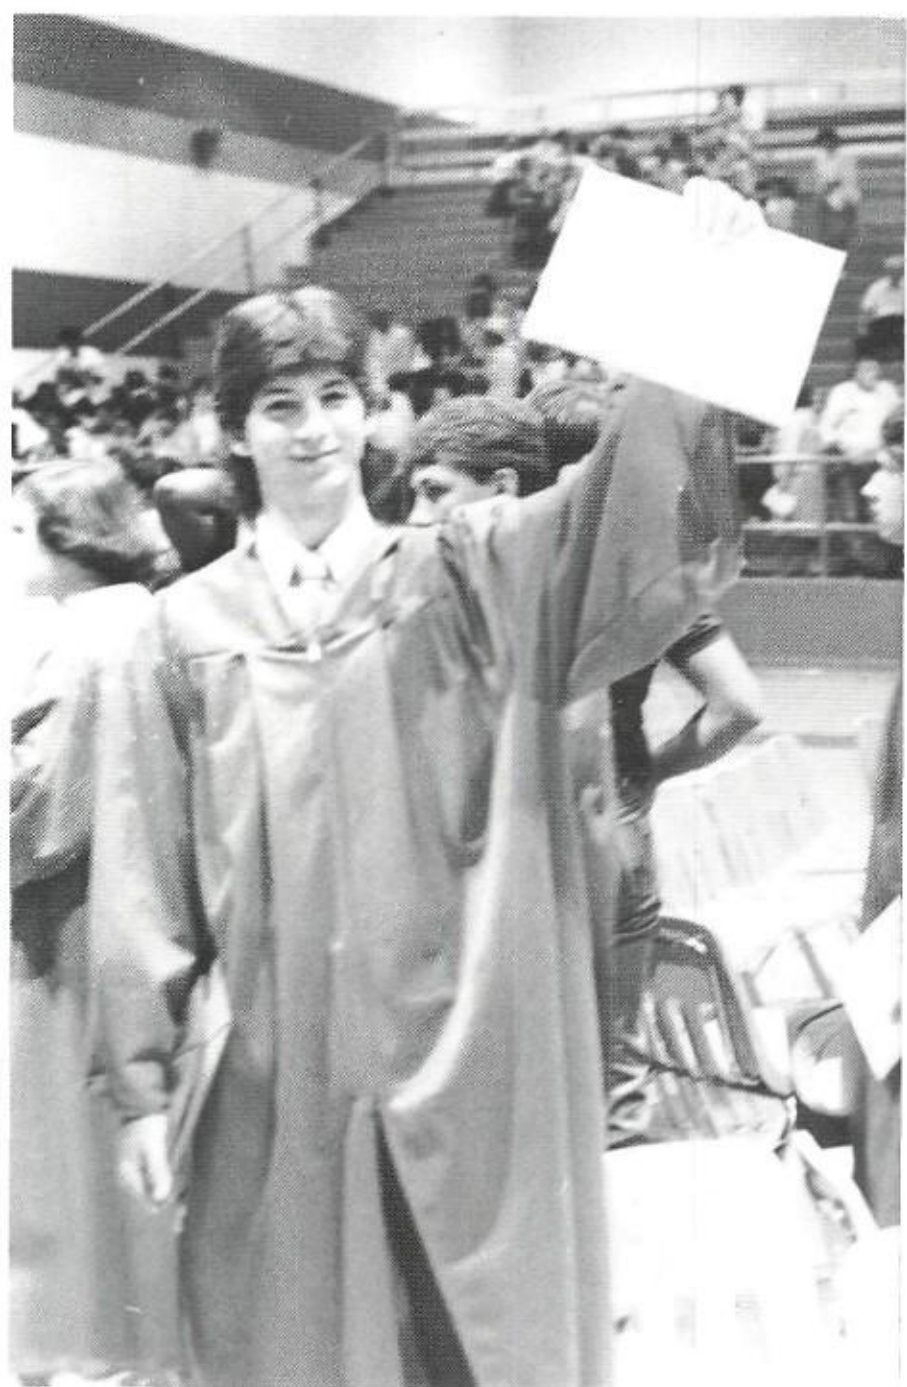

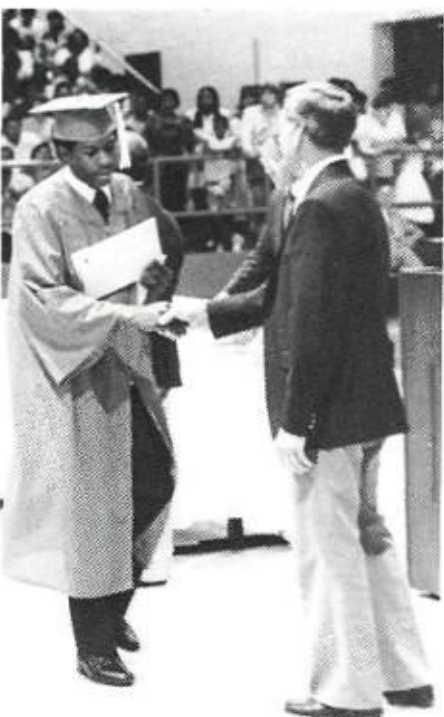

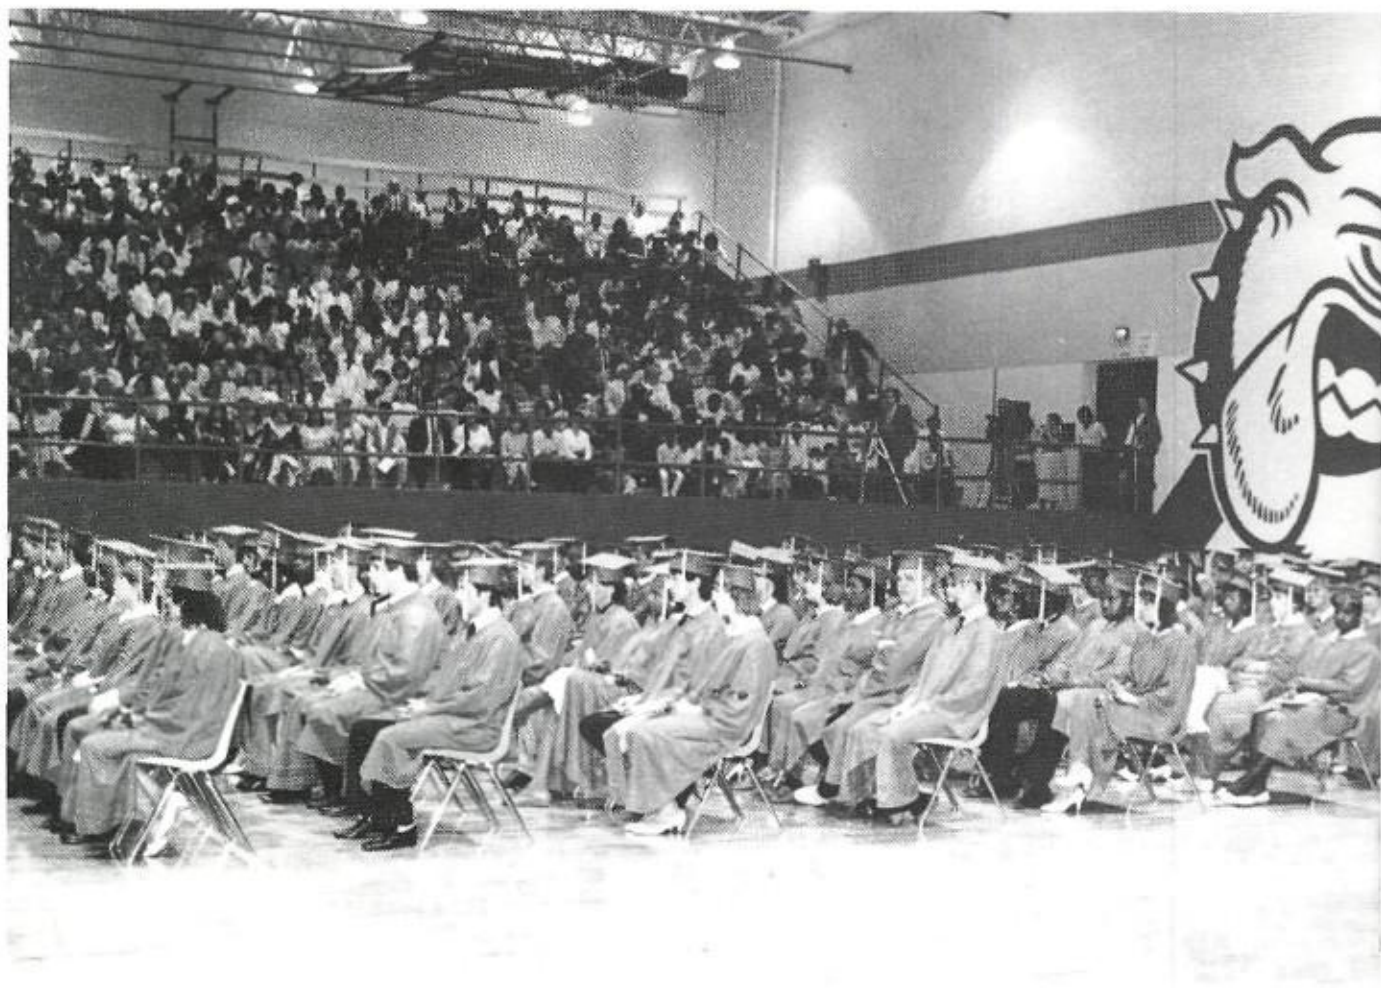

The Last Goodbye-Jason Gibert addresses the valedictory to his somber classmates.

Thanks Dad-Dana Brady receives her diploma from her father, Mr. Dwain Brady, a school board member.

Look Mom!-Doc Brady is obviously proud of his well-deserved diploma.

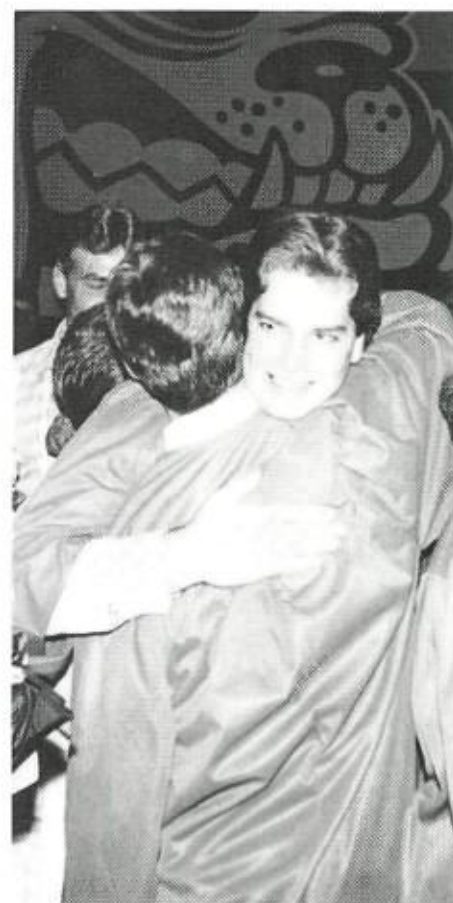

Congratulations-Rick Boatley shakes hands with Dr. Marvin Crawford after receiving his diploma.

Of Course I Won't Be Home Tonight-Michelle Sneed and Jerri Long take time out from tearful remembrances to discuss their plans for after the ceremony.

Ready?-Kellie Mosley calculates the precise angle at which to give Todd Griffith a congratulatory embrace.

It's Been Great-T.J. Pelton gives Bill Huff a hug that says it all.

Hurrah!-At the end of the graduation ceremony, the seniors toss their caps into the air in celebration.

Always Rockin' Always Revin' We're the Seniors '87

Juniors looked forward to being seniors. As they waited, the senior class kept busy with fund-raising activities and required examinations throughout the year.

The junior class sold magazine subscriptions to raise money for the junior/senior banquet. Aaron Neely led the class by collecting $209.50 in magazine orders. The class raised a total of $2,300 with 196 magazine orders.

As mandated by the state legislature, juniors took the Texas Educational Assessment for Minimum Skills (TEAMS) test for the first time. Everyone had to pass the test before the end of the senior year in order to receive a diploma.

Juniors banded together to raise funds for Wendy Stephens, who had a rare blood disease and needed treatment in New York. They raised $935. 'The most important thing to me was seeing the juniors get together to help Wendy,' said Debbie Taylor.

Most juniors enjoyed being with their friends on the weekends and at off times. 'I enjoy going up town and just being with my friends,' said Shawntel Riley.

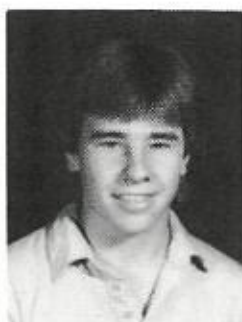

Many juniors were active in sports, assemblies, and other extracurricular activities. 'The highlight of my junior year was leading my football team in rushing and touchdowns, rapping at the P. Burr assembly, and dancing at the TuxHop,' said Jeff Jones.

Another athletic junior, Debbie Kasper, said, 'Getting named to the All-district Basketball team was the most exciting time of my junior year.'

The most prevalent attitude of the junior class was finishing the year and becoming seniors. 'Being a junior meant being one step closer to being a senior,' said Angela Rougley.

Julie and Shannon Are Favorites

The juniors chose Julie Alexander and Shannon Smith as their class favorites for the 1985-86 school year. 'Being class favorite means having a good feeling about myself and others as well. This is an honor only few have a chance to receive during our high school years, and once received it is never forgotten. The meaning is unexplainable,' said Julie.

Julie was active in FTA and the Key Club. She was junior class vice president and junior class representative on the Student Council.

She enjoyed Mrs. Smith's English class. Her favorite teachers were Mrs. Smith, Mrs. Ballard, and Mr. Garrett. 'After high school I plan to attend a court reporting school in Dallas and then major in law at Texas A & M,' said Julie.

Shannon Smith was active in FFA, Key Club, FCA, Student Council, and his church youth group. 'To me being class favorite means that I have the respect of my fellow students, and I must set an example for them to follow,' said Shannon.

His favorite teacher was Mr. Garrett, and English was his favorite class. 'I plan to attend Baylor University to major in law after high school graduation,' said Shannon.

Anne and Ali Enjoy CHS

Although it was just an ordinary school year for most students, it was extraordinary for Anne Valo and Ali Ghiassi, the first foreign exchange students at CHS.

Anne was from Ruske, Finland. While in Carthage, she enjoyed going to the movies, riding around town, and going to parties. 'Bicycling takes up a lot of my time because I am a cyclist and I have to exercise a lot, and I go to races,' said Anne. She enjoyed being part of the CHS student body and thought school was easier here than in her own country. She found everything a little different in the USA before returning to Finland in June.

Ali was visiting from Frankfurt, Germany. Ali enjoyed skate-boarding and going to parties. He thought school was easier here and enjoyed CHS. Tennis was Ali's favorite class, and Miss Winters was his favorite teacher.

'After leaving Carthage, I plan to go to California for two months to practice skateboarding, and then go back to Germany. I plan to go to college in America,' said Ali.

HAVING FUN- Anne Valo talks to Kathy Beasley and Tracy Colston during gym.

WORKING HARD- Ali Ghiassi constructs his project in general wood-working.

T.E.A.M.S. Began With Juniors

Test, Test, Test! The juniors took the Texas Educational Assessment for Minimum Skills (TEAMS) test for the first time in October. In order to graduate, they had to score satisfactorily. The test consisted of two parts, English/language arts and mathematics.

Rhonda Beck said, 'It was easier than the TABS test we took our freshman year.'

'The reason for taking the test was because the state mandated it,' said Mrs. Betty Bounds.

Ninety percent of the students passed the language arts, and seventy-nine percent passed the mathematics.

The students who did not take the test in November had to take it on January 28 and 29.

They held math tutorials during lunch for the students who did not pass that part. Mrs. Karen Reeves was their teacher.

PERFECTION- Karen Booth perfects her typing during class.

Juniors Enjoy To The Fullest

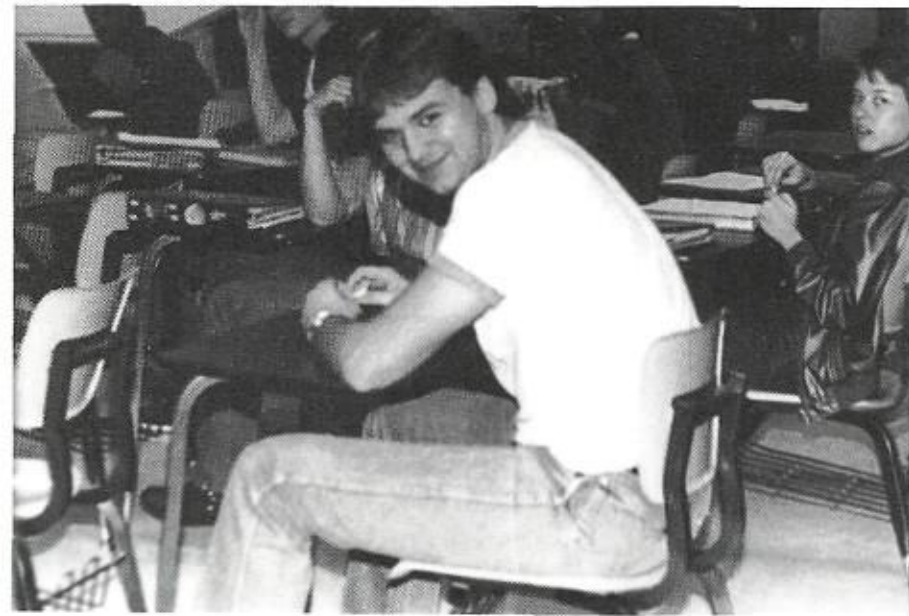

In the fall of the 1985-86 school year, the Juniors achieved upperclassmanship. To go with this honor they had a lot of requirements. They were active in subjects ranging from sports to academics. Their main concern was keeping a grade average of 70 in all their classes so they could participate in extra-curricular activities. That meant a lot of hard work and extra studying time.

SMILEY FACE-Greg Whitsett is all smiles when it comes to getting his picture taken.

Mickey, Junior-Trela Thomas is a junior at CHS, but she's also a member of the Mickey Mouse Club.

Friend To Friend-Mr. Charles Newton and Rollin Barnes enjoy talking with each other between classes.

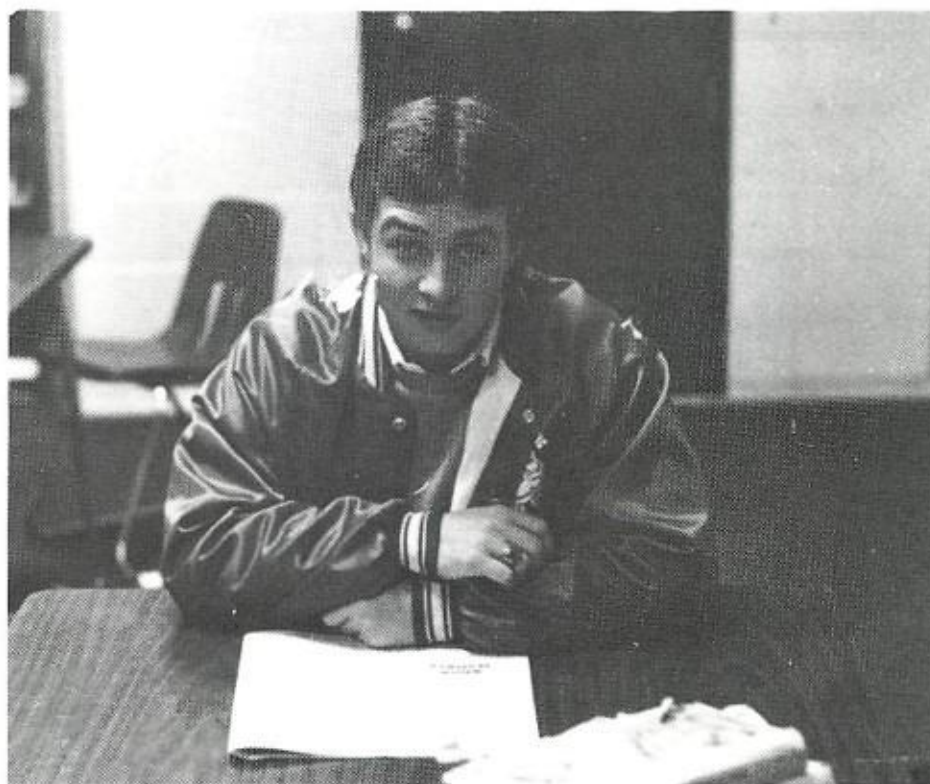

Attention Getter-Debra Cummings refuses to pay attention to the teacher when it comes to cameras.

Rapping To The Beat-Jeff Jones enjoys his rapping debut at the Pine Burr Assembly.

Fascinated Cowboy-Bryan Pride is surprised by his team roping score as his roping partner Brad Gillis takes it all in stride, knowing he always does his best.

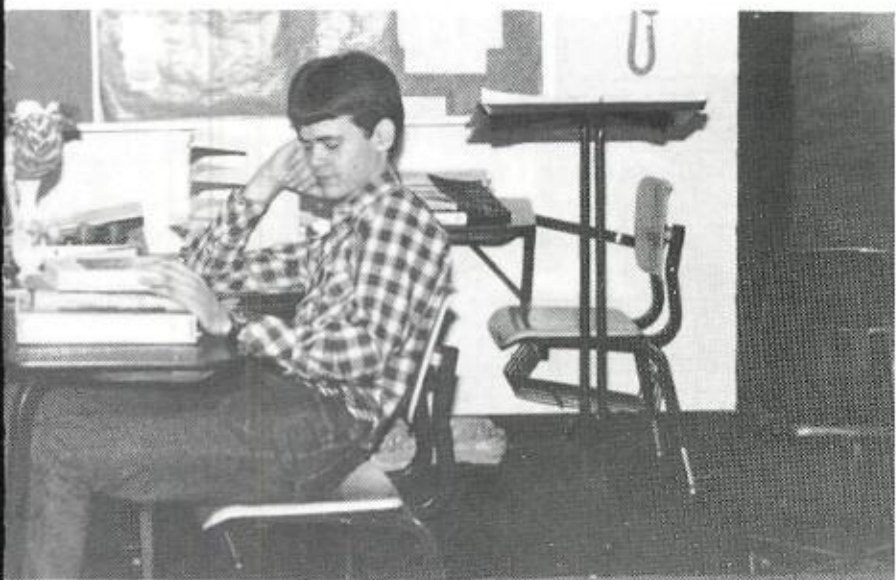

Sophisticated Junior-Daniel Davis would not think of doing any work until he finishes reading the latest Bulldog Tales in The Carthaginian.

We Are Super, We Are Great, We're The Seniors '88

Sophomores were in a class all their own. Having survived their first year of high school, they were prepared to administer a little of their own superiority over the freshmen.

While lording it over the freshmen, they soon discovered that upperclassmanship also brought more responsibilities and more homework. From bug collecting in Biology I to working on section surveys in American history, the pressure placed on the sophomores was not to be taken lightly. Most of the sophomores accepted the challenges set before them, realizing that the next two years would not get any easier.

Also, sophomores participated in many extracurricular activities. Students took part in UIL events and every area of sports. Their continuous activity increased their involvement in all school events. They especially enjoyed going to the auditorium for assemblies, another sign that they were growing up.

With all the outrageous behaviors, sophomores managed to keep everyone else smiling. Whether they gossiped during lunch, laughed around, or dressed up during Spirit Week, everyone looked up to them as the top class, especially in their own eyes.

Yount, Skelton Top of the Class

Being chosen favorite by your class members is a big honor. It shows that one is liked by a majority of the students. The sophomore favorites for this year were Angie Skelton and Dwayne Yount.

Both enjoy a variety of pastimes. Angie's hobbies included water-skiing, dancing, twirling, and swimming. Dwayne spent his spare time having fun with his friends and working at the Pizza Hut.

Angie was active in the band, FTA, FCA, and Key Club. She served as a majorette in the band and performed at all pep rallies and halftimes of the football games.

Dwayne participated in the band, also. He was active in the Key Club, football, baseball, and the Student Council.

Angie's favorite movie was 'The Outsiders' and her favorite song was 'Rough Boy'. Dwayne enjoyed 'First Blood' and the song 'Do Me Baby', as well as cheese tater tots from the Sonic.

Angie's most embarrassing moment was being blessed by a bird while Dwayne recalled sitting through three red lights at a busy intersection trying to locate first gear.

Angie and Dwayne were excellent examples of what sophomores were and what they were involved in during the year.

Officers Lead

The officers elected by the sophomore class were president, Matt Reed; vice-president, Dwayne Yount; secretary, Beth Baker; and treasurer, Nkechi Black.

The officers represented their class members at Student Council meetings, and they were in charge of sophomore activities during Spirit Week. They decided to have a dress-up day in which most of the sophomores dressed as nerds.

Leaders of the Pack-the class officers were Dwayne Yount, vice-president; Matt Reed, president; Beth Baker, secretary; and Nkechi Black, treasurer.

CLASS RIVAL PREVAILS

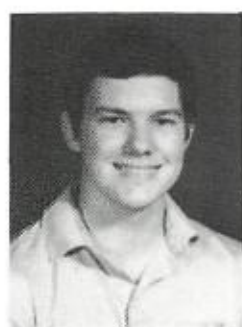

The sophomore class caused a great deal of talk during Spirit Week as they harassed the seniors.

The commons area became the sight of a friendly feud between the seniors and the sophomores with the appearance and disappearance of signs which referred to the class of '86 as less than perfect. The seniors fought back with a sign expressing their own ideas of the class of '88.

The seniors' sign fell to the floor under mysterious circumstances and this continued the animosity between upperclassmen and lowerclassmen. Eventually each side resolved their differences.

The Big Cheese-Polly Knight shows off her brilliant smile.

We Are Classy, We Are Fine, We're The Seniors '89

Freshmen were greeted with new graduation requirements they entered high school. As opposed to previous classes who needed twenty-one credits to graduate, the '89 class must acquire twenty-two or twenty-two and one half credits. In addition to this new curriculum was formulated with two sets of graduation requirements.

Advanced level students must have completed two years of foreign language, one year of fine arts, drama, art, or music, and one year of computer literacy. This route left only three electives available during their four year term. Students taking courses at the regular level must also have met one year of computer literacy and an extra year of math.

Another requirement freshmen experienced was a Hunter Safety Course, teaching young people responsible and safe practices for handling firearms. Also, the Texas Assessment of Basic Skills or TABS tests had to be satisfactorily completed by the time of graduation. If an area of the test was failed, it was retaken until a passing grade was earned.

Ballots were handed out in January, and freshmen carefully marked their preferences. After tedious tallying, Sharon Wilson and Chet Wall were named favorite girl and boy of the class.

When Sharon is not at school, she likes shopping and dancing. Occasionally she catches a movie. Her favorite is 'The Color Purple'. At home, Sharon spends her time on the telephone.

Chet maintains a busy schedule, participating in football, basketball, track, and band. He enjoys listening to music. His favorite movie is 'Nightmare on Elm Street'.

There was no limit to the support and spirit that the junior high students gave to the activities that involved their school. From pep rallies at 7:30 in the morning to the thrilling football and basketball games, the sixth, seventh, and eighth grade students always supported their teams with an arousing enthusiasm.

The energy and vitality carried over into academic pursuits as well. Literary events in UIL attracted students willing to work overtime to represent their school at district competition in Jacksonville. Counsellor Mrs. Oden, director of the UIL events, said, 'The students really worked hard and we planned to win it all again and keep up our winning tradition.'

Assemblies highlighted the year for the junior high students. The choir performed 'Pandora' and a Christmas program complete with Santa Claus and Rudolph. The annual awards assembly recognized students in all areas from athletics to academics. Their compassion was shared as they held an open-air service for the American heroes who died aboard the Challenger in January.

In whatever the junior high school students participated, they always seemed to approach it with a considerable amount of enthusiasm.

Musicians Excel

Coming out on top seemed to be the main goal of the Carthage Junior High band. And coming out on top was just exactly what they did.

The seventh grade and eighth grade bands both made straight first division ratings at the University Interscholastic League concert and sightreading contest. Both bands also participated in performing at football games and pep rallies to help promote school spirit.

Many of these fine musicians also went on to all-region band and UIL solo and ensemble contest.

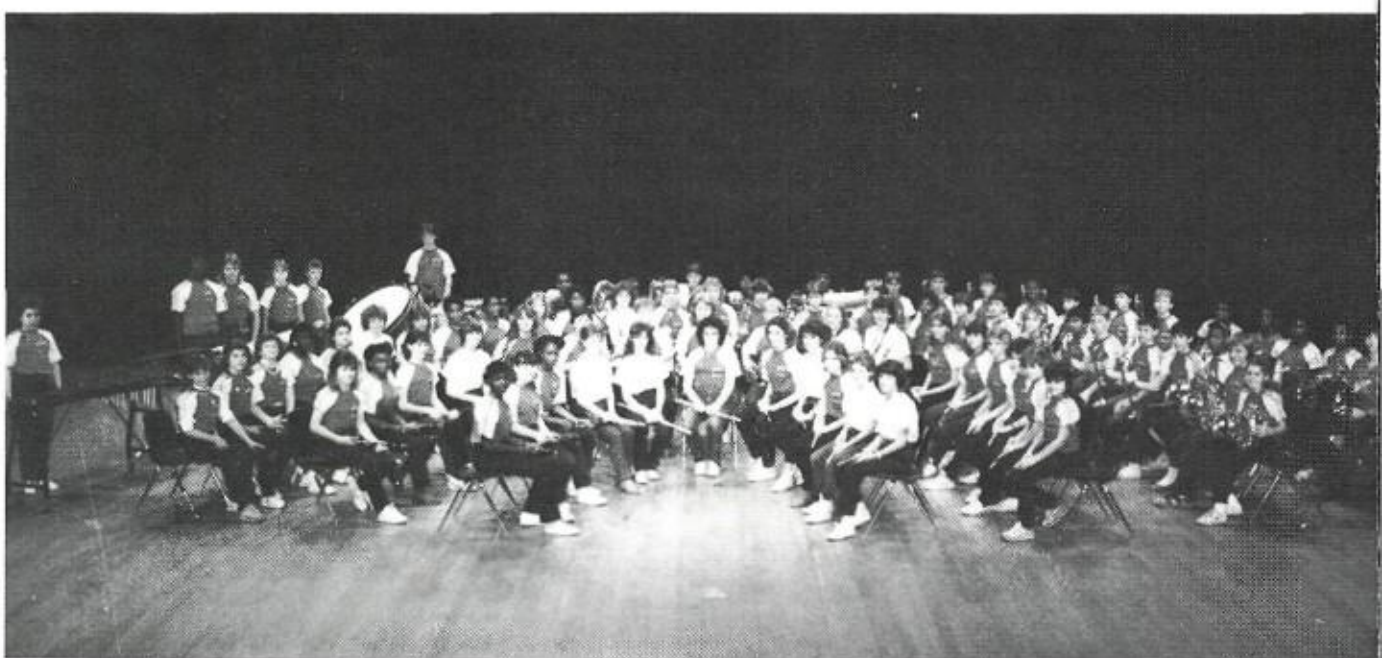

Eighth Grade Twirlers--Melinda Langlotz, Kim Cranford, Pam Kasper, Jodi Thompson, Angie Foster, Michelle Dorsey, Maria Hanley, Jeannette McCarty.

Choir Brings Music To All

The CJHS choirs, directed by Mrs. Joyce Hughes, took tremendous interest in entertaining. The choirs performed a musical comedy, Pandora, a PTA concert, a Christmas concert, a Texas Public Schools performance, a spring concert, and a sesquicentennial concert on the square.

Earning a place in all-district choir is an honor achieved only by hard work and dedication. CJHS was represented in this choir by Shellie O'Neal, Kendra Smith, Lynn O'Neal, Guin Shabo, Robin Trimble, Tim Harkrider, Bret Jimerson, and Chris Glasper. These students were chosen from 800 voices during a clinic in Palestine.

Other students earning recognition in choir this year were Jan Mills, Tasha Jones, Pamela Hamilton, Laura Roberson, Maria Cole, and Catherine Matheson.

The choir learned the techniques needed for perfection in singing. They practiced many hours training their voices for advanced singing. The choir members worked very hard to represent CJHS and they did a fantastic job.

IAC Works Hard

The Industrial Arts Club, sponsored by Jan Pelton and Franklin Head, worked to accomplish several goals during the year.

Club members studied wood-working, metalworking, and mechanics. The knowledge that they obtained came in handy as they prepared for contest in April.

IAC members included Bradd Reeves, Damon Dotson, Kristi Jordan, Lynn O'Neal, Brad Milam, Shellie O'Neal, Kelley Mathis, Chris Stockton, Jimmy Colle, Kent Fuselier, Micha Moore, Randy Reeder, Charles Roquemore, and Adrian Sanderlin. Mrs. Jan Pelton and Mr. Franklin Head served as sponsors.

The IAC members participated in the University Interscholastic League events with pleasing results, as they traditionally do.

Even though these students put in extra time and work in completing their individual projects, they found that their efforts paid off in the long run. They had developed skills and received knowledge that would aid them in future careers.

IAC officers included Brad Milam, president; Chris Stockton, vice president; Lynn O'Neal, secretary; Shellie O'Neal, treasurer; Kristi Jordan, reporter; and Bradd Reeves, sergeant-at-arms.

Cheerleaders Spark Spirit!

The 1985-86 cheerleaders were chosen by popular vote of the students and by three impartial judges.

Trying out for cheerleader took a tremendous amount of courage and dedication. It also involved the learning of new cheers, dances, and gymnastics.

Christena Bell was chosen as head cheerleader by the other members of the squad who were Angela Bishop, Kendra Smith, Jennifer Broach, Tunisia Lewis, Stephanie Bates, Ashley Pasquier, and Tana Thomas.

The dedicated sponsors for the pep squad and cheerleaders were Donna Cariker and Gerry Sims.

The coaches, David Pyle, Charles Boyd, Paul Prince, and Greg Johnson, were optimistic about the season. 'They played well beyond their abilities and improved every game as the season progressed, and this proved to be the big difference in the '85 football season,' said Coach Pyle.

With effective leadership and a consistent offense, the Pups were able to move the ball against powerful opponents. 'The overall weakness was the

The Bullpups will remember many things about the '85 season. One memorable moment occurred when the fans poured into the dressing room after the Chapel Hill game to express their congratulations.

The Bullpups worked as a unit and showed promise for continuing the winning tradition in high school.

Pups Capture District Crown

Coached by Annette Portley, the CJHS girls' basketball A team swept through district, winning first place, while the B team tied for second.

The leaders on the A team were Shannon Morrison and Shunna Jones. Coach Portley said, 'When these two girls played their best, the team seemed to play together more.'

The most exciting game of the season was when Carthage played Henderson and won by only one point. 'The fans jumped to their feet and yelled their lungs out. They pumped our spirits up and helped us win the game,' said Pam Kasper.

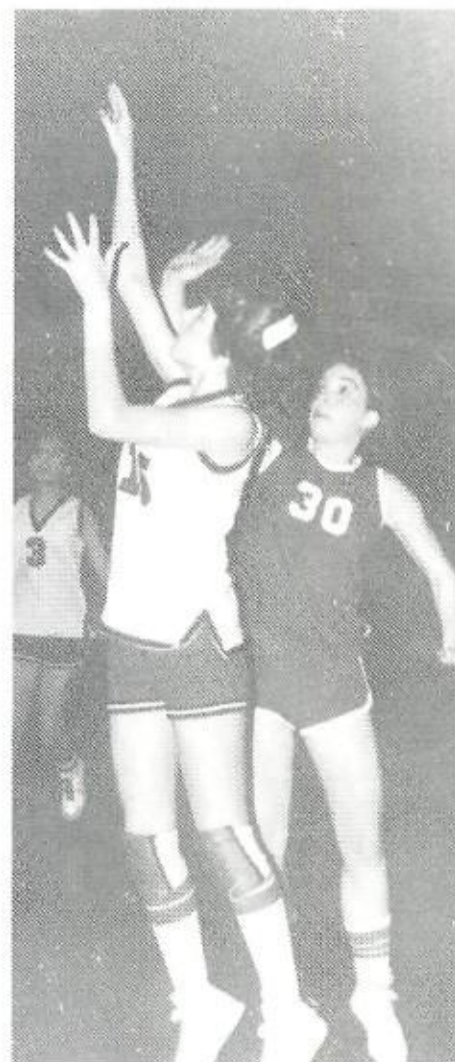

The season was filled with memory-making experiences.

Dani Kozlowski will never forget the backwards shot she threw up that found its way through the hoop for two more points.

The hard work and long hours of practice put in by the Lady Bullpups resulted in their earning the district crown.

Tracksters Star

Coached by David Pyle and Greg Johnson, the junior high boys' track team captured fourth place in district and the girls', coached by Annette Portley, ran away with third place.

On both teams, there were many outstanding competitors and team leaders. The girls looked to seventh grader Jacie Williams, and the eighth graders looked to Dionne McMillan and Tunisia Lewis for leadership while the boys turned to Brad Milam, LaDale Whitfield, Brett Chandler and Thomas Williams.

The outstanding achievement of the boys' season was their overall improvement. At the first meet, they earned only six points, but by the time the district meet was run, they had increased the score to 84 points.

The girls' team highlight occurred when Jacie Williams jumped 17'4" in the long jump. The 400-meter relay team ran a 53.52 time which was the season's best time.

Both the girls' and boys' track teams improved times and distances to achieve their district standings.

Following in the footsteps of the students in high school, junior high students were well on their way to becoming full-fledged CHS students.

they played video games. Most of them disliked spinach, homework, and bell-bottom blue jeans.

Many students at junior high participated in extracurricular activities such as sports, band, drama and UIL. Besides doing these things at school, they found time to go uptown on the weekends, grab something to eat and catch a good movie. Wherever the younger generation might appear, they took pride in their words and actions because they knew that they were students of the awesome CJHS.

Junior High Takes All At UIL

Carthage took first place honors with a total of 254 points at the UIL Literary Meet in Jacksonville in April.

Sixth graders who competed and placed were Shelley Worthington, second in expressive writing; Chad Milstead, first in number sense; and Michelle Browning and Donna Gibson, first and third places in spelling. The sixth grade music memory team that consisted of Jan Mills, Pamela Hamilton, Laura Robinson, Tasha Jones, Catherine Matheson, and Maria Cole won first place.

Seventh graders who competed and placed were Brian Biggs and Regina Harris, first and second in impromptu speaking; Kristi Kear, first in modern oratory; and Michael Ingram, second in modern oratory;

In the eighth grade, Lori Fleener and Tiffani Hooper captured second and third places in impromptu speaking while Shellie and Lynn O'Neal received first and third places in spelling. Matt Parker took second place in science while Maria Hanley, Melinda Langlotz, and Greg Ballard received first, second, and third places in modern oratory.

In oral reading, Pam Kasper and Melissa Sparks swept second and third places. The one-act play all-star cast included Lori Fleener, Tara Vacula, and Micah Moore.

Ten junior high students also received high honors by being named by the faculty as the Pacesetters of CJHS. These students were chosen for character, citizenship, academic, and leadership abilities. Those chosen were Brian Biggs, Shellie O'Neal, Tim Harkrider, Lynn O'Neal, Robin Trimble, Christena Bell, Kristi Jordan, Brad Milam, Kendra Smith, Andy Vincent and Bret Jimerson.

Respected Official Retires

Mr. Bill Tatum, who has been principal at Carthage Junior High School for fifteen years, retired this year.

Tatum attended college at Southwest Texas State University in San Marcos. He came to Carthage High School as a basketball coach and later served as an assistant principal.

Mr. Tatum enjoyed his work with young people through the years. 'I have enjoyed my years as principal at Carthage Junior High,' said Tatum, 'especially seeing young people develop into adults and move into high school. I'm glad I have been able to share this with the students at a good time in their lives.'

Mr. Tatum plans to spend a great deal of time with his wife and probably travel to Brazil to see their daughter. 'I feel like now is the time to retire. My wife really enjoys being retired and we want to spend some time together,' said Mr. Tatum. He also plans to do many things he has not had time for in the past.

In Honor-Mr. Tatum leads a memorial service for the shuttle astronauts.

Eighth Graders Enjoy 'Year at the Top'

The general consensus of the eighth graders was that being in the eighth grade was 'great' . . . and being in high school was going to be even better. 'I think being in the eighth grade has been lots of fun, but I am looking forward to being in high school next year,' said Tracey Hunt.

Many eighth graders still felt that they were not treated as maturely as they would have liked. They definitely did not like to be put down. 'The students in high school think that we are immature just because we are in junior high,' said eighth grader Brandy Pittman. Overall, the junior high school students were very image conscious.

Most students did agree that it was advantageous to be in the 'top grade' at the junior high. Dreama White said, 'I like being in the highest grade in the school.' Eighth grader Clay Still agreed.

Eighth graders participated in many activities during the year including football, band, basketball, cheerleading, track, UIL academic events, and choir. The most memorable event was probably the Sock Hop at the Exposition Center.

8th Grade Chooses Favorites

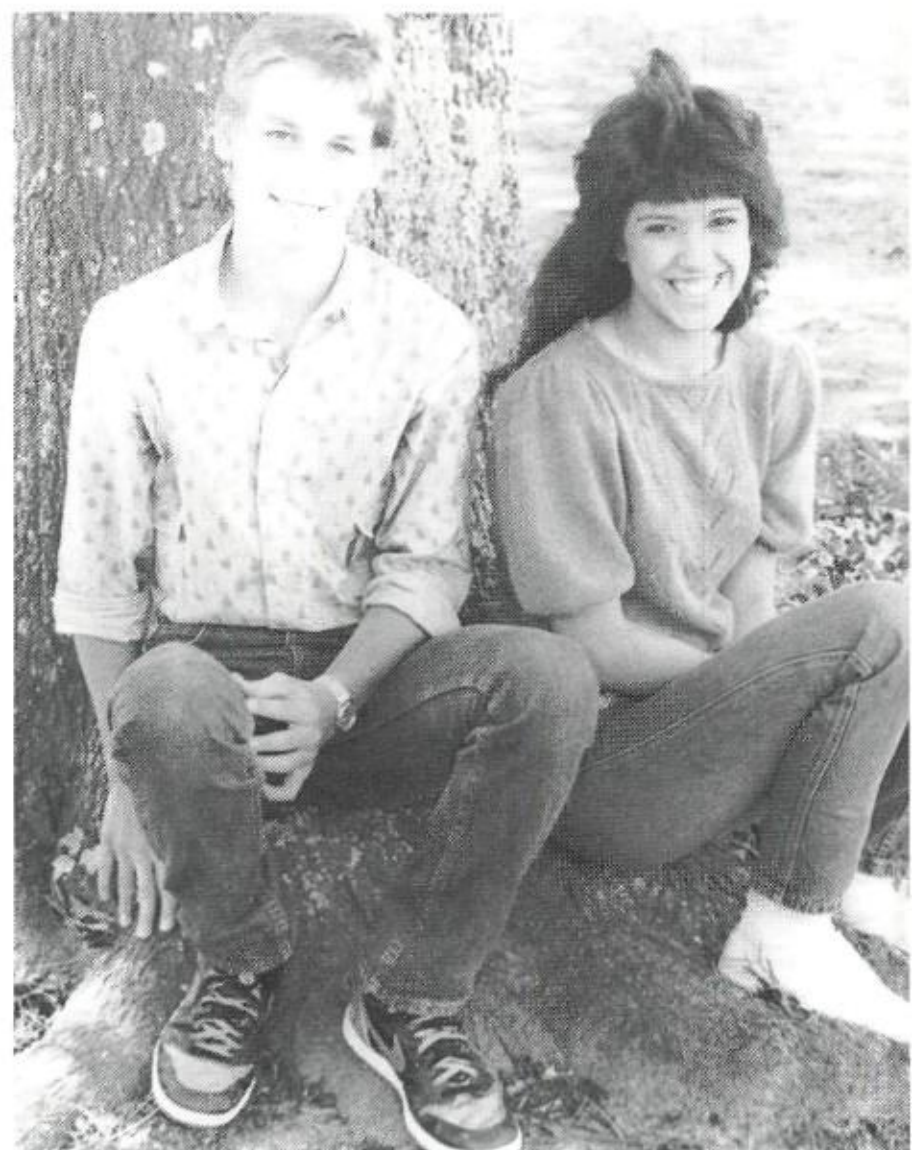

The eighth grade class members chose Tim Harkrider and Christena Bell as their most favorite people. They exemplified what typical eighth graders were like.

Tim's hobbies included playing sports and weightlifting, while Christena spent her free time water skiing and swimming. He enjoyed playing baseball and getting pick-up football and basketball games on Sunday afternoons. Christena liked to cheerlead and to jump on the trampoline to practice her flips.

Tim's favorite song was 'Secret Lovers' and his favorite movie was 'Teen Wolf'. Christena enjoyed the movie 'Youngblood' and her favorite song was 'Rock Me Amadeus'.

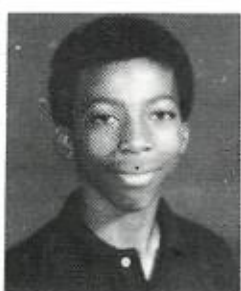

Both students enjoyed American history class best, so Mr. Scott was their favorite teacher. Life at the junior high was very active and interesting for them both as it was for most of the eighth grade class.

Mickey Turns 51

This year an old friend celebrated a birthday. This was not just another ordinary friend. This was Mickey Mouse, the delightful character who has entertained Americans of all ages. The country celebrated his 51st birthday in grand fashion with many people donning Mickey T-shirts and watches.

Mickey Mouse began his career in the 1920's when Walt Disney brought the beloved cartoon character into being. In the first Mickey movies, Disney himself provided the voice for the rambunctious rodent. Then, Mickey got a wife, Minnie. Thousands of people, young and old, have laughed with Mickey, Minnie, and all their friends on television, in comic books, and at the movies.

Although it is sad to see Mickey grow older, it is cheerful to know that through the magic of television he will probably still be around to entertain generations to come.

Look Out World We've Just Begun We're The Seniors '91!

The seventh grade class is often referred to as the 'middle-man' class at Carthage Junior High School. They sometimes get caught in a squeeze between being the little kids and being the bosses.

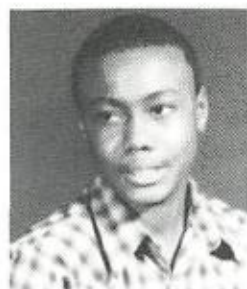

Taking part in many activities helped add to the excitement of junior high as the class members anticipated becoming the top dogs on campus as eighth graders.

With a wider range of activities to choose from students often had to make important decisions concerning their educational options and extra curricular activities. Also, seventh graders learned that more was expected of them by their teachers and parents. They were faced with more classes, more homework, and stricter rules as they became young adults.

Individual preferences and peer pressures determined the activities in which seventh graders would participate. Band, choir, pep rallies, industrial arts club, football, track, basketball, and UIL literary events would some of the choices they faced.

Students were also allowed to take on leadership roles as class officers. Challenges and decisions filled the year for the seventh grade class.

7th Graders Show Leadership

Seventh grade class officers were chosen by popular vote of the student body. Each year many students run for the office of their choice. In order to be a class officer, a student must maintain a 70 or better average and stay out of trouble in the office.

The 1986 seventh grade class officers were Jessica McNatt, president; Brian Biggs, vice president; Molly Pool, secretary-treasurer; and Krisha Wall, reporter.

Eli Davis, class sponsor said that the officers' main duty was to provide leadership for their class. In addition, they presided over class meetings and acted as hosts for Open House. Finally, one of the most important duties of a class officer was to provide input to the administration on ways to improve Carthage Junior High School.

Students learned leadership skills that would help them in their high school careers. According to Mr. Davis, the students were easy to work with and were very hard workers. Davis said, 'The students executed their duties well and efficiently.'

Class Officers-Krishna Wall, Brian Biggs, Molly Pool, and Jessica McNatt served their class well.

Top-Notch Favorites

Brandon Smith and Mindy Hooper were chosen by popular vote to be the class favorites for the seventh grade.

In the entertainment field, both Brandon and Mindy like George Strait. Brandon's favorite song is 'Marina Del Rae' while Mindy likes 'Haven't You Heard'. They both enjoy water skiing in the summers.

Brandon participates in many sporting activities, including snow skiing. He is active in church activities and when it comes to school, his favorite teacher is Mrs. Pass. His favorite movie is Teen Wolf, and he would like to own an Iroc-Z. Brandon hopes to someday be able to run with the bulls in the streets of Spain.

Mindy spends her free time talking on the phone, clogging, and looking at guys. Her favorite movie is Sleepaway Camp. She would like to cruise around town in a Monte Carlo SS. Her favorite subject in school is P.E., so her favorite teacher is Mrs. Biggs.

The World Will Pause, When We Come Through. We're The Seniors of '92

Many sixth graders found junior high school life a giant step above elementary. The sixth graders enjoyed more freedom at the junior high than they had in the fifth grade, and many participated in afterschool activities such as baseball, gymnastics, and twirling for the first time.

Some sixth graders, such as Gay Lynn Jimerson, experienced the additional burden of putting up with harassment by older brothers or sisters. However, most agreed that the eighth graders were, in general, helpful and friendly.

The sixth graders said the biggest change they encountered was the size of the junior high school. 'There were a lot more people over here,' commented Chad Maines.

When the weekend came, sixth graders were no different from anyone else. They could be found watching an exciting movie, eating pizza, and gossiping with friends. They might even be seen cruising around town with an older brother or sister.

Getting adjusted to a new school and meeting new people were some of the things the sixth graders did when they entered Carthage Junior High School this year.

The Life of a Sixth Grader

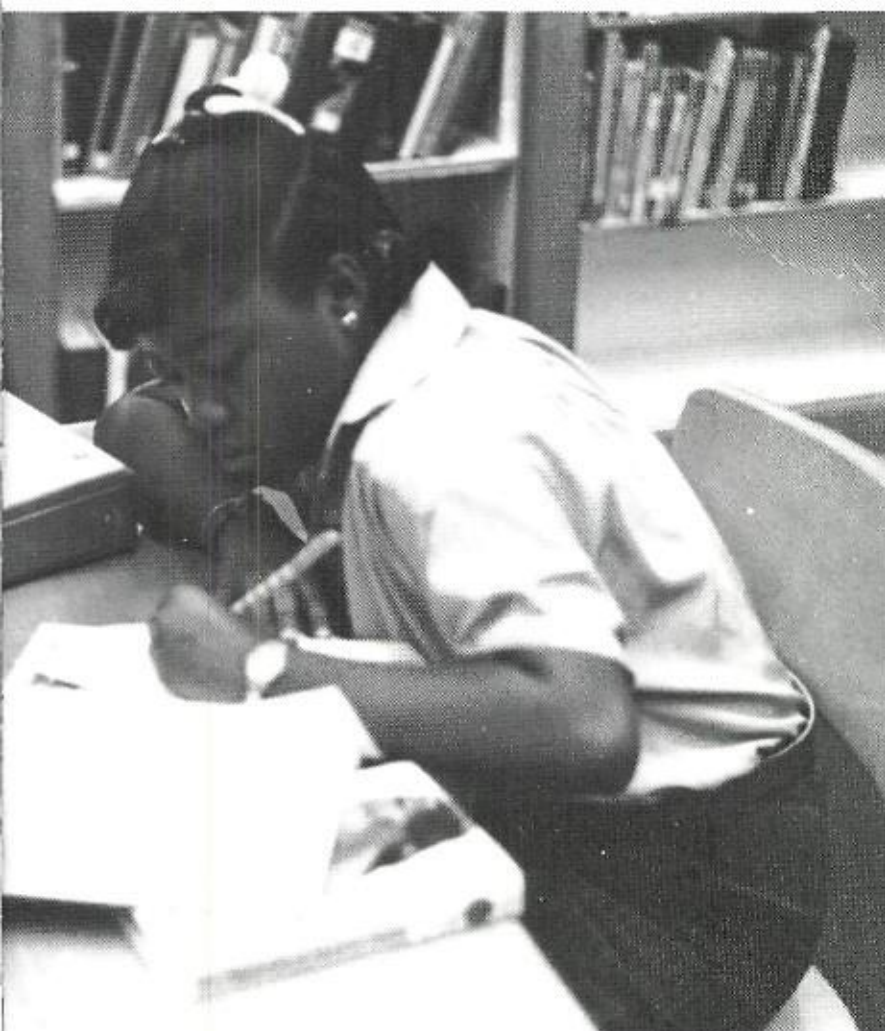

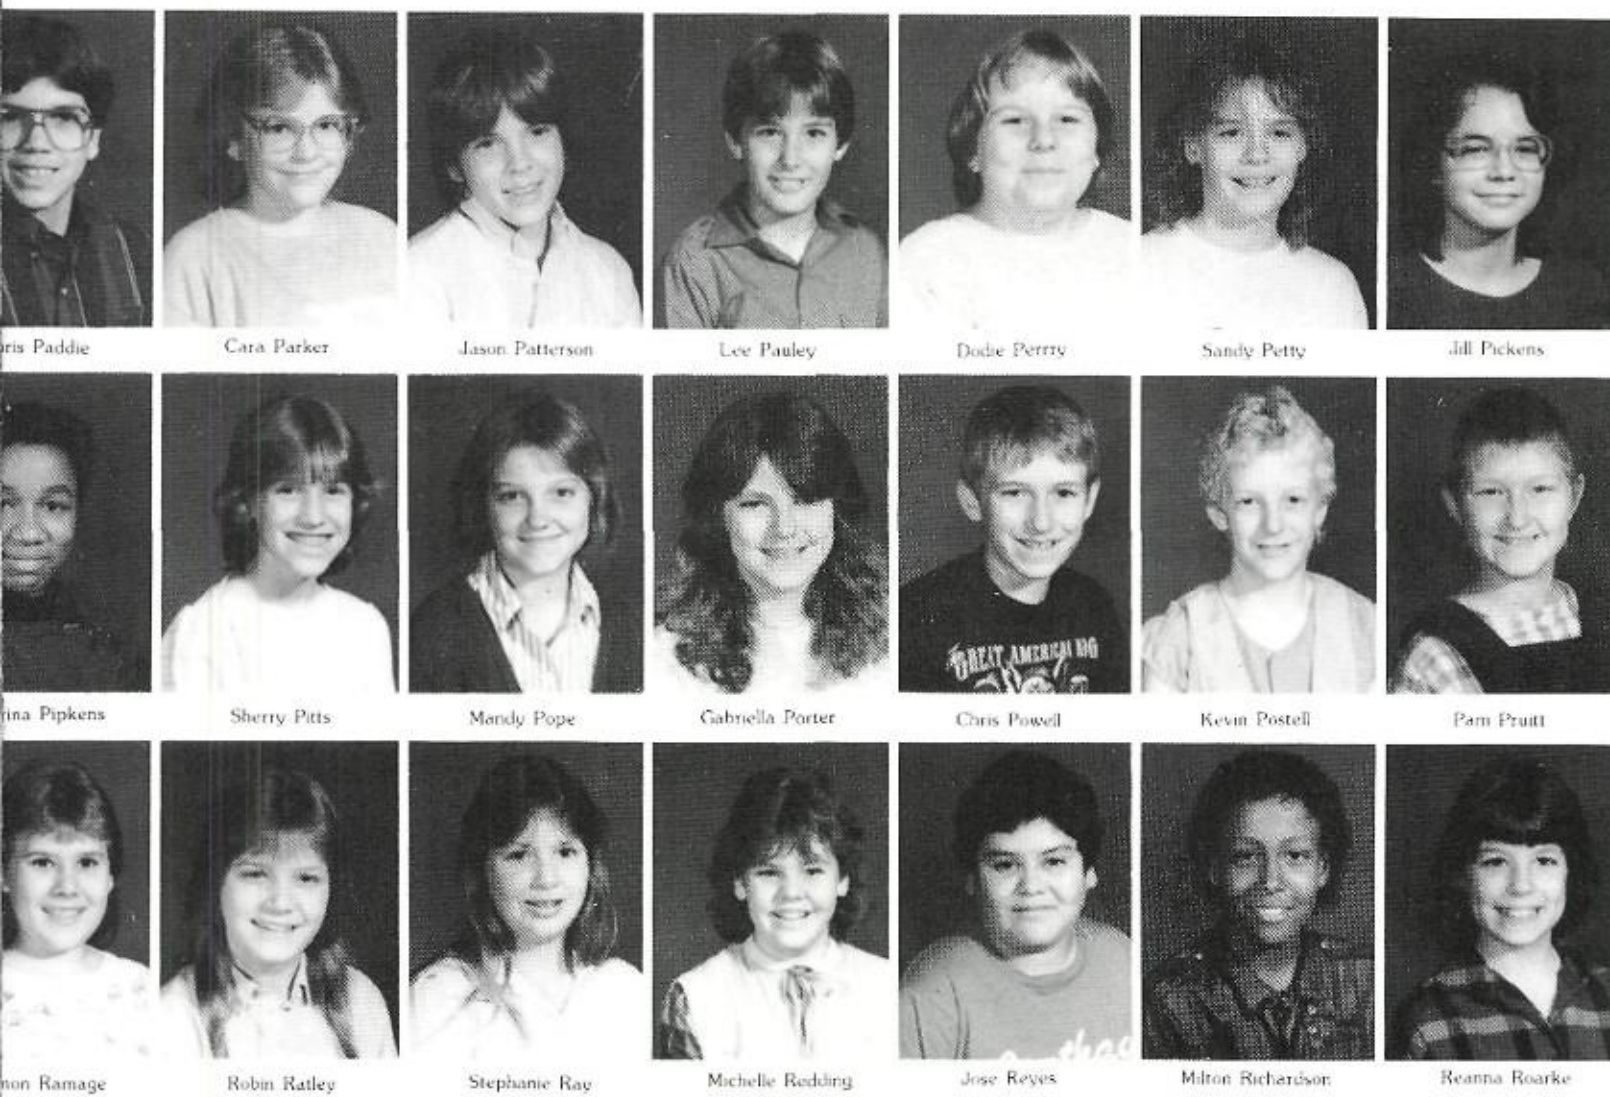

'... thirty-two, thirty-one, thirty more seconds to the tardy bell.' This was what was going through the mind of sixth grader Kathy Fraiser as she hurriedly tried to find her homework that was due next period.

More classes and more homework were just two of the new-found stresses that faced sixth graders. Not to mention the new workload, there was also the added pressures of meeting new teachers, of being the underdogs in a new school, and of choosing from the several extra-curricular activities offered at the junior high school.

The life of a sixth grader was never boring, especially after school hours. When the final bell rang on Friday, the sixth grade hall came alive with whisperings of slumber parties and movie-going. Many sixth graders could be found on any Friday night at the pizza place, cooling down after an exciting movie such as Rocky IV. While some sixth graders enjoyed the night life and some stayed home to watch Miami Vice, they all shared the common dream of wondering if they would ever make it to the big school.

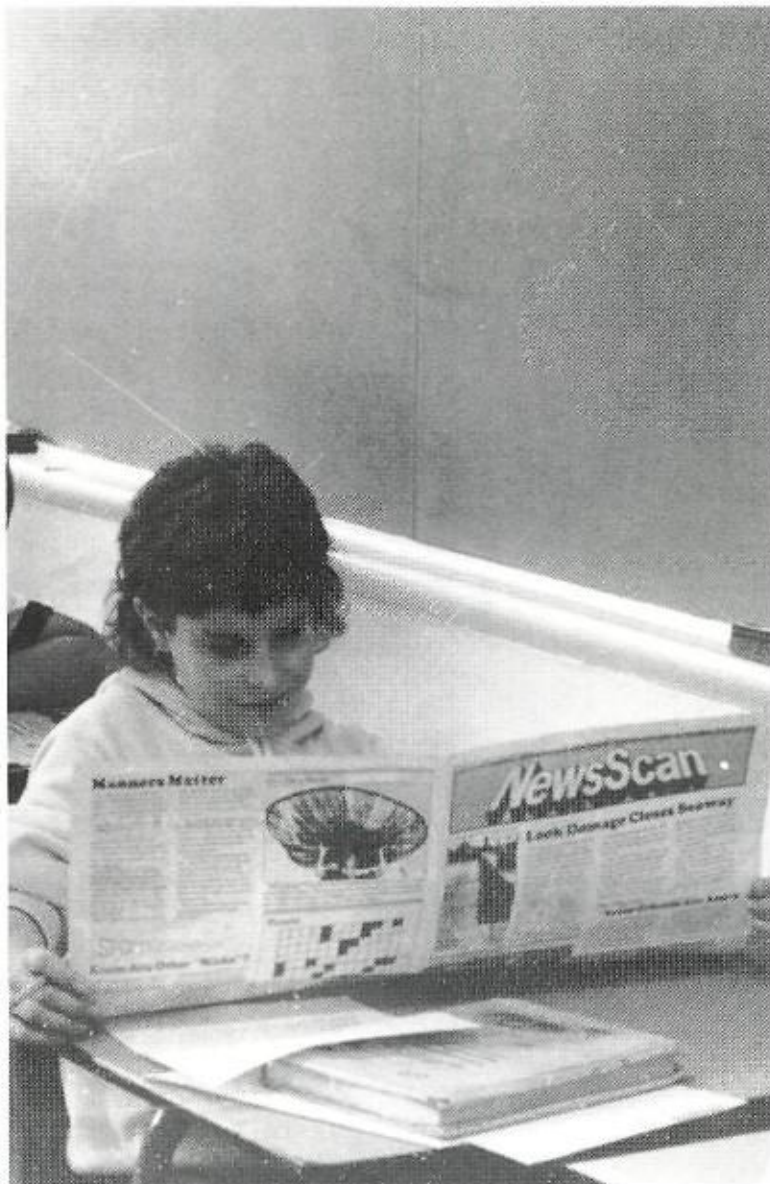

Hurry, Hurry--Kathy Fraiser digs through her books and locker trying to find her homework paper before the tardy bell.

kworm-Shundra Tatum is in deep concentration as she finishes her homework before she goes home for the day.

Read All About It-Brooke Baker reads the News Scan newspaper to increase her knowledge of current world events.

Bolton, Jimerson Chosen Favorites

Being chosen class favorites can be a very exciting moment, but at the same time it can also be a great honor. The sixth graders selected, by popular vote, Marland Bolton and Gay Lynn Jimerson as their favorite boy and girl.

Marland enjoys playing football and basketball in his free time. His favorite subject is social studies while his number one teacher is Mr. Reed. He liked seeing 'Nightmare on Elm Street', and he listens to 'Computer Love' every chance he has. Marland also spends time talking on the telephone and thinking about the corvette he is going to own some day.

Gay Lynn likes to play tennis and basketball, ride horses, and swim. Her favorite song is 'Love Will Find a Way', while 'Teen Wolf' rates highest on her list of movies. In school, she enjoys physical education class best, and her favorite teacher is Mrs. Biggs. Gay Lynn's favorite car is the Honda Prelude. Spending time with her friends and playing outside are activities she enjoys in her spare time.

Being elected class favorite is a result of showing kindness and of being a friend to everyone. It is an humbling honor.

Getting one's picture taken for the ad section was considered a big thrill. It was some students' times to shine in front of the camera and at the same time feature a local business that supported the school.

Some students managed to appear because they could talk their parents or friends into buying an advertisement. Others were the yearbook staff and were drafted by a desperate photographer trying to meet a deadline. The other lucky ones were just at the right place at the right time to be immortalized on film.

The merchants and business people of Carthage willingly helped sponsor the Pine Burr as well as other school projects and publications throughout the year. They supported by purchasing advertising space and by helping present products useful to the student body. They offered students opportunities to shop at home for items such as clothes, school supplies, and cars.

The students showed appreciation by actively patronizing the establishments.

Footloose and Fancy Free-Ali Ghaissi makes airborne decisions about landing on his feet.

Up, Up, And Away-With the help of Tracey Peace and Kent Overton, Derrick Hooper dreams of being Superman, flying through the halls of CHS.

CHS Oasis-The senior tradition of swimming the pond is upheld by Ricky Mitchell, Jerry Nations, Ronny Mason, Paul Harvey, Steve Scott, Gary Bazer, Paul Bishop, Brad Jackson, Joey Abernathy, Patrick Sharpe, Chad Morgan, Heath Cariker, Jason Ballenger, John Foshee, Amy Abernathy, Chris Stacy, Bill Huff, Lorie Langlotz, Jerri Long, Jesse Wallace, Andy Shutt, John Paul Davis, Lonnie Simonson, Dana Ritter, Shelia Fields, Michelle Sneed, Susie Davis, Donna Wilson, T J Pelton, Doc Brady, Eric Allen, Jill McKellar, and Sonya Whitaker.

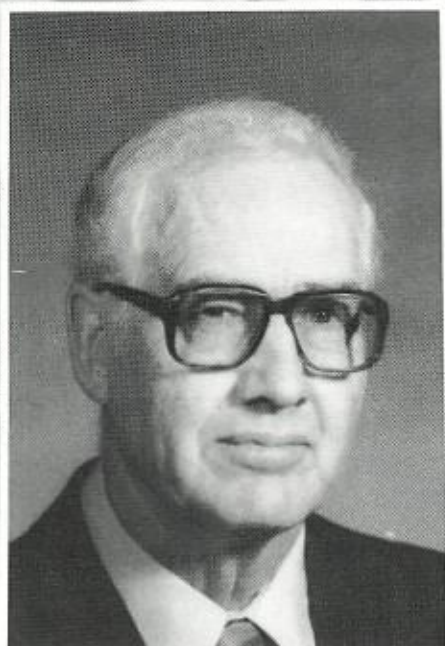

'To everything there is a season and a time to every purpose under the heaven; a time to be born, and a time to die... a time to weep, and a time to laugh; a time to mourn, and a time to dance... a time to get, and a time to lose; a time to keep, and a time to cast away... a time to keep silence, and a time to speak; a time to love, and a time to hate; a time of war, and a time of peace.'

Ecclesiastes 3:1-8

This year was a time to experience life. We students, each in our own unique way, dealt with a wide variety of emotions and events. That was what life at CHS was all about-the triumphs and defeats, the joys and the sorrows, the good and the bad. We survived them all, and we were better for having done so. Each individual student, in his or her own way, was a vital part of what made this year a shining success.
